We hear the bellow of the Bull,
The wounded Lion's roar,
But God deals justice out in full

No danger will we fear,
We'll sit and drink from morn 'till night

E. S. Keithley, who is now farming near Hardman, was in from that section yesterday. He says that everything is all O. K. up there, except backing. From what he told us, we are of the opinion that any fairly good looking dandelion could easily get a one-half interest in that farm.

G. E. Stewart, a brother of Jessie, was a pleasant caller at the Gazette office Monday. Mr. Stewart has been engaged in the law office of Judge Bennett at the Dalles for the past four years and is taking a much needed layoff. The M. E. church was crowded Sunday evening, in fact, several had to leave. It had been announced that Miss Raymond would sing a solo and many would hear her sing, although Bro. Nickelsen always has a full house. Miss Raymond's solo, "The Holy City," showed a voice of unusual power and sweetness.
The services at the M. E. church, South, last Sunday were remarkable for their display of divine power. The pastor expects to make each Sunday distinctively Evangelistic. At 11 a. m. he has a special message for God's children, and next Sunday at 7 p. m. he will expose the meanest man in Heppner. Don't fail to hear that evening sermon. Some startling disclosures.

Jesse Stewart, of Lone Rock, has sold his interest in the mercantile business to his partner, Mr. Matlock, and is now stopping in Heppner a few days. Jesse is undecided as to what he will engage in, but we bespeak him success whatever it may be.

A special coach containing Supt. J. P. O'Brien, W. W. Bollen, roadmaster, J. S. Connors, division roadmaster, and Mr. Judd, of the O. R. & N. Co., came up on the regular train Tuesday night. We understand that the depot at Lone will be an object for their consideration. Lone is entitled to and should have a more commodious depot.
The following item appeared in the Chicago Drovers' Journal of the 12th inst. and reflects credit on our fellow-townsmen A. Smythe. "The 200 head of 120-lb Washington lambs which were sold here yesterday at $6.15 were pronounced by several good judges as the best lot of western bred lambs marketed here in a long time. They were fed at St Paul by A. Smythe & Son. They were Oxforddowns out of Merino ewes."
—Arlington Record.

W. O. Minor, owner of the Blue Mountain stock farm, and one of the most extensive dealers in shorthorns in Eastern Oregon, if not in the state, left on this morning's train for Seio, where he owns a farm which he has not seen for ten years. While absent Mr. Minor will also attend the stock breeders' meeting and the meeting of the board of directors of the Oregon State fair at Salem. He also expects to visit the shorthorn herds in the valley, and, if possible to obtain, he will bring back a number of quail and Chinese pheasants to turn loose in this country.

THE MUSICAL RECITAL.

A Crowded House Greets Miss Ethel Raymond.

Last night the opera house was crowded to overflowing in response to the announcement that Miss Ethel Raymond would make her musical debut in our little city. Reserved seats for this musical event were filled with enthusiastic lovers of music, and at the conclusion of the program all were unanimous in pronouncing it a thoroughly enjoyable treat, never excelled in the history of Heppner's entertainments.
The opening number, a piano duet "Dragon Fighters," by Mrs. Steeves and Miss Matlock, was enthusiastically received. Miss Raymond followed with a song entitled "O, Promise Me," with Mrs. Bartholomew as accompanist. Her presence was the signal for an outburst of applause, to which the charming lady responded with a bright smile of appreciation. The harmony and strength of her exceptional voice in the delightful piece specially carried her listeners away, and she retired all were conscious of having listened to one who will, beyond a doubt, entertain audiences of the musical centers of the world.
Miss Julia Hart was next on the program with the piano solo, "Old Folks at Home," which she rendered, as one only can who is a graduate of Boston's world-renowned conservatory of music. By request Miss Raymond sang "He Was a Prince," which prompted an encore, to which she responded with that sweet plantation melody, "My Old Kentucky Home."
An intermission of a few minutes gave Representative Freeland a chance to make a few remarks, offering an opportunity to secure Miss Raymond's training in voice culture during her three months' sojourn in Heppner.
"Madriene" was then sung by Miss Welch, in her sweet voice. A piano solo, by Miss Steeves, was delightfully rendered, prompting an encore, to which she made response.
Miss Raymond then concluded the entertainment with "Love's Philosophy," and an operatic selection entitled "Geanne d'Arc," which enabled her to disclose the full volume and range of her exceptional voice.
In Miss Raymond Heppner has an instructress to be appreciated, and those who have an ambition for voice culture will not lose this opportunity.
The lady is decidedly sincere in pronouncing Mrs. Herb Bartholomew an accompanist second to very few professionals. The proceeds of this delightful entertainment go to swelling the volumes of books for the public school library. The public will anxiously await a repetition of this musical treat.

Barbierage of Spring.

That spring has come and to stay may be a wild prediction at this time, but we notice that the robins have again arrived in our midst, and they generally wait until winter's cold blasts have passed before they venture here. Fruit trees are budding, and everything now points to an early spring.

AN UGLY CHARGE.
Ed Warren, a young man who resides at Eightmile, appeared before Justice of the Peace Neal Monday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Wm. Pierce, a well-to-do farmer of the same neighborhood, the alleged crime being rape and the victim being named as Mary Pierce, his 14-year-old daughter. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Wilcox and he at once dispatched a deputy to bring Pierce to town. He was brought in Tuesday, but as it was necessary to subpoena a number of witnesses, the case was continued until today.—Condon Globe.

