Rev. H. S. Shangel, Presiding Elder of the M. E. church, South, will preach this evening at 7:30, also Friday and Sunday evenings. The public are cordially invited. F. C. Adkins, pastor.

A meeting of sheep owners and others interested in the sheep industry will be held at Antelope on Saturday, December 6, next, for the purpose of forming a local branch of the Oregon State Wool Growers Association. This practically revives the stockmen's Union, which has enjoyed the distinction of being known as the foremost local stock association in the state. The creation of a branch association will give it a considerably wider scope, with corresponding greater influence as a branch association, and insures a careful guarding of stock interests, in the future as in the past. Other matters of importance will also come before the meeting, and a full attendance is desired.—Antelope Herald.

A Cold Wave.

The forecast of sudden changes in the weather serves notice that a hoarse voice and a heavy cough may invade the sanctity of health in our own home. Cautious people have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure always at hand. E. H. Wise, Madison, Ga., writes: "I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my present good health, and probably my life." It cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and all Throat and Lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes the mucous membranes and strengthens the lungs. Slocum Drug Co., Heppner, and Ione Drug Co., Ione.

Two boys, the sons of Charles Newton of Baker City, had a thrilling experience with a mountain lion, Saturday. They were out hunting rabbits when they came up with the lion. They were on horseback and armed with a shot gun. The oldest boy, a lad of 16 years, fired at the animal striking it with a full charge of shot in the head. The lion became enraged and attacked the boys on the horse. It caught the oldest boy by the leg and dragged him from the horse. A desperate encounter ensued between the boy and lion. The boy clubbed his gun and beat the lion over the head until he killed it. The gun stock was demolished, but victory was with the plucky boy.

A New Remedy.

The old friends of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be pleased to know that the manufacturers of that preparation have gotten out a new remedy called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and that it is meeting with much success in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, sick headache, impaired digestion and like disorders. These Tablets are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills, then they not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and correct any disorders of the stomach and liver. For sale by Slocum Drug Co.

MINISTER ACTS QUEERLY.

Rev. C. D. Nickelsen is Unable to Explain.

Rev. C. D. Nickelsen, formerly pastor of the M. E. church in Heppner, now of Colfax, Washington, is in trouble. The Spokesman-Review makes the following startling statement:

Rev. C. D. Nickelsen, 32 years of age, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Colfax, who alarmed his friends and church members by causing the rumor to spread that he had come to Spokane to jump from the Monroe street bridge, was unearthed in Spokane yesterday, and, after discussing his love affairs and domestic troubles with local church dignitaries, decided not to end his life but to return to Colfax instead. He started for Colfax on the 3:45 o'clock train yesterday afternoon.

It developed yesterday that Rev. Mr. Nickelsen had not only planned to end his own life, but had telegraphed an invitation to a young married woman in North Yakima to join him here. "We will go together," was the way he phrased his ardent telegram, or, to be more exact, one of his telegrams, for Rev. Mr. Nickelsen kept the wires hot. The result of his correspondence was that he came to Spokane on Monday expecting to meet the North Yakima woman at the Pacific hotel. She, however, did not appear at the tryst. Rev. Mr. Nickelsen, much perturbed, commenced wiring again. He was in a dreadfully distraught condition.

Finally, however, his invitations to North Yakima brought an answer in the person of Attorney L. O. Meigs of that place, representing the woman. It transpired that she was alarmed by the warmth of Mr. Nickelsen's missives, feared he would commit suicide, and had Mr. Meigs send a telegram signed with her name, making arrangements to see her here. Mr. Meigs' first aim on reaching Spokane was to locate the ardent preacher. That was no easy task. He was not keeping the tryst at the Pacific hotel. At last, however, Mr. Meigs got in touch with the preacher, who had been the guest of Captain McClelland at the Poor of Hope Mission. What happened at the conference can not be told. At any rate Nickelsen returned to his home in Colfax, after consulting with members of the committee from his parish who came up here to investigate his case.

In conversation with a reporter for the Spokesman-Review, Rev. Nickelsen said "I have had trouble in my family, and told my wife what my plans were when I left to come to this city, but I presume all married men have family jars occasionally."

"What statement do you care to make, Mr. Nickelsen, regarding your infatuation for a former member of one of your churches?" was the next question asked. "That question I refuse to answer; yes, either to confirm or to deny it."

"It is my wish that all this trouble cease. Later I shall give a statement to the correspondent for the Spokesman-Review in Colfax. My plans are to return to my church and finish my year's pastorate, which closes with the end of the conference year in September. I am a young man, and propose to valiantly face the trouble that now confronts me, and to work for the church as I never worked before. In my mind there is no doubt that I shall succeed, because the people of Colfax are with me, as is shown by the wonderful growth of the church during this, my first year as pastor."

Salt Combination Formed.

It is reported on good authority that the Federal Salt Company, of San Francisco, which was recently enjoined by the United States court from carrying on its trust operations, has succeeded in forming a combination or association of the different salt producers of California for the purpose of controlling the Coast market. If the deal is successfully engineered it will put an end to the present demoralization of prices, and those who have been looking for a drop may expect a movement of the other kind.

I have had occasion to use your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all owners of stock.

J. B. BELSHER, St. Louis, Mo.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cured by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unblock the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it is possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stirs up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.
