

Republican Ticket.

For President, WM. McKINLEY, Of Ohio. For Vice-President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Of New York.

PEOPLE WANTED.

Morrow county has plenty of room for more than double her present population. She needs many more thrifty, industrious people who will settle up government lands and make them productive property.

Taxes are low here, Morrow county is almost out of debt and well managed, and it would be hard to find another part of the world where land may be bought at as low prices as here.

Productive people who are seeking new locations in which to farm or raise stock, should give Morrow county a thorough investigation.

At its northern end Morrow county has thousands of acres of warm, semi-arid land that only needs irrigation to make it produce bountifully.

At its southern end Morrow county has 276,480 acres of mountain land, three-fourths of which is government land still open to settlement.

The altitude of this region runs all the way from 2000 to 5000 feet above sea level. It has rocky ridges and forest jungles, and on much of it the snow lays three feet deep in winter.

It has pure water, quite a sprinkling of swales and little prairies, and much valuable timber land which may be acquired without residence under the timber and stone act at $2.50 an acre.

There is room for many mountain homes in Morrow county, and new settlers should look them up.

BRYAN FOR FREE WOOL.

Six years ago Mr. Bryan, then a Representative in Congress from Nebraska, was a strenuous advocate of free-trade in wool, and by his vote and influence assisted in the passage of the Wilson-Gorman tariff with its free wool clause.

If anything were now needed to condemn the everlasting obloquy the destructive regime installed by the electoral vote of 1892, sheep census figures furnish the materials for such condemnation.

Facts in abundance may be cited in support of this conclusion, facts which show how ruthlessly the sheep and wool industry was slaughtered by The Crime of 1894, and how splendidly the work of regeneration and restoration has gone forward under the beneficent operations of the Dingley tariff, The Blessing of 1897.

Every state of the Union where sheep are bred and owned shows almost the same tremendous rate of gain alike in values 12 1/2 per cent., and in the number of sheep now owned as contrasted with the free-wool period which Mr. Bryan helped to bring about by his vote in 1894, and which, according to his own statement, he would endeavor to restore if elected to the presidency.

INVESTORS.

People who have capital to develop unquestioned natural resources can find a fine field in Morrow county.

At the head of Willow creek, 20 miles south from Heppner, numerous veins of coal may be plainly seen by the naked eye. In many places large chunks have been broken off by the elements and lie around loose.

This may mean that there is an endless supply and deep deposits of coal in the heavily-timbered Willow creek basin, and it may mean that there are only streaks and pockets there.

It takes capital to decide such questions.

Certain it is that surface coal is there, and capitalists who are willing to investigate the chances of doubling up their capital or losing some of it, should look into this coal proposition.

From the head of Willow creek, where this coal is found, it is all down grade and water level to Heppner, the terminus of the O. R. & N. branch. If there is coal up there in paying quantities, coal trains will practically push themselves in bringing it down to Heppner, and have no trouble at all hauling empty cars up there, as there are no divides to cross.

Even were the coal proposition to prove but a dream, a small steam motor railroad to the head of Willow creek would prove a paying proposition in the matter of hauling down wood for fuel, which is now hauled by wagon or brought in by rail from distant points in the Cascade mountains.

Morrow county has an endless supply of first-class fuel in the Blue mountains at her southern end, and capitalists should ascertain if it would not be a paying investment to make available to her people this fuel supply of Morrow county.

BUSINESS POLITIX.

The attitude of Democratic business men toward the candidacy of Mr. Bryan presents a queer phase of politics. They do not want Bryan and the Chicago platform with its business-disturbing, panic-producing characteristics.

They were not heard from in the nominating convention, and they will not be heard from during the noisy campaign that is to follow. They are not saying a word now, and they are not going to say a word hostile to Bryan and the party.

What the Democratic business man has to say about the supreme folly of changing present business conditions he will say in the form of a ballot next November. Unless all signs fail, what the business Democrat says on that occasion will be something that Mr. Bryan won't like.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

The marriage of Harvey S. Parrell and Miss Mary Gentry took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gentry, on Sunday evening, Aug. 12, Rev. A. L. Thoroughman officiating. The bride was attired in a lovely white silk dress. The young people will go to Idaho to make their future home.

