ENDS HIS LIFE.

M. Lichtenthal Suicides by Shooting Himself.

M. Lichtenthal, former county treasurer, shoe dealer, old resident and prominent citizen committed suicide at his home in Heppner by shooting himself through the head with a 41 caliber Colts revolver yesterday morning. The unfortunate affair is surrounded with mystery, and the general opinion here is that Mr. Lichtenthal was demented at the time of committing the act.

He opened his place of business as usual in the morning, and after being in the store a short time went home, but soon returned to his store. It is believed that the second trip to his store was made to get his revolver which was kept at the store. On his way home he talked with several persons on the street, but no one noticed anything out of the way. After going home he went to a bedroom, and his wife entered just as he had taken off his coat and vest and shoes and was holding the gun in his hand. Mrs. Lichtenthal was alarmed at the strange action, and commenced to talk to him, and waving the gun she was told to get out. She ran for help, but as she reached the outside door, a shot rang out. Mr. Lichtenthal was found in an unconscious condition, and lived until noon yesterday.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated? He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack. What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease. That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

Deceased was well known in Morrow county, was well liked and was considered well to do. He has held the office of county treasurer for three successive terms, but was defeated at the last election for the fourth term. Being of a sensitive nature, he has brooded over his defeat which greatly worried him, and this is probably largely responsible for his rash act.

While today was the day on which he was to turn over the books and county funds to his successor, it is believed that his accounts are straight, however, only investigation of the books will show the real facts. The county safe and his private safe were both left open and in a check book, a check was found drawn in favor of Eugene G. Noble, the new county treasurer. The check was for $27,000 of the county funds, and this amount was on deposit in the First National Bank of Heppner.

He was also treasurer of the I. O. O. F. lodge here, and he was heard to make the remark that after today he would have nothing more to do with the lodge funds, which would indicate that he had been making some preparation to end his life.

Mr. Noble, the new treasurer, who took the oath of office Saturday, will ask that the county books be experted and will not take charge until the exact condition of the treasurer's accounts can be determined.

FOURTH AT IONE.

Celebration a Grand Success and Largely Attended.

Ione's big patriotic celebration was a grand success and largely attended by people from all over the county. The Irrigon contingent went to the wheat town on the train Saturday evening. Monday morning's train was crowded from Heppner while a large number went down from Lexington. In fact the county was well represented from every quarter.

The town was gaily decorated with the national colors, while from numerous flag poles, business houses and residences the stars and stripes floated.

A big arch profusely decorated stood on the main street, through which the procession marched, headed by the Lexington band to the big tent where the forenoon exercises were carried out.

The day was about all that could have been desired so far as climatic conditions were concerned. The heavy rain on Sunday and the showers on Monday morning made the atmosphere cool and pleasant and there was no dust.

It was a typical American celebration and a continual round of pleasure from morning until late at night. There was the small boy with the firecrackers, and not only the small boys but some of the older ones who were delighted most of the day in touching off this Chinese invention to make noise. The bombardment of Port Arthur from the standpoint of noise, would be a small affair in comparison, and while the boys would be looking for matches during a lull, the musical voices of the stand spiels would get in their work in telling about their sweet candy and red lemonade.

The forenoon exercises were held under a great tent which had been stretched for the occasion. The program was as follows:

Music, Lexington band; invocation, Rev. J. L. Jones; song, choir; reading Declaration Independence, Miss Jessie Davidson; music, band; Address, A. Bennett; song, choir; recitation; oration, Sam E. VanVactor.

A. Bennett, editor of the Oregon Irrigator, who talked on "The Future Development of Morrow County," delivered an interesting and able address.

The principal address was delivered by Sam E. VanVactor, of Heppner. Mr. Van Vactor's speech was one of the principal features of the forenoon exercises and he was greeted with loud applause by the large audience.

The afternoon was taken up with baseball and athletic sports. In the ball game, Ione won from Irrigon by a score of 8 to 5.

Lee Matlock, of Heppner won first at the shooting tournament by a score of 23 out of a possible 25. James Hart took third money with 20 blue rocks to his credit.

There were no accidents, no disturbance and not an arrest. The people were well entertained, and the enterprising citizens of Ione deserve credit for the great success of the celebration.

Dark Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a great many years, and although I am past eighty years of age, yet I have not a gray hair in my head." Geo. Yellott, Towson, Md.

We mean all that rich, dark color your hair used to have. If it's gray now, no matter; for Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. Sometimes it makes the hair grow very heavy and long; and it stops falling of the hair, too.
