Bud Brently, aged 14, was caught under a slide in his father's prospect hole, on Big Creek, near Kellogg, Idaho, Thursday, and suffocated. The boy was trying to release his father, who was imprisoned by a previous slide, and was covered to his neck. The father was held all night in this perilous position and was almost crazed when the rescuers found him.

CAR WHEELS MADE OF MONEY

Every year our government destroys nearly half a billion dollars' worth of soiled or torn bank notes, and after they have been reduced to pulp are used for making railroad car wheels. From a bank note to car wheel is about as radical a transformation as the one brought about in the case of all weak, nervous and sickly people who will use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the favorite American remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. A wineglassful before meals will put the stomach in good condition to digest the food and prevent the bowels from becoming constipated. Every one should keep it in the house to prevent belching, flatulency, insomnia and nervousness, also to cure indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver and kidney troubles.

Prominent men of Oregon City are showing a disposition to take a hand in the Portland City & Oregon Railway strike, with the avowed object of bringing about a peaceable settlement, if such can be effected. It is possible that a meeting of the business men and others interested will be called and a committee appointed to take charge of the matter and see what arbitration can do.

DON'T FAIL TO TRY THIS

Whenever an honest trial is given to Electric Bitters for any trouble it is recommenced for a permanent cure will surely be effected. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. It's a wonderful tonic for run down systems. Electric Bitters positively cures kidney and liver troubles, stomach disorders, nervousness, Sleeplessness, Rheumatism, neuralgia, and expels Malaria. Satisfaction guaranteed by Slocum Drug Co. Only 50 cents.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Slocum Drug Co.

Pneumonia is practically unknown within the Arctic circle, observes Dr. E. W. Kelsey, who has returned to England from a 16 months' stay in Alaska.

SAVES A WOMAN'S LIFE

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Slocum Drug Co. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

VICTIMIZE WRITERS.

Publishers Who Profit by the Ambition of Literary Aspirants.

Encourage Them to Bring Out Their Works, But Insist Upon the Advancement of Expense Money.

"Everybody is writing nowadays," sighed a magazine editor, disgustedly, as he ran through a pile of manuscripts heaped up on his desk, according to the New York Herald. "Here is a sonnet from a cabman, a story from a policeman and an essay from a soapmaker at Penobscot, Me." It is true. All the world is pushing the pen or banging the typewriter, and one never knows at what moment his best friend may not draw a deadly historical novel on him or demand that he peruse a driveling narrative of "rustic life."

In this era of well-nigh universal authorship there has arisen a band of unscrupulous knaves who, with the skill of a confidence man, endeavor to turn the popular desire for literary fame to their advantage.

"It is the greatest 'graft' that ever happened, my boy," said one of the most cold-blooded of these rogues, as he boasted of his achievements. "We have our hands on the most potent valve of the human mind—the conceit of literary authorship—and when we press the button the money is sure to follow. We keep a sharp lookout as soon as we learn of an aspiring author who is engaged upon a 'magnum opus,' or has had one turned down by a big publisher, we camp on his trail, and we never let up till we land him.

"Of course we adopt a stand-offish' policy as soon as he begins to nibble, tell him that we can never consider his book until it has run the gauntlet of our readers and critics, but that is only for the purpose of increasing his own belief in its great qualities. Lord bless you, if it is the veriest rot ever penned we will handle it. An adverse criticism upon a book is an unknown quantity in our shop.

"Then we inform him that the expense of publication will be about $300, which we expect him to stand. He demurs, whereupon we ask him how many copies he thinks he can dispose of himself. Incautiously and ignorantly he estimates the number at 1,000. In reality, if he has good luck and lots of friends he can sell about 50. We show him, however, that by his own statement he will be able to publish at his own risk to much better advantage than if we offered him terms, and so he is at last firmly hooked.

"That $300 is merely a first contribution, though. He speedily finds that his manuscript must be thoroughly revised, corrected and punctuated at a cost of $100; illustrations must be secured, the proof must be read and a hundred other little things done, each of which has its separate fee. I may say that I never let an author get away from me for less than $800.

"Finally, when he is milked dry, we turn over 1,000 printed and bound books to him and give our attention to a fresh victim."

"Do they ever come back with a second book?"

"Never. That is the sole drawback to the business. One never has the chance to make steady connections, for our clientele is always changing."

The Nicaraguan Canal.

The construction of the trans-isthmian waterway through the productive country of Nicaragua means to that country an opening up of its latent resources, immigration, and improved transportation facilities. The construction of the canal will draw thousands of foreigners to the country, both capitalists and labor, and it requires no stretch of the imagination to see this increasing population spreading over the adjacent country both to the north and to the south, and settling on the lands which can be had for the asking. Where there are now only dense forests, silvery lakes, rushing mountain streams and silent prairies with tall waving grass, there will spring up towns and villages, plantations and farms and a new geographical and commercial center of the western hemisphere.—Outlook.

The editorial page of the Weekly Oregonian gives a broad treatment to a wide range of subjects.

The crowning joy of womanhood is motherhood and the crowning joy of motherhood is to have healthy children. But there can be no joy in motherhood without health, and without health for the mother there can be no health for the child.

It is of vital importance for women to know that the health of mother and child is in general entirely within woman's control. The thousands of women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when expecting motherhood, have testified that it made them healthy and happy in the days of waiting, made the baby's advent practically painless, and gave them health to give their children.

Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm (Enosburg Center), Enosburg, Vt., writes: "During the past year I found myself expecting maternity and in rapidly failing health. I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. Took twelve bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
