

TRAVELER'S GUIDE.

Table with columns: Destination, Miles, and Notes. Includes entries for Heppner, Portland, Lewiston, etc.

LET THE EAGLE SCREAM.

All of Heppner's sister cities, towns and villages, and the people of the surrounding country can now feel safe in planning to enjoy a big celebration on the coming Fourth of July.

LOCAL NOTES.

Good 2d-hand saddle for sale at Gazette office.

Go to Matlock & Hart's for your vegetables, fruits, etc., always fresh.

The Heppner Silver Cornet Band had a full practice meeting last night, and operated on the big stack of late music just received.

Morrow county has an excellent climate, and thousands of acres of low-priced lands, and within a year after it is discovered by homeseekers it is safe to say without stuttering that its population will double.

Uncle Charley Kirk, Crockett Kirk and Johnny Kirk were over from Rhea creek Tuesday with their families to attend the funeral of their old neighbor, Mrs. C. A. Rhea.

Heppner's big 3-story Palace Hotel is a credit to the Northwest, and is conducted under the personal supervision of its owner, Senator J. W. Morrow, at prices within the reach of all.

Marshal Thornton has done some good work in harvesting and carting away all the loose rock that had rolled into Mill street.

A. L. Ayers has the foundation laid for his new residence next south of T. W. Ayers' home.

Another big shipment Ladies' shirt waists just arrived at The Fair. Larger assortment than before.

Bishop's is the place to find fresh country hams.

A nice line of Key West cigars at Matlock & Hart's.

Wanted to rent—a furnished house. If you have one, send word to Gazette office.

The Heppner base ball boys will have a practice game next Sunday, and will play the lone boys here on Sunday, May 27.

Those Children's light-weight jackets and those pretty trimmed hats, at THE FAIR are going fast.

Fishing is fair in the Heppner creeks, but the water is not yet clear enough.

New goods have just arrived at Mrs. L. J. Estes', consisting of hats, trimmings, shirt waists, summer dress skirts, hose, gaiters, summer coats, neck wear, bustles, pompadour rolls, beaded belts in white, steel and black, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Geo. B. Hufford was in yesterday from Butter creek, and will take the Matlock & Hufford sheep to the mountains tomorrow.

The hardy pioneers who settled in the Heppner Hills a quarter of a century ago are seldom satisfied to live anywhere else.

John Foster was seriously injured Monday by falling over backwards from a buckboard on account of a sudden starting of the team.

While his big grain crop is growing night and day Dan Stalter is away on a prospecting trip in the great Greenhorn range southeast from Heppner.

John Q. Wilson's sheep-shearing was finished up Monday by the Pearson crew, and the 1773 head, almost all yearlings, yielded a little over 8 pounds each.

The Douglas, Cal., Christian Endeavor Society recently adopted resolutions of condolence on account of the death of Carl Troedson, whose brother lives here.

Harry Warren, the enterprising druggist, has returned from a trip to the noted Teal Springs, where he put everything in shape for the summer campaign.

The day is not distant when every inch of land will be deeded and doubled up in price. If you want to buy a good 324-acre place at $5 an acre, call on J. W. Redington, Gazette office.

BILL IS BACK.

Everybody knows Bill. He is Frank Roberts' thoroughbred Blue Belden setter dog, and one of the best hunters in the world.

Frank has been so accommodating about him that he has loaned him to many men who went hunting, and so he has sort of become everybody's dog, and has fallen into the habit of following anybody who has a gun.

Bill is a noted dog, and has a very keen scent. He is always ready to clum with Marshal Thornton on account of that officer being armed.

BOATLESS TOWN.

Navigation on the Upper Columbia is to be a reality, even though the boats of the Portage Company fail to materialize.

PROGRESS.

Quite rapidly now the pioneers of Morrow county are erecting new houses to replace the temporary structures they have lived in for years, and which have served good purposes in giving a start in a new country.

George Vinson, at the forks of Butter creek, has prospered by honest toil and persevering industry, and now that he has improved his place and made it one of the best in Morrow county, he has concluded to build one of the best houses in the county.

When we came here we were tolerably proficient in the art of compounding pills, and also between us in the sheep industry, but developing a California fruit ranch was considerably out of our line.

I am sure you will not expect in this letter a complete exposition of all the delicate processes of leveling and irrigating the land, planting, cultivating and training the trees and vines, harvesting, curing and marketing the fruit, wine, etc., etc., necessary to the profitable manipulation of a California fruit ranch.

But seriously, California, like Oregon, is a great state, and the San Joaquin valley is not as many suppose a desert in the heart of it.

