THE STRIKE IS VOTED OFF
 Great Rejoicing Everywhere in the Coal Fields.

THE DECISION UNANIMOUS
 Everyone New Looks for Better Times--Miners Will Resume Work Today.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 21.—With a shout that fairly shook the convention building, the representative of the 147,000 miners who have been on strike since last May officially declared off at noon today the greatest contest ever made between capital and labor, and placed all the questions involved in the struggle in the hands of the arbitration commission appointed by the president of the United States. When the news was flashed to the towns and villages down in the valleys and on the mountains of the coal regions, the inhabitants heaved a sigh of relief. Many days have gone by since such welcome news was received. Everywhere there was rejoicing, and in many places the end of the strike was the signal for impromptu town celebrations. The anthracite coal region from its largest city, Scranton, down to the lowliest coal patch has suffered by the conflict, and every one now looks for better times. While the large army of miners and their families, numbering approximately 600,000 persons, are grateful that work is to be resumed Thursday, the strikers have still to learn what their reward will be. President Roosevelt, having taken prompt action in calling the arbitrators together for their first meeting on Friday, the miners hope they will know by Thanksgiving day what practical gains they have made.

Oregon Irrigation Association.
 Portland, Oct. 18.—The Oregon Irrigation Association organized here Thursday, has three distinct purposes:
 First—To investigate the rights of private irrigation companies in the state; to look into the status of the contracts which they have acquired under the Carey act, and ascertain how large areas are covered by those contracts.
 Second—To find out where lie the obstacles that the government has encountered in its endeavor to establish irrigation works in Oregon.
 Third—To encourage the government to undertake irrigation in Oregon, and to obtain for this state its share of the funds which congress has set apart for such work.
 These three purposes the association will carry forward with due regard to the vested rights of private companies. Another prominent object is to stir up the people of the state to the immediate necessity of showing that Oregon is interested in the new irrigation system, and to lend the government encouragement to enter upon projects in this state.
 A. H. Devers was elected president of the body, and J. M. Moore, Secretary.
 To the end of enlisting public sentiment, a state convention will be held at Portland, November 18. About 450 delegates will be entitled to attend. They will be apportioned as follows:
 To be named:
 By the governor, 20 delegates; by mayors of cities, two delegates, and one additional for every 2500 people or major fraction of that number; by each board of county commissioners, two delegates; by each commercial organization, two delegates and one for each 50 members; by each irrigation company, two delegates; by the state university, state agricultural college, experiment station and each state normal school, each two delegates.

 Practically all of the state officials are named ex-officio officers.
 The association was organized at the instance of J. N. Williamson and the chamber of commerce of Portland. The organizers, besides Mr. Williamson, were: J. C. Moreland, A. H. Devers, O. M. McIsaac, J. M. Moore, Henry E. Reed and C. C. Hutchinson.

Prineville Fair Ends.
 Prineville, Or., Oct. 18.—The last day of the Crook County Fair was the best of the four, and every one has been well entertained and seems satisfied with the arrangements. The weather has been all that could be desired. The awards were paid today, and after looking it over, the visitors are all well pleased. The weights of a few of the exhibits are as follows: Twelve apples, 13 pounds and five ounces; 12 Hungarian prunes, three pounds two ounces; 12 tomatoes, 12 pounds 1 ounce; 6 Gravenstein apples, 3 pounds 2 ounces; one dish of English walnuts, 2 pounds 8 ounces; one dish of soft shell almonds, one pound, 12 ounces.
 The meeting for the purpose of organizing a permanent association was well attended, and between $4000 and $5000 was pledged for the enterprise.
 The baby show was a drawing card for the women, while the men were running horses. The baby show brought out nine entries, and was one of the features of the fair.
 The pavillion contained many fine exhibits, and a particularly valuable collection of Indian arrow points, and some fine paintings and embroidery. The miners' exhibit included gold, silver, coal, asphalt, cinnabar and lead, from nine different districts, all in Crook county. The exhibits have been a good object lesson to the residents of the county, and all have promised to do better next year.

JIM YOUNGER DEAD
 Famous Outlaw Commits Suicide in St. Paul.
 St. Paul, Oct. 19.—James Younger, formerly a member of the notorious James band of outlaws, which infested the Western country a quarter of a century ago, committed suicide today by shooting. He left a letter to the press, in which he gives as a reason for his act despondency over continued ill-health and separation from his friends. The suicide is supposed to have occurred about 8 o'clock this morning. Younger occupied a room in a downtown block, and when he did not make his appearance as usual today search was made for him. About 5 o'clock this afternoon the door of his room was broken in and his dead body found, stretched on the floor beside the bed, a revolver clutched in his right hand. He had shot himself through the head and evidently had been dead for several hours.
 Younger, since his parole from the State penitentiary in July of last year, had led an exemplary life. His first employment was as a traveling agent for a tombstone dealer, and on one of the trips he was quite seriously hurt by a fall from a wagon. Old wounds he had received earlier in life also gave him much trouble and, although he soon obtained lighter employment, his health was extremely precarious and this caused him much worry. He was 54 years of age.

HEPPNER WHEAT MARKET.
 Thursday, Oct. 23.
 Club—55½ cents per bushel.
 Blue stem—58½ cents per bushel.
 The above prices are 1½ cents above last week's quotations. The market is steady with an upward tendency.
 At Ione for a choice lot where there was close competition as high as 60 cents per bushel was paid.
 Latest advices from Portland state that all the grain markets are strong. Wheat cables came through higher from Liverpool and Paris, and the East also closed at an advance. Shippers quoted club wheat in Portland for export purposes at 65@66c, and bluestem at 63½@69c. From 1½@3c above this price is known to have been paid, as competition is unusually keen. Nothing new is reported in wheat charters.
