Quite a nice time was had at the regular meeting of the Eastern Star last Friday evening in the Masonic hall. There was an unusual attendance on account of five candidates being initiated. After the initiation ceremony a banquet was served.

Charles Cunningham, the sheepman, was in the city Friday from his ranch on Birch creek. At the present time he is shearing 8000 head of ewes and 5000 head of bucks. He reports the wool as being of very fine quality. This may be good for Cunningham, but it is tough on the poor sheep, and the chances are that some of them will die with pneumonia.—Pendleton Guide.

D. C. Griffin, better known as Frank Griffin, who was quite well known here, died in his room in the Abrahamsick building, Thursday last, being alone at the time of his death. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he died from natural causes. Griffin was last seen alive early Thursday morning, and his body was found in the afternoon. He has been a resident of Heppner for about five years. He made a business of handling racing horses and was considered a good horseman. He was an upright and big hearted man, but king alcohol was his master, and for some time prior to his death had been drinking heavily. He was about 50 years of age. The remains were laid at rest in the Heppner cemetery, Saturday.

The social committee of the society had transformed the Endeavor room of the Christian church into a cozy parlor. Cozy corners, couches, rocking chairs, rugs, palms and softly-shaded lights all combined in giving a most pleasing effect.

About thirty young people were present. The evening passed quickly, with music and various games. Light refreshments were daintily served. The Society had been represented at the recent State Convention held in Pendleton. A report was called for and Miss Gertrude Crawford gave a brief outline of what transpired on that occasion.

Those present then joined in the singing several hymns, the "Mispah" benediction was pronounced, and the young people departed with many words of praise for those providing the pleasant evening.

Morrow county prohibitionists held their county convention at the court house yesterday afternoon and nominated a full ticket.

Chairman of the County Central Committee H. C. Gay called the meeting to order at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. J. W. Mount.

There was some discussion as to the selection of a chairman, not over any political wires, but as to who would have it. J. J. Adkins who was first placed in nomination, was finally prevailed upon to accept and took the chair.

Carl Beach was elected secretary. A recess was declared while waiting for a messenger to bring some documents that had been overlooked. During this time the Knox company entertained the convention with a song which was pleasing.

H. C. Gay moved that a committee of three be appointed on platform. On this committee the chair appointed Frank Vaughn, W. L. Mallory and L. French.

Chairman Adkins appointed the following committee on resolutions: J. W. Mount, W. P. Scrivener, H. M. Olden.

After another recess to give the committee time to report, the report of the committee on platform was presented and was read by R. W. Kelsey. The platform as prepared by the state league was adopted and was read in printed form, the committee adding the endorsement of local option and the direct primary law.

After the reading and adoption of the platform, R. W. Kelsey, who is traveling over the state in the interest of the prohibition party, asked permission to address the convention, and with an easy manner of delivery made a strong plea for the prohibition party.

The resolutions as prepared by the