Dame rumor has it that Pierce was discharged and on his return home found a notice to leave the country with in four days or take the consequences. This is wrong. If he is guilty, no punishment is severe enough; if he is innocent, none severe enough for those who brought the charge, but by all means, the citizens of his neighborhood should try every possible lawful method before proceeding to take the law in their own hands. We know nothing as to the truth or falsity of any of the reports.

WILL REMAIN TO FEBRUARY 18.
A Visit to Dr. Darrin.
Last week we again visited Dr. Darrin, the electric physician. During the interim of our visit, the doctor had enlarged his rooms to accommodate the throng that daily besiege his offices. We happened to call at the doctor's lunch hour, and could see the class of patients who were awaiting his arrival. The patients rank among the better classes of our people, and not a few of them are of the highest class, in point of wealth and known respectability. The following are a few of the great cures performed by the doctor during last winter and years gone by, which goes far to show the permanency of his cures.
J. H. Wilson, Mist, Or., piles, 20 years; John Savensen, Farmington, Or., deafness; E. W. Minchin, Dundee, Or., discharging ear; Rev. J. E. Coenour, Portland, Or., skin disease; James Daily, New York hotel, deafness, 15 years; J. E. Taylor, Pendleton, Or., stricture, cured years ago; A. Pool, Eagle Point, Or., heart and liver trouble; Miss Maggie Synhoest, LaGrande, Or., cross eyes; Isaac Thompson, LeCenter, Wash., deafness cured in five minutes; Mrs. A. E. Pates, Albany, Or., ovarian and womb trouble; Mrs. Martha Daily, Gardner, Or., salt rheum for 25 years; J. S. Jennings, Sellwood, Or., eczema of skin disease, 15 years.
Dr. Darrin gives free consultation at the Palace hotel, Heppner, Or., from 9 to 8 p. m., to February 18, daily. All curable, chronic, acute and private diseases confidentially and successfully treated. Circulars and question blanks sent free to any address, and correspondence solicited. Most cases can receive home treatment after one visit to the doctor's office. Batteries and belts furnished with full directions for their use. Cross eyes, rupture, tumors, varicocele, hydrocele cured and guaranteed in every case. Diseases of women an important specialty, such as weakness, displacements, ulcerations, painful, irregular or suppressed menstruation, quickly relieved. The poor treated free, except medicines, from 10 to 11 daily. Those able to pay treated for half former prices for another month.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS BAIL.
Edwin L. Mims Must Furnish it to Go at Liberty Temporarily.
Judge S. A. Lowell has placed the bail to be required of E. L. Mims at $10,000. Giving this, he will go at liberty pending the argument before the supreme court and the final decision as to the granting of a new trial. Counsel for the defense, Messrs. Raley, Carter and E made an effort to secure a certificate of probable cause from the trial court; upon which to base an appeal, but failed, whereupon they addressed themselves to the supreme court, with the result as stated above.
The attorneys of the defendant also requested the supreme court to fix the bail of the defendant, so that he might be released on bail during the time his case is pending, but this the court left to the trial judge, acting under section 1463, of Hill's Annotated Code which provides that "after an indictment is found, and upon an appeal, a defendant cannot be admitted to bail except by the court or judge thereof where the action is pending or in which the judgment is appealed from is given."

LOOKING FOR SHEEP.
Big Dealer Visits Pendleton, but Receives Little Encouragement.
Pendleton Republican.
A notable character in the person of "Patsy" Hailey, of Ogden, Utah, was a visitor in this city during the early part of the week. He was looking, he said, for a few head of sheep. He wanted to buy about 25,000 head. "Patsy," as his friends call him, owns a few small bands of sheep in Idaho, Colorado and Wyoming, amounting in all to about 50,000 head. C. C. Cunningham, of this city, who owns a "few head himself" as he puts it—13,000 or 14,000 head—entertained his friend "Patsy" while here. Mr. Hailey is a typical Irishman, and while he modestly admits being the individual owner of perhaps more sheep than any other dealer in the west, he takes a good deal of pride in reciting incidents in his early youth when a bare-footed boy he poked good and struggled against adversity. But ability to work hard in a physical way, self-reliance and temperance, have enabled him to become his own master under the Stars and Stripes. He is a republican in politics and sympathizes with the British in their war against the Boers and is opposed to the leasing of government land for grazing purposes. He thinks the policy ought to receive the condemnation of every man interested in the welfare of the great west. He thinks a few wealthy individuals and corporations the leasing bill might prove of some benefit, but the prospective home-seeker, he thinks, ought not to be deprived of his vested right—the right to take up 160 acres of land as a homestead. Mr. Hailey thinks a man can accomplish anything he wants if he is willing to work for it.
He did not find Uontilla county a good market to buy sheep in, so far as a reporter for this paper was able to learn, he found no opportunity for the investment of any part of the thousands of dollars he possesses.
Big Price for Sheep.
INDEPENDENCE, Or., Jan. 24.—One farmer of the Kings valley country refused this week $5 per head for his entire flock of sheep. Several in this vicinity have refused $3.50 per head. Probably the highest price paid for sheep in this vicinity this year has been paid by Frank Gilliam, who gave $5.50 per head for 50. Goats are also selling in this part of the country for $5 per head. The farmers have just begun to find out how profitable stockraising is.
Brown's Game East.
Smith had so much to tell Brown about his trip between St Paul and Chicago over the Wisconsin Central Ry., that Brown decided not to wait until spring to return east, but left on first train. Brown will tell Smith all about his trip.
