

THE PROSPEROUS CITY OF HEPPNER

able dealing with customers they have taken the lion's share of the business. Their shop is kept neat, clean and inviting. The proprietors are T. A. Rhea and W. T. Matlock.

Noble & Campbell.

The harness and horse furnishing establishment conducted by this firm is not only a credit to themselves, but to the city as well. They are both workmen of skill and ability and employ none but competent help, and horse owners hereabouts have superior facilities for the purchase of everything that goes to properly or attractively clothe or adorn a horse. They manufacture and carry in stock all weights of harness and leather goods and their shop is a complete repository of harness, saddles, whips, combs, ribs and turf goods. Their shop is headquarters for cow boy outfits, and their prices are as low as good goods can be sold for. The business was established by Mr. E. G. Noble some twenty years ago, and about two years ago Mr. Campbell was admitted as a partner in the business. They are representative business men of this city and stand well all over this section of the state. They manufacture and ship the celebrated Heppner saddle all over the western part of the United States.

P. O. Borg.

When you go to buy jewelry you must to a certain extent take the word of your dealer as to the quality and value of your purchases, as no one not an expert is capable of passing upon the wares of a jeweler. This leads us to say that P. O. Borg has been doing business here for the past twenty-three years, and his reputation for fair and honorable dealing is well established. He carries a large and well selected stock of jewelry, watches, clocks, silverware, cut glass and musical instruments. Mr. Borg is also an optician and carries a full line of optical goods. He makes a specialty of fitting glasses and testing eyes. The reputation of this gentleman for fine repair work is more than local and brings him much outside trade.

Klein & Ashbaugh.

Blacksmiths are plentiful here, but few if any, equal Klein & Ashbaugh in knowledge of the business. These gentlemen are workmen of skill and ability and use nothing but the best of all kinds of material. They have been in business here for the past three years and their reputation for high grade work is more than local and brings them trade from a distance. They do a general blacksmith and repair business including wood and wagon work, and every job that leaves their shop is warranted to give entire satisfaction. The members of the firm are J. B. Klein and H. C. Ashbaugh, two well known business men of Heppner.

S. J. Wing.

The furniture trade of this city is very extensive, permeating the whole of the county and surrounding territory, and chief among the dealers in this line is Mr. S. J. Wing of this city. Mr. Wing carries a large and complete stock of plain and fancy furniture, carpets, rugs, wall paper, crockery, glassware, stoves and ranges and his prices are as low as the best can be sold for. His stock is new and up-to-date and every article sold is guaranteed to prove as represented. Mr. Wing has been in business here for the past seven months, and by applying the golden rule to trade principles he has built up a large and growing trade. He ships in large quantities and takes advantage of every discount, which enables him to sell for less than competitors who do not enjoy equal advantages.

D. W. Horner.

This gentleman has been engaged in the manufacture of saddles in this city for the past twenty-five or thirty years, and is well known to the men on the range all over the west. He ships saddles into every state west of the Mississippi river and some to states beyond. He makes a superior saddle and stock men everywhere have learned to prize his goods. He uses only first class material, and he is his own pattern maker. He does the largest retail saddle business in the state, and patrons are universally satisfied. While his saddles have no equal on the markets his prices are very reasonable considering quality. Mr. Horner is one of our representative business men, a good citizen and fully deserves the large business enjoyed.

Heppner Drug Co.

No more valuable business is to be found in any community than a well regulated drug store, and more especially so if presided over by competent pharmacists. This leads us to say that A. and O. S. Andrews, the proprietors of the Heppner Drug Co., have had years of experience in this line and their competency is well known. They carry a large and well selected stock of pure drugs and chemicals, proprietary medicines, sundries, toilet articles and the thousand and one things that are usually found in all first class drug stores. They have been in business here for the past two years and by liberal dealing, personal competency and close attention to the wants of customers they have built up a large and growing trade.

Whitis & Patterson.

There never was a time when better opportunities were afforded for making wise, secure and profitable land investments in this section than at present. The country is being developed, real estate values are advancing, which will attract the investor as well as the home-seeker, and everything points to the present as the time to buy. A real estate firm having special facilities for placing funds in desirable real estate in Morrow county is the firm of Whitis & Patterson. This firm has for sale some of the finest what land in this county, and at low prices, and are prepared to make easy terms with low rates of interest on deferred payments. They also handle improved ranches, city property, write insurance in the leading companies, make loans and furnish bonds in any amount. The members of this firm are old residents in the county and are familiar with real estate values, which places them in a position to render valuable services to both buyer and seller alike. They are reliable and responsible and all business entrusted to them will receive prompt and careful attention. The firm is composed of Geo. Whitis and C. C. Patterson, two well known business men of Heppner.

