The liability to disease is greatly lessened when the blood is in good condition, and the circulation healthy and vigorous. For then all refuse matter is promptly carried out of the system; otherwise it would rapidly accumulate—fermentation would take place, the blood become polluted and the constitution so weakened that a simple malady might result seriously.

A healthy, active circulation means good digestion and strong, healthy nerves.

As a blood purifier and tonic S. S. S. has no equal. It is the safest and best remedy for old people and children because it contains no minerals, but is made exclusively of roots and herbs.

No other remedy so thoroughly and effectually cleanses the blood of impurities. At the same time it builds up the weak and debilitated, and renovates the entire system. It cures permanently all manner of blood and skin troubles.

Mr. E. E. Kelly, of Urbana, O., writes: "I had Eczema on my hands and face for five years. It would break out in little white pustules, crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. The doctors did me no good. I used all the medicated soaps and salves without benefit. S. S. S. cured me, and my skin is as clear and smooth as any one's."

Mrs. Henry Siegfried, of Cape May, N. J., says that twenty-one bottles of S. S. S. cured her of Cancer of the breast. Doctors and friends thought her case hopeless.

Richard T. Gardner, Florence, S. C., suffered for years with Boils. Two bottles of S. S. S. put his blood in good condition and the Boils disappeared.

HEARTBURN

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by Conser & Ayers, druggists.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR STOMACH AND BOWEL TROUBLES.

"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most all of the proprietary medicines of any note. Among the entire list I have never found anything to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says O. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form." For sale by Conser & Ayers Drug Co.

The town of Lostine is practically deserted, everybody except the newspaper men having gone out to work in the hay fields.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—MRS. CURTIS BAKER, Bookwalter, Ohio. WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Portland, July 22, 1901.

The week has been rainless, except along the coast and in the lower portion of the Willamette valley, where a few small showers have been reported. There has been an abundance of sunshine. The maximum temperatures during the week in western Oregon ranged between 69 degrees and 88 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 48 and 64 degrees. In eastern Oregon the maximum temperatures ranged between 78 and 94 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 50 and 66 degrees. The nights have been uniformly cool and the days ideal for the ripening of grain and fruit.

Haying is now nearly finished in all sections of the State and the crop has been secured in excellent condition. The yields have been above the average in the Willamette valley, about the average in southern Oregon and the Coast districts and slightly below the average in eastern Oregon. The second crop of alfalfa is making excellent progress and will be ready to cut by August 1. Pastures are drying up rather earlier than usual and in some few places stock is falling off in flesh.

Fall grain is filling well and ripening rapidly and harvest work in the grain fields is now general. In the Willamette valley the crop of both fall and spring wheat will be heavy and of a good quality. The oat crop is even more promising than wheat. In southern Oregon the outlook is not favorable for a large crop, but the expectations are that the grade will be higher than usual. In eastern Oregon wheat is maturing rapidly, but the crop is uneven, some correspondents reporting the prospects favorable for average yields, while others claim that the late frosts and winds have shriveled the berries and that the yields will be considerably below the average.

The hop foliage is not as thick as usual, and some yards look rather yellow, but the burrs are developing nicely and give promise of a full crop. Lice are reported in small numbers in nearly all yards, and many growers are spraying or else getting ready to spray. Corn is tasseling low and now growing rayidly, but owing to the lateness of the season the prospects of a full crop are rather discouraging. Potatoes, as a rule, are not doing as well as usual, owing to the dry weather, and corn, gardens and spring wheat would all be benefited by rain.

Fruit is maturing nicely, and blackberries, raspberries, early plums and peaches are in the market.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

Boston, July 24.—The Boston wool trade is outside of speculative hands at present, and, while the principal demand comes from manufacturers who are in need of raw material to fill standing contracts, the market is firmer. The goods trade has improved, and the result is that sales of wool have been increasing. Manufacturers in most cases are forced to pay more money for supplies than was the case a week ago. The West shows strength all along the line, and the new clip in many sections is quite well cleared up.

Mill men who have not been in the market for some time for supplies are surprised at the cost of wool, compared with their last purchases. Several months ago the manufacturer could nearly name the price and he would get the wool, as the seller did not dare to let him get away. Now he will pay the price asked or will not get supplied, and if he attempts to buy out West the wools cost more than is asked at the seaport. Quotations:
