Nerves that Die

For lack of nourishment are just as dead as though they were severed with a knife. In either case the base of supplies has been interfered with. Nerves that need nourishing make their wants known through headache, backache, loss of appetite, indigestion, fluttering of the heart, irritability, sleeplessness, and general weakness. Feed the hungry nerves, build them up and make them strong and vigorous, full of vim, vitality and power, with the great nerve food and tonic, Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"I doctored all summer with one of the best physicians in the country for nervous prostration, but he did not help me at all. I was sleepless, nervous, had no appetite and the food I ate was not properly digested. I was short of breath, had palpitation of the heart and involuntary twitchings of muscles. After taking two bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine I was able to be up and about, and five bottles cured me."
