Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Slocum Drug Co.

It has been decided that land within the five mile limit on the Fort Hall reservation, can not be homesteaded. This law will probably be amended at the next session of congress to admit of this.

MAGNETISM OF MISERY.

The Proneness of People to Return to Scenes That Revive Painful Memories.

Every storm, earthquake or disaster of any kind brings out a curious phase of human nature, says the Philadelphia Ledger. Many of those who have seen their houses destroyed or their nearest relatives killed return as soon as possible to the scene of devastation. In some instances this is explained by the fact that there are more opportunities of earning a livelihood among old neighbors than among new surroundings. In numerous cases, however, no such business reason operates as an inducement. The magnet is sentiment, not money. As some mourners devote every holiday to visiting graves, so a large fraction of the homeless and bereaved go back to spend the remainder of their days in the scenes that recall calamity and agony.

It was so after the great London fire, it was so after the Lisbon earthquake, it was so after the yellow fever swept Philadelphia; and in more recent years the Chicago fire, the Mississippi floods, Charleston Johnstown and other catastrophes confirm the old experience. Apparently the desire to gain new pleasures is not more keen than the wish to revive the memory of old pain. Our late storm has destroyed much property and a number of lives; but we will see people choosing homes in sight of the telegraph pole from which the fatal live wire dangled, or the flooded stream in which the only son was drowned.

MOSQUITOES AND COLORS.

The Insects Are Attracted by Some and Repelled by Other Hues.

The anopheles mosquito, says the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette, is attracted by some colors and repelled by others. Experiments have been conducted in a gauze tent, one end of which was formed by large windows. Into these the sunlight poured on bright days. Large stone basins were placed on the floor for the mosquitoes to breed in.

It was immediatly noticed that when a person entered the tent clad in dark gray clothes, the mosquitoes settled on the cloth. When the person entered was dressed in white flannel, they did not approach him.

A number of boxes lined with cloth of various colors were placed on the floor, and it was noticed that great numbers of mosquitoes entered the box lined with dark blue. Fewer of the insects sought the boxes lined with other colors, the number diminishing in this order: dark red, brown, scarlet, black, slate-gray, olive-green, violet, leaf-green, blue, pearl-gray, pale green, light blue, ochre, white and orange. No mosquitoes whatever were found in the box lined with yellow.

The number of insects congregating in houses might, therefore, easily be lessened by the choice of suitable colors applied to the walls. A trap lined with something dark would attract so many insects that they could be slain in large numbers. Mosquito-bars or screens should be of yellow; for blue or black attracts them and coaxes them into finding admission.

A HYPHENATED MESSAGE.

Amusing Experience of an American Who Went to Reside in Mexico.

"When you take up a residence in the City of Mexico," said an American, who had lived there for several years, "you are waited upon by the police, who ask you how many beggars may call at your house every morning and receive a dole.

"Your answer is recorded, and only the number of beggars mentioned dare show up.

"I had my brother with me at the house, and our answers to the police differed somewhat. Two weeks after their call a messenger came on an errand and inquired for Jones.

"'Which Jones?' I asked.

"'Senor,' he replied. 'I know that there are two of you—the Jones-you-can-send-along-about-eight-of-'em and the Jones-I-won't-feed-a-cussed-one-of-'em, and the Jones I want is not the first.'

"'Then, as I'm the one who said eight beggars might come around, you don't want me.'

"'It cannot be. It is the I-won't-feed-a-cussed-one-of-'em-Jones I want.'

"'But he is not in just now. Can you leave your message with me?'

"'Si, senor. Tell you him when he arrives that if he don't-want-to-feed-a-cussed-one-of-'em he-can-go-to-blazes-and-be-hanged-to-him.'"

Effete Slang.

The worst use of slang is not when it is fresh and piquant, but when it becomes stale and passes into the regular vocabulary of the people, to the exclusion of good English, says the Toronto (Ont.) Globe. Such expressions as "I can see his finish," when they are first uttered, are often used with considerable humorous effect. But the language is impoverished and vulgarized by the habitual use of "turn down" for reject, "call down" for a mild rebuke, "roast" for a severe one, etc. After these expressions have been used for a certain time they ought to be taken out of circulation, along with the ragged banknotes.

"I sleep well enough at night,
And the blamedest appetite
Ever mortal man possessed."

Riley's farmer is the very picture of a man advanced in years, yet in the enjoyment of perfect health. A good appetite, good digestion and sound sleep, are the chief factors in a vigorous old age. Life is sustained by food, when it is properly digested and assimilated. When digestion fails, there is a loss of nutrition which soon shows itself in physical weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It strengthens the body in the only way possible,—by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition extracted from food.

"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to 125 pounds, and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly 160 and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicines."
