Morgan, Ark., May 25, 1901.
I cannot recommend Thedford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

IN DAMP WEATHER.

Curious Effect That Has Been Noticed on the Goddess of Liberty on Capitol Dome.

"Have you ever noticed the goddess of liberty on the dome of the capitol building on a damp day?" an employe of the District government asked a group of friends. None of the party remembered whether they had noticed the figure or not, says the Washington Star. "Well," he said, "every time I look at the figure on a damp day it reminds me of a miller I rescued from a possible watery grave on the outskirts of a Pennsylvania village about 30 years ago. I was driving a team near a mill dam at the time, when my attention was attracted to the miller, who was a man of more than middle age. He was raking out the accumulation of brush from the rack, when he suddenly lost his balance and fell overboard.

"Well, to make matters short, I fished him out, and we sat chatting for over an hour, and when I prepared to make my departure his clothes had dried and I noticed that the meal made a white streak around and on both shoulders, and if you cast your eyes up at the figure on the capitol dome on a damp day you will notice the same effect on the shoulders of the goddess, and it makes me think of the old miller every time I notice her. I have often wondered why congress has not provided an appropriation to be used for the purpose of gilding the figure."

THE HORSE IN SCOUTING.

Must Possess Certain Qualities to Fit It for the Laborious Service.

The horse, like the man, in scouting, must be exceptional. The first essential is "bottom." A scout's horse must have endurance, as his work is continuous and laborious, so it is the duty of the man to husband the strength of the animal as much as possible, as his safety may depend upon it. He should be of a neutral color to avoid detection. Dyeing him khaki would be an improvement. The gray horses of the Austrian batteries were dyed during the recent maneuvers, and the color lasted a month. The experiment was considered a success, says the United Service.

The horse should be trained to stand quietly and to lie down and stay down. The Boers have a way of tying a horse's head to his foreleg in such a manner that he can graze in comfort, but cannot stand with head erect without raising his foreleg, and finds running away very inconvenient. He should be perfectly trained, and his rider should be able to place every confidence in him. A horse that continually needs watching or urging is a source of distraction to his rider, and so renders him unfit for scouting work. Neighing and fearful horses are worse than useless. Every opportunity should be taken advantage of to allow the horse to graze a few mouthfuls of grass eaten at every little halt saves a horse tremendously.

TUNNEL IN THE SIERRAS.

Survey Lately Completed for Railway Bore in the Mountains Over Five Miles Long.

The surveyors and engineers of the Southern Pacific railroad lately completed the survey for the new tunnel through the Sierras. The tunnel is to be five miles and 800 feet in length. Not counting our subway, it will be the longest tunnel yet excavated in this country, surpassing the Hoosac tunnel in Massachusetts, which is four and three-quarter miles long. The advantages of the tunnel will be chiefly that it will shorten the route through the mountains, will eliminate about 1,000 feet of grade and will reduce the length of the snow sheds 28 miles; in other words the aggregate length of the snow sheds required to protect the track in winter will be reduced from 40 to 12 miles.

Conspicuous as the tunnel will be among the mountains it will be inferior in length to all the great Alpine tunnels, says the New York Sun. The Simplon tunnel now building will be 12½ miles long, the longest tunnel in the world. The Arlberg tunnel, which joins the Austrian with the Swiss railroads, is six and a half miles long. Mont Cenis, which connects Italy with France, is seven and a quarter, and St. Gothard, which unites the Italian with the Swiss and German railroads is nine and a quarter miles long.

As our work on the subway has demonstrated to all New Yorkers, tunnelling has been reduced to a science, for the experience gained in the earlier works has resulted in better methods and greater improved machinery so that much time and money are now saved. It took 15 years and ground for Mont Cenis tunnel, nine years and three months the St. Gothard, six years and a half for the Arlberg and the Simplon tunnel it is expected will be finished in a much shorter time, in proportion to its length, than any of the others.

Cat Case in Supreme Court.

The famous controversy growing out of the ownership of a Sioux Falls cat has now reached the state supreme court, and bids fair to attract more attention than the celebrated Iowa calf case. Some months ago the Finstad and Lewis families, who were neighbors quarreled over the cat, which belonged to Miss Ida Finstad. It appears that the animal fell into the habit of going to the home of Mrs. Lewis. One day Miss Finstad went to the home of Mrs. Lewis to get the cat. Mrs. Lewis objected, but finally refused to surrender the animal, but claimed Miss Finstad. The arrest of Mrs. Lewis followed upon the charge of assault and battery. The jury acquitted Mrs. Lewis of the charge preferred against her by Miss Finstad. Then the latter had criminal action instituted for the alleged stealing of the cat. Miss Finstad's trial resulted in her conviction. State's Attorney Scott prosecuted the case against Miss Finstad. He has just prepared a writ of error from the state supreme court, and at the October term the cat case will be solemnly reviewed by the members of that court.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Time seems most untimely when he brings a woman to the turn of life. Life is or should be at its ripest and best for her, and she approaches this change with a dread of its effect born of her knowledge of the sufferings of other women at this season.

There is not the slightest cause for fear or anxiety at this period if Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is used. It gives health of body and cheerfulness of mind, and by its aid the pains and pangs of this critical period are prevented or cured.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is woman's medicine with a wonderful record of cures of womanly diseases. Diseases that all other medicines had failed to cure, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"I feel it my duty to write you as I have received so much benefit from the use of your medicine," says Mrs. Laura A. Bowman, of New Matamoras, Washington Co., Ohio. "I have taken four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and change of life. Before I began taking it I could not do anything. I had such pains in my head and in the back of my neck that I thought I would lose my mind. Now I can work every day. I recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all females suffering in the period of change of life. It is the best medicine I have found."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Keep the bowels healthy by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.