DIED IN LEXINGTON.

Mrs. Louella E. Beymer, wife of Charles Beymer and daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. S. Boothby, after a short illness of four days. All that medical skill and kind loving hands could do was done, but on Aug. 6th the death angel called her home.

She leaves a devoted husband, two small children, father and mother, three brothers and one sister, and a host of kind friends to mourn her departure. She was born in 1873; became a christian in 1894, and was married to Mr. Charles Beymer in 1896.

She possessed all the elements of a noble womanhood—a cultured mind, a strong faith in God, a kind and sympathetic heart. She was a fond and affectionate wife, a loving and dutiful daughter, a devoted and thoughtful sister, a tender and painstaking mother and a true and generous friend. Her popularity was coextensive with her acquaintanceship. Only good was spoken of her, for her life was above reproach.

Her character challenged the admiration of all, and the tributes that fell from the lips of those who knew her from childhood were beautiful and tender.

Her funeral sermon was preached by Rev. A. L. Thoroughman to a large audience of sympathetic loved ones and friends. Her death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

May the Holy Spirit solace every bleeding heart.

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

THROWN FROM A HORSE.

Jas. Thompson, of Hardman, met with a serious accident last Saturday evening. He was out in the harvest field working with a header and word was brought to him that his family was sick and needed his attention. He at once mounted a cayuse and headed it toward home, when the animal started in to bucking, and after making several jumps, caught its head under a header-bed and threw Mr. Thompson to the ground with sufficient force to break three ribs. He was brought to town for medical aid, and is now being cared for at the home of W. W. Smead.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish through the kindly offices of this paper to express my thanks to the many kind friends in Lexington and Heppner for their kindly offices and sympathy in the time of my deep affliction and bereavement. In the death of my beloved wife, Mrs. Louella E. Beymer. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Boothby, wish to join me in expressions of thanks and gratitude. CHARLES BEYMER.

THE TORRID EAST.

It sometimes gets slightly warm in the Heppner Hills, but this region is a cold-storage yard compared with the east, and happy are they who live in Eastern Oregon's good climate.

In New York yesterday 33 people died from the torturing heat. The children were great sufferers, and there were many sunstrokes.

WORK FOR ALL.

There is plenty to do for the laboring man in Eastern Oregon now, and will be for a long time to come.

The harvest fields are crying for hands and ranches need more men, and railroad development demands workers. The Northern Pacific is said to have absorbed the portage road and to be about to build down the north side of the Columbia. The O. R. & N. can use many men in improving its lines. The Dalles Southern is going to build to Winnemucca, the Oregon Midland is coming up through the Klamath country, and vast irrigation schemes are projected.

Everything indicates that the laboring man and the man with a team of work horses who comes to Eastern Oregon in search of work will have no trouble in finding it.

Forty Years Among Cannibals.

The French adventurer who was a captive among cannibals in Central Africa for forty years, has decided to write a book, which will no doubt prove interesting. We can sympathize with his release from his terrible captivity, which must have been as joyous as that of a man who finds himself suddenly released from the captivity of a refractory stomach, by that peerless remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has done more to promote health than any other in existence. This is the medicine to take, if you are a sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness or insomnia. Don't fail to give it a trial. Ask for Hostetter's, and do not accept a substitute. The genuine has Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of bottle.

MAYFLOWER MINE.

Dan Stalter has had his 43 acres of wheat headed and stacked, and says it will go 25 bushels to the acre. Having finished farming, he will now go to mining for awhile. He was in town yesterday and bought a new wagon from Park Garrigues and a lot of mining supplies from Ed Bishop and Gilliam & Bisbee. He starts today to develop his Mayflower mine in the Greenhorn Range, 3 days southeast from Heppner, accompanied by Lee Watkins and Ed McNamara.

The Mayflower is surely a rich ledge to start on. Three assays of its rock have been made. One shows $178, another $320, another $600, free-milling gold ore.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.

Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and, ultimately, baldness. After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbro's Herpicide. It kills all other hair preparations. It kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."
