CHRISTMAS EXERCISES.

Merry Closing of Heppner Schools for Holidays.

The Heppner public schools closed Tuesday for the holidays with appropriate exercises.

Both teachers and students, in anticipation of a merry time, had been working hard to make the exercises interesting, and the result was a merry time indeed.

The intense interest taken by the students made the work easier for the teachers. There were a large number of visitors and all were highly pleased, the older persons seeming to be enthused with the inspiration of childhood which was everywhere apparent.

In order to furnish better accommodations, exercises were held in every room. In Miss Catton's room, the little tots with sparkling eyes and faces of real happiness were pleased with a very pretty Christmas tree covered with presents and handsome decorations. In Mrs. Freeland's room more of the little folks were entertained with a real live Santa Claus in all his splendor.

In the different rooms there were appropriate exercises for the older students which reflected credit upon both students and teachers.

The literary exercises were good. While marked ability was shown, careful and system training by modern methods was a feature that was noticeable.

The teachers deserve great credit. In the selection of instructors, this community is fortunate. Heppner should feel justly proud of her public schools.
