of Long Creek. Chas. Gentry, wife and child departed for their home on Cottonwood last Friday. Their baby child has fully recovered its health. Bert Garrett, who has been in the employ o the Heppner-Canyon City stage line for some time, is stopping in Long Creek. The winter thus far has been a remarkable one for all stockmen. No feeding of any consequence has been done to date.

Men in touch with the sheep industry in Umatilis county report that woolgrowers very generally refuse to make contracts for the sale of the $900 cilp. The same is true of Morrow county. In Wallowa county many growers have entered into contracts at 15 and 16 cents | Back there, somewhere in the mist of years per pound. Unless severe weather comes later, next spring's clip will be of very fine quality. The sheep have been in the best of condition, and the growth of the wool has been regular, making a good fiber.

Grant County News.

There are more prospectors in the hills nov than was ever before known in the history of Grant county at this season of the year.

Dr. Fell and wife, Dr. Belknap and wife, S. J. Donaldson and Terry Kimsey have gone to Portland. We understand Dr. Belknap and Terry Kimsey will return shortly but the rest will spend the winter in California.

WHY WOMEN HAVE THE BLUES. They Disregard the Rules of Physical Well Being.

"Why do so many women have melancholia?" repeated the doctor, who has a large practice among the "depressed" and "nervous" feminine population. "Because they don't care to avoid it. and the blues afterwards than to eat him toot his bazoo or else keep his jaw a family of six children and the wife. what is good for them but doesn't tickle their palates. Because they'd rather sit about on soft cushions than take a of me as proceedin as authorized by tramp six miles through the open air. | 889 "I." Because they haven't enough to occupy their minds and their hands."

Then the doctor paused to take breath and began again somewhat less aggressively:

"It is never the women who have cause to feel blue," he said, "who indulge in blues. The women who have shiftless husbands, hard-hearted landlords, sick babies and all the usual acwoman with an adoring family, social position and a comfortable income who doesn't find life worth living. It isn't the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of six of the United States—so help the servant girl who gets up of the united States—so he the servant girl who gets up at six to ye god?" kindle the fire and who slaves all day who indulges in melancholia, but the daughter of the family who arises at eight, dawdles over her breakfast, reads a little, practices a little, shops a little, craves excitement with all her heart. and is melancholic because she doesn't

"There is no habit which grows upon one so rapidly," went on the doctor "It becomes a disease in a very short time. My own plan, whenever I feel an attack coming on, is to put on my walking boots and tramp vigorously as far as I can. It is simply impossible to exercise and feel blue at the same time. Of course, a general care of the health is necessary and work is the chief factor in effecting a cure. Every woman who has a tendency to melancholia should have an occupation which, if it doesn't entirely absorb her, will at least keep her busy. And she should give her mind up to practical rather than theoretical affairs. She should study how to put an extra shelf in a cupboard or how to stop a squeaking door, or how to make an overshoe that won't come off at the heel, rather than the teachings of the theosophical school of the philosophy of Herbert Spencer. Ordinarily good health, plenty of exercise, plenty of work, and an interest in the affairs of this world are the great preventives and cures of melancholia."--London Doctor.

Ancient Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was practiced among the Egyptians and Etruscans, and there are evidences in mummies and skulls that in very ancient times teeth were filled and efforts were made to supply the loss of natural by artificial teeth. The first, writer on the treatment of diseased teeth was Galen. The science was introduced into America by John Greenwood, who established himself in New York in 1788. In 1790, and again in 1795, he carved in ivory an entire set of teeth for Gen. Washington.-Chicago Inter Ocean.

Aromatic Baths. Baths in which herbs and spices are bruised and macerated have become more and more popular in Paris, Berlin, Vienna, and other large cities abroad. In Paris, at the newest bathing establishments, almost any kind of bath can be had. The lemon juice bath, pine bath, milk bath, salt, barley, rose may be indulged in, and are said to be

HER LITTLE BOY.

Always a little boy to her." No matter how old he's grown Her eves are blind to the strands of grav: She's deaf to his manly tone, His voice is the same as the day he asked: "What makes the old cat purr?"

Ever and ever he's just the same-A little boy to her. 'Always a little boy, to her," She heeds not the lines of care That furrows his face-to her it is still As it was in his boyhood, fair.

His hopes and his joys are as dear to her As they were in his small-boy days. He never changes; to her he's still "My little boy," she says.

'Always a little boy, to her," And to him she's the mother fair, With the laughing eyes and the cheering smile Of the boyhood days back there, Back there with the childish joy.

And to her he is never the man we see But always "her little boy." 'Always a little boy, to her," The ceaseless march of years lo rapidly by, but it's drumbeats die

Ere ever they reach her ears, The smile that she sees is the smile of youth The wrinkles are dimples of joy, His hair, with its gray, is as sunny as May. He is always "her little boy." -Josh Wink in Baltimore American.
