

Good Chance for Oregon Men.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Representative Tongue had a conference today with Hydrographer Newell, of the Geological Survey, in regard to arranging for the investigation of Oregon irrigation projects during the coming summer. Mr. Newell said that his bureau is at present very much in need of competent young engineers to serve under the irrigation department, particularly in examining prospective projects and submitting reports and plans when required to do so.

It is desired that this work shall be done by western men, and for the work in Oregon it is hoped that Oregon men can be had. About the time of the final examination in the Oregon colleges next spring, Mr. Tongue will arrange for special examinations for those engineering graduates who may desire to enter the Government service. He is assured by Newell that, once they enter the service of the Geological Survey, they will be eligible to any position in the survey, promotions to be made as vacancies occur and according to the ability of the respective engineers.

It will be necessary to make many appointments in the near future, in order to carry out the work contemplated under the general irrigation law.

Saved At Grave's Brink.

"I know I would long ago have been in my grave," writes Mrs. S. H. Newsom of Decatur, Ala., "if it had not been for Electric Bitters. For three years I suffered untold agony from the worst forms of indigestion, waterbrash, stomach and bowel dyspepsia. But this excellent medicine did me a world of good. Since using it I can eat heartily and have gained 35 pounds." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach, liver and kidney troubles Electric Bitters are a positive, guaranteed cure. That old copybook maxim finds its most forceful application in the waste of vitality, which is called "burning the candle at both ends." A woman is often tempted beyond her strength by domestic or social demands. Some day she awakens from this waste of strength to the woe of want of it. She has become weak, nervous and miserable.

For weak, nervous, run-down women, there is no better tonic and nerve than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores the appetite, quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It cures local diseases peculiarly womanly which undermine the general health. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

THE TIDE OF FASHIONS.

Various Bits of Up-to-Date Finery That Now Find Favor with Dress Devotees.

Report says that, except for the few, trains are banished from court gown. So there is a busy time among the dressmakers in London who are filling new orders and reconstructing the old ones. Two kinds of skirts are favored for these gowns—one which fits the hips closely and widens into a mass of flounces at the feet, and the other extremely shirred in groups of gaugings at the top, the fullness from this falling in round effect, says the New York Sun.

Jeweled nets instead of hats are the latest thing for the little bridesmaids' heads, and the effect on fluffy, wavy hair is charming. They are very much the same style of nets worn by the Italian women years ago, and as an hair ornament for the grown ups they are very smart.

Maidenhair fern shining with dew drops, arranged in tiara form is another novelty for the hair, or you may have small ivy leaves with some small flower.

The emerald matrix is one of the many popular stones for brooches and belt pins.

Silk gloves with woven lace tops are to be worn with thin gowns this summer, as well as mitts, and they are both long enough to meet the elbow sleeves. Black, white and gray are the fashionable colors.

In gloves for summer wear there are some of white glace kid which will wash. These cost more than other wash gloves, but they are satisfactory and that is sufficient reason for their popularity.

A green straw hat with green feathers is the smart thing with your all-black gown.

Bands of embroidered pongee are among the dress trimmings.

Fine white serge makes the most fashionable yachting suit, with stitched bands of the same material covering each seam, a stitched hip yoke, and a short jacket with pale blue glace silk revers.

Artificial Eyelids.

The latest surgical triumph is the grafting of a new set of upper and lower eyelids to the eyes of a man who lost his original set in a fire, says London Science Siftings. The accident had left both eyeballs entirely unprotected, and there was danger of the victim losing his sight entirely. It was resolved to replace them by grafting four new eyelids if possible, by taking the skin from the hip of the patient. It was necessary to proceed slowly, but the experiment was successful from the start. The four new eyelids perform their normal functions naturally.
