END OF HIS SUFFERINGS

Death Enters the Chamber of Pope Leo XIII.

MIND REMAINED UNSHAKEN

In all His Illness His Mind Has Been Singularly Clear and Strong to the End.

Rome July 20, 4:10 a. m.—Leo XIII, pope of Rome is dead. The end has been hourly expected for the past 10 days. The splendid vitality of the aged pontiff assisted by the most powerful stimulants, has kept the flickering flame of life in his veins for days beyond the dreams of his physicians. When the last illness attacked him on June 30, his weakened condition caused the gravest fears to be entertained for his recovery. The cardinals were immediately notified of the situation and began a swift and sorrowful journey to the Vatican. Prayers for the recovery of the venerable man were said in all the Catholic churches in Christendom. The strictest vigil was at once instituted by the attending physicians, Laponi and Mazzoni.

For two days after the attack, his condition remained the same, practically. On the 9th it was announced that there was no possible hope. The operation to relieve the pleura, was weakening in the extreme, and his physical strength was fast ebbing away.

On the 10th the pope surprised the world by arising from his bed and walking about in his room. But this evidence of recuperation did not reassure his physicians, who knew too well that the temporary vitality could not last, in the face of his weakened physical condition.

On Friday morning he was worse again and another operation was performed to relieve the gathering suppurative of the pleura. From this time on his condition has constantly developed alarming symptoms.

The one colossal tower of strength which has not been shaken to the last by the slowly gathering forces of his disease, is the mind of the pope.

In all his illness his mind has been singularly clear and strong. He has dictated messages of good cheer to his people in all parts of the civilized world, and has enjoyed the newspaper reports of his own illness, with a keen appreciation.

PEACE MUST BE KEPT.

Proclamation Issued Calling on Law Officers to Do Their Duty.

Salem, Ore., July 17. — Governor Chamberlain proposes to do all that is in his power to preserve peace among the owners of cattle and sheep in Eastern Oregon, and has assured the local authorities in that section of the state of his readiness to take such measures as may be necessary in order to prevent lawlessness, destruction of property and murder. In pursuance of that policy he today issued the following proclamation:

Whereas, complaints have been and are being made to me that in certain counties in the eastern portion of the state, notably in Grant, Baker, Crook, Wheeler and Harney counties, threats to do injury to life and property are openly indulged in, and serious conflicts are imminent between the owners of cattle and sheep because of differences as to their respective rights on the public ranges unless the greatest vigilance is exercised by the local authorities,

Therefore, in the hope that such calamity may be averted, and our state saved from the discredit which would attach to it in the event of such conflict as appears possible, I do earnestly appeal to the several district attorneys, sheriffs, constables and other officers in said counties to whom is entrusted the enforcement of the law and protection of the life and property of the citizen, to exercise the greatest vigilance and care that no overt acts of lawlessness are indulged in by any of the contending factions, and to arrest promptly and zealously prosecute all persons implicated in the violation of the laws.

In the event of any trouble which the local authorities are unable to control, an appeal to the state will meet with such response as the law will warrant in the emergency.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of Oregon, this sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and three.

GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor.

By the Governor:
F. I. DUNBAR, Secretary of State.

First New Wheat Sale.

Pendleton, Or., July 18.—Sixty two cents as against 55 cents for the opening bid last season, was the price bid for the first wheat of the season, which reached the Pendleton market last evening. The grain was brought in by Fred Taute, who resides two and a half miles south of here. The wheat was purchased at the warehouse of W. S. Byers. This was bluestem, and 59 cents is being paid for club. This price is slightly higher than the market price, for the purchaser wishes a prompt delivery, as the wheat of last season is all gone.

At a regular communication of Whitmore Lodge No. 45, A. O. U. W., held July 15, 1903, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased the Grand Master Workman of the universe to remove from our midst our late Brothers J. L. Ayers, J. J. Roberts, L. P. Jones, G. R. Thornton and J. W. Matlock, and, Whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of their many virtues should be had; therefore, be it

Resolutions of Condolence.

Whereas, God in His infinite power and wisdom has seen fit to visit our city with a terrible calamity, in the form of a cloudburst, June 14, 1903, causing the loss of many lives, and

Whereas, our late neighbors, Louella Gurdane, Mary E. Matlock, Mina A. Long, Leonora E. Estes Rhea, Hannah B. McBride, Ava Thornton, Mary Krug, Martha Saling, Mary Kernan, and Florence French were victims of the flood, and

Whereas, the intimate relations long held by our deceased neighbors with the members of this lodge, render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of their services as Women of Woodcraft, therefore be it

Resolved, By Maple Circle 259, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn their loss; and be it further

Resolved, That, in their death, this lodge loses neighbors who were active and zealous in their work as Women of Woodcraft, ever ready to succor the needy and distressed; prompt to advance the interests of the order, devoted to its welfare and prosperity; honest and upright women, whose virtues endeared them, not only to the members of the order, but to all.

Resolved, That this lodge tender its heartfelt sympathy to the remaining friends and relatives in their sad affliction, also to neighbors who have been bereft of friends or loved ones. May God's blessing rest upon them, his abiding love and presence cheer and comfort them in their darkest hours, and may they ever look to him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, that these resolutions be entered in full on our minutes, and a copy thereof be forwarded to each of the Heppner papers, to the Pacific Echo, and to each of the bereaved families; further that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.
