

SHEEP.

The snow that fell Monday night to a depth of 4 or 5 inches and brought cold weather with it, caused Heppner sheepmen to commence feeding out their hay, of which they have an abundance. Many sheepmen express themselves as being glad to see the snow, as the grass grows under it and shows up fresh and smiling as soon as the snow goes off. The range thus gets a rest, and the sheep get a change of feed.

Range stock is all in good condition, and can stand a large amount of winter, if necessary. Joe Hayes is over on the John Day again, and has bought from Beck Bros. 1200 wether lambs at $2, and 300 yearling wethers at $2.50. Also bought from Mr. Robinson, at Monument, 1000 wether lambs at $2.10. Joe will gradually drive toward Heppner, and from here will ship the yearlings to the Union Meat Co., Troutdale.

Uncle Nat Webb says that there are men here in Heppner who have more range and hay than they have sheep for, and they are willing to pay $3.75 for young ewes, but that as all bands are settled for the winter, few care to sell. Saturday Claude Herren took down to W. W. Herren's ranch on lower Smith, 400 ewes which will be fattened for the mutton market, on stubble, standing grain and hay. Chas. Thompson has taken Harry Jones' 2500 ewes on shares, and will run them in Jones canyon.

Editor's Awful Plight.

F. M. Higgins, editor Seneca, (Ill.) News, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy helped until he tried Buckler's Arnica Salve. He writes two boxes wholly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by Conser & Warren Drug Co.

HOTEL HEPPNER.

This well kept house is centrally located on the west side of Main street, Heppner, and has good rooms and a beautiful table, at reasonable rates. The Heppner and Canyon City stage starts from the Hotel Heppner daily, except Monday, and goes through in 24 hours. The Telephone Livery, Feed and Sale Stable, on west side of Main street, keeps first class rigs and saddle horses, and takes the best of care of them.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure "it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Conser & Warren Drug Co.; every bottle guaranteed.

RED FRONT STABLE.

When you come to Heppner, put up your team at the Red Front Livery Stable on Main st., opposite the brewery. They will receive the best of care. Buggies, teams and saddle horses for hire at reasonable rates. Hay and grain bought and sold. BRUNS BROS.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold at Conser & Warren Drug Co.

FAILURE OF FLAX.

Geo. W. Turner was in Heppner Saturday, and gives it as his experience that the cultivation of flax in this section is a failure. The experiment has cost him a few thousand dollars, and he has now abandoned the business and seeded 1000 acres of his land to wheat. Hereafter he will be plain George Turner, and no more Flaxseed Turner. When he saw wild flax flourishing around his neighborhood near Lexington he thought there was a fortune in sight. He put in 600 acres, and it came up all right, but soon so much died out that Mr. Turner could not get his seed back. Why, he does not know, but that was the plain result.

PEOPLE COMING.

There is every reason to think that Eastern Oregon will this winter largely increase its permanent population by the incoming of people from the middle west. John W. Ambrose returned Friday from a trip to Illinois and Missouri, and the train he returned on also brought nine families who had sold their stock-ranches and farms and will buy others here and start over again in a better climate. Mr. Ambrose had to answer many questions about Oregon while he was in the middle west. Numerous people there contemplate coming to Eastern Oregon, and naturally want to know all about it. Two men in Illinois rode 25 miles to ask Mr. Ambrose about Oregon, and his brother-in-law, Willis Phillips, has arranged to leave Missouri and come here to settle inside of a few weeks.

HERREN WON.

The celebrated case of Claude Herren and Mat Huggen over the ownership of a horse had its third trial here Monday before a jury, which decided that the horse belonged to the first-named gentleman. The animal is worth about $100, and the trials have cost three times that. The children are having great fun coasting, but Fred Bartholomew was thrown from an over-loaded sled yesterday and knocked senseless. He has a bad bruise on the temple.

WINTER CAME EARLY.

People who said that a hard winter was coming because there were no yellow-jackets in the Blue mountains last summer can now say "I told you so!" Another of their signs was that the squirrels were eternally rustling from early morn till dewy eve, filling their holes with all the peanuts they could swipe off the pine trees and darning-needles from the tops of the tall, tapering tamarax.

Anyway, winter has gotten into a profuse perspiration in an effort to arrive early. How long it will last, no one can tell, for a Chinook warm wind such as the Heppner Hills are noted for is liable to blow at any moment, and then good-bye to the frost-king and the beautiful snow. The first snow to reach Heppner this season dropped down Saturday night. A sort of baby Chinook melted it Sunday afternoon.

Sunday evening it turned cold and Monday night three inches of snow fell in Heppner, and became general all over Morrow county. During the past few nights the thermometer has been dropping down to a little below zero, and raising to 15 or 20 above during the days, which are bright and sunny. Winter weather like this is unusually early for the Heppner Hills, and is not very healthful for water-pipes and house-plants. This Thursday morning the thermometer went to 30 above, and by noon the snow was melting and the cold snap was over.

COOL CAMPING.

Four families of Columbia Indians, comprising men, women, children and infants, are camping on the rolling hillsides near Heppner. It is Wild Bill's outfit returning from the fall hunt in Stein's mountains, 300 miles away, and their packs are still filled with dried elk and venison. Bill is a son of Blind Jim, who was here before Columbus came, and is hereditary boss of the Columbia Indians. He will jog on today. The outfit has 100 head of horses along, and might have made a straight shoot down Rock creek, but prefers to come across this way and do some trading with Heppner merchants. No wild flowers beautify their lodges, and only snow and rox bedeck their lawns.

