

Mrs. Fred Unrath,
President Country Club, Benton
Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol does for the stomach that which is unable to do for itself, even when it is slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol suggests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Slocum Drug Co., Ione Drug Co., Ione.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, Portland, Astoria Bay, Jamaica, West of the Islands. The pains in the chest, caused by an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly ward off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by Slocum Drug Co.

TO WED THE UGLIEST MEN.

Society of Lovely American Girls Which Has Been Formed for That Purpose.

Extremes meet in the fickle feminine fancy. The attractiveness of the Adonis for women is not to be compared with that of the man who is so fearfully and wonderfully ugly as to serve as a living confirmation of the truth of the Darwinian theory regarding the descent of man, says the New York Herald.

A bevy of lovely American girls have formed a society, the object of which is to search the land for the ugliest men to be found outside a museum and, when found, to marry them as soon as possible.

Ever since the time when Mirabeau, the ugliest of all Frenchmen, had his host of female admirers really hideous men have been worshipped by women.

This extraordinary fondness of women for extremely ugly men is seen when some especially villainous looking criminal, accused of a particularly atrocious crime, is exhibited in the dock and immediately becomes the idol of all the women who attend the trial. The more hideous his appearance and the fouler his misdeeds the more enthusiastic is the worship of the women.

"He is so delightfully ugly," said a pretty girl, when asked what particular fascination a brutal criminal possessed for her.

It is a fact that in all ages and countries this strange feminine tendency has been strikingly demonstrated.

No explanation that seems plausible has ever been given.

ONE OF DOUGLAS' PISTOLS.

Derringer That Belonged to the Famous Illinois Statesman Has Been Located.

A Derringer pistol, with an unusual history, has come into the possession of Col. Walter French, the file clerk of the house of representatives. He found it not long ago in a pawnshop and promptly observed that the inscription on the handle of the weapon, "S. A. Douglas," was probably the name of Stephen A. Douglas, long a prominent democratic figure in congress in the ante-bellum times, says the Washington Post.

Having purchased the weapon, he made inquiries from Col. James Madison Cutts, of this city, a kinsman by marriage of Mr. Douglas, who recognized the Derringer as one of a pair that Mr. Douglas owned during the exciting political events preceding Lincoln's inauguration. It seems that a pair of these pistols, such as men were accustomed to wear in those days, one in each of two small top pockets in the trousers, was presented to Mr. Douglas by the superintendent of the Harper's Ferry arsenal. These were subsequently taken to Louisiana, where it was discovered that the springs were fashioned so that the hammer would not explode the percussion cap. This defect in mechanism was corrected.

In just what manner the pistol was secured from the possession of Mr. Douglas is not known. Col. Cutts has the mate to it, which the great democrat presented to him.

SHAVED THACKERAY'S BUST.

American Collector Didn't Like the Whiskers and Had Them Taken Off.

The bust of Thackeray in Westminster abbey had several years ago upon its cheeks those pendant whiskers that are called "weepers" from their resemblance to the foliage of the willow. To-day the whiskers are no longer there, says a London paper. Their destruction was due to William H. Lambert, of Philadelphia, the greatest collector of Thackerayana in this country, who has many portraits in oil and many in ink, pencil and wash sketches of Thackeray, and hence should know how the novelist looked at every stage of his life. Mr. Lambert is sure that Thackeray never wore "weepers," and, therefore, he volunteered not long since to stand the expense of the removal of the objectionable whiskers from the otherwise accurate and spirited Marochetti bust. Mrs. Thackeray Ritchie arranged the matter; the bust was taken for a brief space out of Westminster and the whiskers were trimmed down to the proper length. Mr. Lambert was permitted to have a replica made of the Westminster bust, and it now stands on one of the landings of the stairway of his house in Germantown.

Unconscious From Croup.

During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Spafford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often. It reduced the swelling and inflammation, cut the mucus and soon the child was resting easy and speedily recovered. It cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, and all Throat and Lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure lingers in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health-giving oxygen to the blood. Slocum Drug Co., Ione Drug Co., Ione.