The present season has been exceptionally favorable, so far, in this part, and the prospect for crops both fruit and grain is excellent.

With kindest regards to all old friends and neighbors in Eastern Oregon, and wishing them all success and prosperity,

I am, yours truly, C. M. MALLORY.

HEPPNER SHIPMENTS.

That Heppner is a very important shipping point may be seen from the following figures, which show shipments made by rail from here during the past year:

TWO PIONEERS DEAD.

Last Friday occurred the death of Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, of Hamilton, and Mrs. C. B. Cochran, of Monument, two of the oldest and most respected pioneer women of Grant county, their death being the result of an advanced age and an attack of a gripe.

They had each been residents of Oregon since the early settlement of the state, and have witnessed its growth from a mere handful of people, to its present state of development.

They were each laid to rest in the cemetery near their respective homes, being followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of friends and relatives, who, in the future, will sadly miss the many kind acts and deeds of Grandma Hamilton and Grandma Cochran.

Water Note.

Only Lawns Can be Irrigated with City Water.

In order to prevent possible waste of water, and to extend fair treatment to all, the Heppner Light and Water Company is compelled to forbid the use of its water this season for the purpose of irrigating gardens.

The use of water for sprinkling lawns will be allowed only between the hours of 6 and 8 p. m. At no other time will lawn sprinkling be allowed.

A whistle will be blown at 6 p. m. to begin, and another at 8 p. m. to close. Those found violating these regulations will have their water shut off and a charge of 50 cents made to turn it on again. No exceptions to this rule.

CASH. MALLORY.

Pioneer of the Heppner Hills Writes an interesting Letter.

REEDLEY, Cal., May 11. ED. GAZETTE: The Heppner Gazette again comes to the horticultural sanctum-sanctum of yours truly, away down here in the tropical climes of Central California, and for a time takes me back again to former days where among the Heppner Hills the stillness was only broken by the euphonious notes of the festive coyote and where (except for the said coyote) the jackrabbit and prairie chicken reigned supreme.

My memory is very clear as to the time when the only house in Heppner was George Stansbury's cabin. When we had to go to Umattila Landing for our mail, and the only church service on Sunday was a horse race with the Indians.

In looking back over these times and later I see with my "mind's eye" some jolly experiences as well as some painful ones.

It is pleasing to note the wonderful development of Morrow county and Heppner in particular.

In the fall of '91, realizing that a change of location, or at least some change, would be necessary for my personal welfare (referring to health, of course, not the law) I decided to seek health and fortune in sunny southern climes, and accordingly packed bag and baggage and moved with my family to Tulare county, California, and commenced to develop a 40-acre fruit ranch.

Another one of the Heppner boys, T. M. Lane (upon whose suggestion I came here) is my nearest neighbor, and we have been pegging along side by side for nearly 10 years.

When we came here we were tolerably proficient in the art of compounding pills, and also between us in the sheep industry, but developing a California fruit ranch was considerably out of our line.

I am sure you will not expect in this letter a complete exposition of all the delicate processes of leveling and irrigating the land, planting, cultivating and training the trees and vines, harvesting, curing and marketing the fruit, wine, etc., etc., necessary to the profitable manipulation of a California fruit ranch.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

County Clerk Vawter Crawford has issued marriage licenses to the following parties:

J. H. Weatherford and Iva Mitchell, both of Ione.

S. P. Devens, of Heppner, and Sylvia F. Shaner, of Hardman.

Otis E. Shaner and Etta Adams, of Hardman.

If you are hunting a home in town or country, call on J. W. Redington, at the Heppner Gazette office. He can fit you out. One of his best bargains is a 1000-acre stock-ranch 2 miles from Heppner at $6 an acre.

Another good place is 10 miles north of Heppner, 1120 acres, $6000.

But the very best bargain is the Redington Ranch, 5 miles south of Heppner, on county road, and has running water. 324 acres, only $5 an acre now. Almost all of it is good, rich, cultivable land, and it is ready for the plow. No tree-chopping, no grubbing of stumps. The small part of the place that is not good plow land is always covered with a good natural growth of bunchgrass.

Having sold his sheep, stored his wool and leased his ranch to Wm. Walbridge, John Q. Wilson will tomorrow return to his Salem home.

WHEAT, WOOL AND STOCK.

Portland, May 16.—The wheat market still has a lively cast, and while Chicago managed to wobble through the day yesterday with the loss of only 1/4c, there were no signs of animation.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her temper will become pimple, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion.

Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rosy complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Conser & Warren Drug Co.