The air is chill and piercing, and there isn't a sleepy-bellow easy chair or a piano among them, but what do they care for a few inconveniences when they have the blessed privilege of being free Americans, not tied down on a reservation at the beck and call of an agent. The stars shine down through the open top of the main lodge, and the papoose at its mother's breast can look up and count them and wish for daylight and sunshine and warmth. Koscmaska's idea of freedom was nothing as compared to theirs. He was willing to die, while they are willing to shiver around and freeze in wet, soggy moccasins for any length of time until a Chinook comes. They would never buy cordwood, of course, for the Great Father made the trees grow for all the people, so they bite off a few labels from oyster cans, pile on them a few splinters from their lodge-poles, and make a few fires in their wick-ups, and huddle over them, and the fire keeps them warm, and lugun keeps fire warm, and the Chinook will come by-and-by, and then no fire will be needed. The white man would pile on all the lodge poles in camp and make a fire so hot he couldn't get near it. Sometimes in winter weather perhaps the Columbia Indian murmurs to himself: "O liberty, what misery is endured in thy name!"

For the purpose of maintaining the existing ratio of two Mexican silver dollars to one gold, arbitrarily fixed by Gen. MacArthur last August to be maintained until such time as the Philippine Commission should consider the date had arrived for establishing a gold medium in the Philippines, Henry C. Ide, of the commission, introduced a bill, which had passed the commission, providing for a charge of 10 per cent on all Mexican silver coin exported from the Philippines.

Forebearance has ceased to be a military virtue in the Philippines. Lord Kitchener's plan of operations in South Africa, harsh though it appears to be, appeals to officials of the War Department, and during the coming campaign in the Philippines no mercy is to be extended to those in active rebellion, or who give aid and comfort to the insurgents. The administration has become weary of the long-drawn-out war. It has been conciliatory in dealing with the insurgents, and the efforts to accomplish peace by this means have met with contempt. It is now proposed to give them a taste of real war, and, though the innocent may suffer, it is only by this means, it is believed, that the guilty can be reached. When Secretary Root returns to Washington final instructions will be sent to Major-General MacArthur relative to the operations to be conducted. There is reason to believe that Gen. MacArthur contemplates devoting his principal attention at first to the northern part of Luzon. Aguinaldo is believed to be in the mountains of Benguet.

Now for trees. I am now prepared to take orders for fruit, shade and ornamental trees, grape vines and small fruits, roses and shrubbery, which have been grown without irrigation by The Dalles Nurseries. I will canvass Morrow and Grant counties for both spring and fall delivery, and in all cases guarantee satisfaction. My address is Hardman, and I will see that all stock is promptly delivered. HARRY CUMMINGS.

REWARDS FOR WORKERS.

Anyone can make money getting up Clubs of Subscribers for the Heppner Gazette. Until further notice the Gazette will pay $3.75 in cash to anyone sending in a club of 5 new cash 1-year subscribers. Will pay $7.50 for 10 new cash 1-year subscribers. Will pay $11.25 for 15 new cash 1-year subscribers. Will pay $15 for 20 new cash 1-year subscribers. Anyone sending in a club of 25 new cash 1-year subscribers will be given a fine gold watch.

THE TERRIBLE TURK.

The battleship Kentucky, now in Mediterranean waters, has been ordered to touch at Smyrna, Turkey, on her way to the Philippines. The Kentucky is now at Naples. She is going to Manila via the Suez Canal route. The Kentucky's presence in Turkish waters will be coincident with renewed efforts on the part of the Administration to collect from the Turkish government payment of indemnity demanded by the U. S. government for the destruction of missionary property in that country some years ago. These claims have been pending for a long time. Payment of the indemnity was urged, in turn, by Ministers Angell and Strauss, and Mr. Griason, but thus far apparently without any definite assurance that the claims would be paid. The claims approximate in amount $100,000.

HEPPNER HORSES FOR ARMY.

The Heppner Hills horse is a good saddle animal, with good lungs and firm feet. Capt. Wainwright is buying horses here today to ship to Luzon, and up to noon had inspected and accepted 17 head. He needs 50 to 54, and the business is being done in front of Billy Gordon's stable. As soon as a horse is accepted he is rushed across to Sam Meadows' blacksmith shop, and if he has shoes on, W. T. Hatton pulls them off. Then he is blindfolded and H. A. Robe, of the Q. M. dept. brands a number on the left hoof and puts a deep stand-up hair brand of U. S. on left shoulder. Al and Frank Roberts have gathered together most of these horses.

High Price for Cattle.

Pittsburg, Nov. 19.—At the auction sale of prize-winning cattle at East Liberty this afternoon 15 head of Polled Angus cattle, which took the sweepstakes prize of $300, was sold to the Pittsburg Provision Company at $9.25 per hundred weight, which is the highest price paid for cattle in this country since the early '80s.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost white, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and so my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Conser & Warren Drug Co.

$20 REWARD.

On the night of Oct 31 some one willfully cut the leather dashboard on my bookboard. It is desired that the person guilty of such low-lived meanness be arrested and properly punished. W. D. LORD.

STOLE THE GOOSE.

Willard H. Horren is up this week from his lower Smith ranch, and brought several wild geese for his Heppner friends. He and Myron Slatt were out hunting the wild geese down there last Saturday and shot 11 head. They staked out a tame goose in some stubble, and had hardly gotten away from it before it began to squawk for dear life. A coyote had watched the staking process and sneaked up on the geese, and had seized it by the throat instead of the wing, would have succeeded in dragging it away. As it was, the squawking attracted the attention of the hunters, and they poured hot shot into the coyote. He dropped the goose and skipped, but he was so tough that the fowls only knocked out a few of his feathers.
