There are in the United States 700,000 acres of land devoted to tobacco, of which 11,000 acres are in New England. The annual yield of all kinds in the country is about 5?0,000,000 pounds, of which New England raises about 19,000,000. The average yield per acre throughout the country is 1?00 pounds. It is interesting that all the tobacco raised in this country belongs to two or three botanical species, yet there are more than ?0 varieties grown commercially—all of them quite distinct in shape, color and quality of leaf.

A young man of Glencoe, O. T. is offering 3000 tickets on himself as husband which he is selling at $5 each, and it is said they are going like hot cakes. This is how he explains his scheme: "By selling 3000 chances for $5 each, it will bring to me $15,000, which is a sufficient sum of money to attract any young woman desirous of marrying. I may not get the prettiest girl in the country, but I will get one, I am sure, who is anxious to marry me. I sell numbers for $5 and agree when paid for the number to marry the holder of said number provided she draws the lucky number at the raffle. I will have the raffling conducted on fair and square means, by parties entirely disinterested in it. Numbers from 1 to 3000 will be placed in a box, and a blindfolded party will draw out one number. The girl holding the similar number shall become my wife. I will marry her as soon as she is ready. The money will be invested so as to support us handsomely. I shall take the bride on an extended wedding trip.

Farnsworth-Young Nuptials.

One of the most interesting and happy weddings that ever occurred in Heppner took place at All Saints Episcopal church, Chase and Gale Streets, in this city, Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock in the marriage of Miss Lucy Helen Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Farnsworth of this city, to Edward Everett Young.

The decorations in sweet peas and carnations were beautiful and artistic, being so tastefully arranged as to present a most lovely appearance.

The altar decorations were beautiful. The carnations and smilax forming a delicate and pleasing contrast, while the potted plants of different shades beaming with brightness from the soft morning light, added much to the beauty of the surroundings.

The auditorium was filled with friends of the contracting parties, there being about 100 invited guests, who had assembled before the appointed hour to witness the ceremonies.

As the bridal party entered the church the organ responded to the delicate touch of Miss Elizabeth Matlock and as the strains of the wedding march arose from the organ, the bride on the arm of her father passed up the aisle to the altar where the party was met by the groom and the impressive marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Potwine.

The ushers were Messrs Wallace Lipsett and E. M. Stutt.

The handsome bride wore an elegant traveling gown in grey with oriental trimmings.

After the wedding ceremony the bridal party passed to the outside of the church where congratulations were received. Immediately after congratulations the bridal party stepped into a carriage, which was in waiting, and drove to the depot. Mr. and Mrs. Young left on the morning train for Baker City, and from there they will go Portland and the seaside to spend their honeymoon.

An excellent wedding breakfast was served at the Palace hotel.

There were many costly and beautiful presents.

Mr. Young is editor of the Baker City Republican and is an able and prominent man of the State of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will be at home to their friends after August 10th at Baker City.

The Street Sprinkling Question.

A meeting well attended by business men and representative citizens was held at the city hall, Monday evening for the purpose of devising ways to procure water for street sprinkling.

Mayor Gilliam stated the object of the meeting and a general discussion followed without organization.

Geo. Conser favored boring a big well and erecting a tank to be connected by pipe to the mill race.

Thos. Ayers also favored digging a well not less than eight feet in diameter, which he thought would furnish water at not great expense.

Mayor Gilliam stated that the question of street sprinkling was an old one and had been up before, and as the water supply was inadequate, every year giving out when it was most needed was in favor of doing something of a permanent nature.

Oscar Minor thought that enough water could be secured by piping from Cowins' spring.

Lee Cantwell favored the Cowins' spring proposition.

T. R. Howard moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the water proposition and report next evening. Following persons were named by Mayor Gilliam to constitute the committee: T. R. Howard, Oscar Minor, Jas. Roberts, Geo. Conser. By move of Mr. Simons, Mayor Gilliam was also placed on the committee.

Adjourned.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings there were meetings and the question was again discussed, but as yet no definite conclusion has been reached. There seems to be some opposition as to getting the water from the Cowins' spring.

Wheat was booming in the Eastern markets Monday, and Europe caught enough bad crop news in the Sunday night cables from this side of the Atlantic to send Liverpool up about 2 cents per cental at the close. Weighted down by crop prospects which have promised all the way from 700,000,000 to 800,000,000 bushels in this country, the market has been bumping along on the bottom, only waiting for the flood tide of unfavorable crop reports to lift it up where it is now sailing. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and long before the ill wind that is now affecting the wheat market commenced blowing on this side of the water it had [illegible] [illegible]

Circus Day in Heppner.

Friday was circus day in Heppner and was a big day for amusement as well as one of profit for the circus people. In carriages, wagons, on horseback and every other way to get here, people came many miles to see the big show.

As soon as the circus arrived there was a good sized audience of big, little, old and young to see the elephant and other interesting features that are connected with a circus.

Clouds of dust rolled up around the big tent and settled thick and fast upon the jam of perspiring humanity, but this was unnoticed for it was circus day and all were having a good time.

Ladies skirts trailed in the dust and the men rolled up their pants, high water fashion and all tramped round and round in sight seeing.

The gentle zephyrs that kept a continual flapping of the canvas added a few notches to the pitch in the tone of the professional "spielers" and helped to make the scene more animated. One short gust of wind doubled up a rod that held up the likeness of the fat man and the corpulent fellow went forty ways for Sunday.

Almost every known device to get money out of a crowd was in evidence. From the shell game to the peanut venders, all prospered. "Short Change" artists were the most numerous. Many "mistakes" were made in making change, but it seemed that the mistakes were all one sided.

Many people who tried to do business with the sure thing men went away lighter in pocket but some wiser.

While no large sums were lost many people were fleeced, but everything went in that free and easy Western way and was taken good naturedly especially by the circus men.

Everybody was well pleased with the show. They gave a good performance. They carry a fine lot of horses and good people.

It is estimated that 1500 people were in attendance.
