Hands are scarce all over the state, and probably will be hard to get during the balance of the season.

The season for hunters to mistake one another for deer, bear, and other wild animals has arrived.

The directors of the Lewis and Clark Fair have not yet decided on a site for the exposition to be held in 1905.

After a hunt that has cost the State of Washington the lives of three men and $10,000 in cash, Tracy the outlaw has disappeared and it seems for good this time.

About 2300 voters in the State of Oregon at the last election failed to mark their tickets so as to express a choice for governor.

The complete unofficial abstract of the vote for governor as compiled from the records now in the hands of the different county clerks of the state give Chamberlain a plurality of 276 instead of 256 as heretofore published.

The output of coal in Oregon last year was 11,000 tons greater than in 1900. For last year in local production, Oregon ranked 27th.

General prosperity all over the country is evident and trade reviews show that the encouraging conditions will be continued.

Every year our government destroys nearly half a billion dollars worth of gold or torn bank notes, and after they have been reduced to pulp are used for making railroad car wheels.

A number of farmers in the vicinity of Mayville, will take advantage of the conditions surrounding them, and instead of growing wheat exclusively they will raise hogs.

One of the finest stock and fruit farms in Eastern Oregon. Controls large tract of good land. Enquire at this office.

Weather conditions in the neighborhood of the Six-shooter pens were bad this season and added materially to the expenses of shearing. This coupled with the difference in freight rates makes Heppner a better market than Shaniko by a large fraction of a cent.

Mrs. Wagoner, the discoverer of Outlaw David Merrill's body, has been offered $300 by Superintendent Lee for the return of the desperado's remains.

Small Prairie Fire.

The people of Heppner witnessed a small prairie fire Monday afternoon which by hard work was checked before much damage was done.

Hair Falls

"I used Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop my hair from falling. One-half a bottle cured me." J. C. Baxter, Bradwood, Ill. Ayer's Hair Vigor is certainly the most economical preparation of its kind on the market.

Lexington News. Lexington, July 23, 1902. Jos. Brashear visited his family on Sunday.

Mrs. Beymer did not go to Eight Mile, as stated last week, but to Ernest Piper's ranch.

Miss Delia Leach came down from Heppner Saturday to visit with her parents for a few days.

Bert Wheeler has a new bicycle. He seems very proud of it.

Ruth Leach has been on the sick list several days. Rev. W. O. Miller preached his closing sermon for this conference year at this place Sunday evening.

Frank Smith received a threshing last week. He gave it a trial last Friday and Saturday.

E. M. Slutt, sheriff, passed through town Tuesday. The new well back of the blacksmith shop is proving a great convenience to the ranchmen.

The bulletin board said Monday, "Harvest hands about 4. Merrill is still dead. No news from Irsey."

Our blacksmiths have been putting in a good stock of material for repairing wagons.

We understand that Mrs. Winder will take charge of the hotel about August 1. R. E. Wilmut of Ione, was in town Tuesday.

W. B. McAlister sold Barley McDevitt 200 acres of pasture land last week. Mrs. L. Hales and daughter of Waukegan, Wash. mother and sister of Mrs. R. A. Nichols, are visiting here this week.

AN ACT OF PROVIDENCE.

The Remarkable Problem That Has Come Before Congress for Settlement.

A claim has been put in congress and referred to a Senate committee which has already received many of the same very interesting questions as to the true nature of the "Act of Providence" reported in the Washington Star.

"It is an article of faith," he said, "with all good Christians that the ways of Providence are inscrutable and past finding out."

"This last proposition being accepted as a fact by all Christians, I have the honor to submit that if the storm of Providence is not a part of the great storm of Providence, it is a part of the great storm of Providence."

Was Weak in Mathematics. The Atlanta Constitution, the other day revealed the following news: "An Englishman in the Cambridge University had been found to be a weak mathematician."
