In a recent Science Echo attention was called to the use of Chelidonium sap in the treatment of cancer successfully practiced by a St. Petersrburg doctor Mr. Leeson Prince writes to the current number of Nature giving quotations from ancient writers showing that this plant was highly valued by them for medicinal purposes. Thus in a Latin work published in 1491 at Mayence, in hell with averybody. They was bor-rn speaking of the plant Chelidonium majus, we read: "And for cancer of the mouth the powder of the root is compounded with the powder of roses and

After all, then, Wordsworth may be forgiven for writmarbles with di'moh's as big as the end ing two odes to the greater and lesser iv ve'er thumb. Celandine, respectively, and the scathing sarcasm bestowed upon him for so doing by Byron was scarcely merited.

GORGEOUS MALE SERVANTS.

Lord Mayor's Gentlemen's Uniforms to Clothe Dusky Monarchs, I was told some amusing facts the other day about the lord mayor's men the Collector, that the present lord mayor has 15, eight of whom are over six feet in height. But the most comical part of the whole affair is that the firm of clothiers is sometimes asked to send out a throne or a crown of gold to the dusky potentates with the garments. And they do it, too; a city merchant will supply anything under the sun.

Ornaments Exchanged for Food. During the Indian famine of 1879-1880 the mint at Bombay received $12,000,000 worth of gold and silver ornaments, sold by the natives for food.

BASHFUL BOB BURDETTE. One Time When the Humorist Was Loss for a Reply.

I heard a good and altogether new story of Bob Burdette and the late Thomas A. Hendricks, says a writer in the Kansas City Times. Several years ago, while the lamented Indianian was touring the west, urdette was the funny man of the Burlington Hawkeye. In that capacity he wrote a good many verses concerning Mr. Hendrieks. One day Burdette was at a railroad hotel at Iowa City when the proprietor called him.

"See here, Bob," said the Boniface "there's a man in the dining-room whom you're just dying to meet. Come

"Who is it?" asked the humorist, hanging back. "O, come on: it's all right," said the hotel man, and with that Burdette was hustled into the eating room. "Mr. Hendricks-Mr. Burdette," said the proprietor, whereupon a handsome. smiling man arose from a table, and, extending his hand to the man from Burlington, said: "And so this is Mr. Burdette, is it?" 4 "Y-yes," returned the now quaking humorist.

"You're the man who wrote 'The Bad Man From Injianny,' are you?" "I did, but that was only in-"

"Let me see," went on the statesman smiling. "It ran like this, didn't And Mr. Hendricks proceeded to recite the whole poem. Then he recalled another and another, reciting, before he was through, half a dozen of the saturical outbursts in rhyme that had been directed against him. "I never felt really bashful before," said the genial humorist, now of Brooklyn, "but that was the time when would have welcomed an earthquake that would have swallowed me up."

Remarkable Longevity. An Irish gentleman was recently attended by an eminent London physician, who, pausing and looking at him with an inquiring glance, said: "I should like to know, sir, if your family have been long lived?"

"Long lived, is it?" responded the pa-tient, thoughtfully. "Well, doctor, I'll just tell you how it is. Our family is a west of Ireland family, and the age of my ancestors depended entirely upon the judge and jury who tried them."-Pearson's Weekly.

Twelve Days. "Do you like eggs?" was the question that stirred up a "'49er" to make some talk in a Bangor store the other day. He was an old man, says the height of his prime as he answered "I had a surfeit of them once. "Twas many years ago when I was on the way home from California. We left the isthmus on a good brig bound for New York but ran into a coral reef in the of sea fowl that nestled on it. The New York Sun old-time townsman of his, whose reputation for "nearness" was evidently that another can be found to beat it. One of the coins current in those days was the old Spanish silver-piece, which passed for twelve and a half cents, and was variously called "ninepence," "York shilling" and "bit." It was the existence of this coin that enabled Mr. Putterby to achieve his crowning triumph in the way of a close trade. A farm-boy came along one day with a load of pumpkins, which he was peddling about the village at a cent apiece. Mr. Putterby looked at them, concluded to buy, but wanted only half a pumpkin. "But a whole one is only a cent," said the boy. "How are you going to

Though the association has but a comparatively brief existance it reports having accomplished a great deal of work in spreading a knowledge of the means of averting the spread of the disease. Eminent medical men, public authorities and societies throughout Great Britain have taken up the movement, branches of the association are actively working in many large cities, and a quarterly journal is being published in the interest of the crusade. Through the medium of the proposed congress it is hoped that the movement may become world wide in its scope and effects.

Poverty. There appear to be whole races of men—the North American Indians and the Cingalese Veddas, for example,that are destitute of the sense of the ludierous. And in the higher races, says the Fortnightly Review, this sense is by no means universally found. The richest intellects possess it in ampleat measure. The absence of it is a sure indication of mental poverty. "Here comes a fool, let's be grave," said Charles Lamb upon one occasion. And I remember a friend of my own observing of a somewhat taciturn person whom we had met: "He must be a man of sense, for, although he said little, he laughed in the right place."