J. L. Yeager.

Among the old, reliable business houses in this city is the furniture store of Mr. J. L. Yeager. This gentleman has been in business here for the past thirteen years and has seen competitors come and go, but he still does business at the same old stand. Mr. Yeager carries a large and complete stock of furniture and house furnishing goods of all kinds, his prices are always as low as honest trade principals will permit. He holds a state license for embalming and does undertaking in all its branches. When desired he takes complete charge from crepe to carriage and flowers, thereby relieving friends and relatives from all responsibility. Mr. Yeager is a representative citizen of Heppner and a foremost business man, always to the front when the best interests of the city are at stake.

A. K. Higgs, M. D.

No science has advanced so rapidly during the past decade as that of healing. The discoveries of learned chemists; the researches of the world's botanists and the many mechanical and electrical inventions, together with the lessons learned by the wisest physicians after years of study and experiment have all gone to modernize and perfect this, the oldest profession existing.

Among the professional men of this city Dr. A. K. Higgs ranks high and commands a large practice. He is a graduate of the Medical Department of the Arkansas Industrial University, also of the New York Polyclinic and the Chicago Post Graduate School and several other medical institutions. The equipment of his office is modern and includes all of the latest electrical appliances for diagnosing obscure diseases and treating the many disorders. Dr. Higgs is coroner of this county, and well known in medical circles throughout the state.

M. A. Leach, D. D. S.

Keeping pace with the advance in the science of medicine, and progressing wonderfully in the art of relieving pain, calling to its aid intricate mechanical devices and methods for treating the gums, the dental profession has during the past few years practically revolutionized. Dr. M. A. Leach of this city is a graduate of the University of Penn., Philadelphia, and during the time he has practiced here he has built up a most satisfactory practice. He practices all branches of dentistry and a high order of crown and bridge work is done. Extracting is done in the least painful manner, and the making of artificial teeth is performed in the most scientific way. His methods and work are thoroughly modern and everything turned out is as perfect as the latest mechanical devices and human skill can accomplish.

M. B. Metzler, D. D. S.

While it may not be pleasant to even think of going to a dental office for any kind of an operation, yet when necessity compels a visit it is always a satisfaction to know that you are in the hands of a skilled and educated operator. This leads us to say that Dr. M. B. Metzler is a graduate of the Kansas City Dental College, and during the six years that he has practiced his profession here he has met with splendid success. He makes it a point to attend to the needs of his patients in a thorough and scientific manner, with the minimum amount of inconvenience. Dr. Metzler is an energetic, wide awake gentleman, always on the lookout for the best things connected with his profession.

Morrow County Land & Trust Co.

A business view of Heppner without appropriate mention of the Morrow County Land & Trust Co. would be incomplete. This firm does a general forwarding and warehouse business and are in the market at all times for all kinds of grain, wool, hides and pelts and pay the highest market price. They have been in the business here for the past sixteen years, and their reputation for fair and honorable dealing with customers is more than local and brings them trade from a distance. They have warehouses at this point with large storage capacity and are prepared to handle grain and wool in most any quantities. This company has extensive real estate holdings in this city and have placed on the market a number of choice lots. This property is well located and a splendid buy at prices asked. The officers of this company are well known business men and have the best interests of the city at heart. They are enterprising and progressive and have been a strong factor in the advancement of Heppner. O. E. Farnsworth is president of the company, J. A. Thompson, vice-president and treasurer, and R. F. Hynd, secretary.

Heppner Light & Water Co.

Nothing adds so much to the beauty of Heppner at night as the magnificent lights, by which the streets, private residences and business houses are illuminated. This plant was established in 1893, and they have a modern plant with a capacity of 1200 lights. They have the alternating current system, the best known to science for the distributing of electricity for lighting purposes. It is possible by this system to furnish light as cheaply as with kerosene, to say nothing of the superiority of the electric light over all others. The electric light is no trouble, no dirt, no odor, no danger, more convenient and healthy, while insurance rates are lower. The Heppner Light & Water Co. now have in use about 900 incandescent lights, besides the arcs on the street. This company also furnishes the city with water. The source of supply is a well 650 feet deep, lifted by pumps with a capacity of 300 and 125 gallons per minute respectively. The water is pure and wholesome, and with their system of reservoirs the city has complete protection from fire. H. V. Gates is president of the company and T. W. Ayers is secretary and treasurer.

Heppner Milling Co.

The Heppner Mills are a splendid example of what has been accomplished in the milling profession within the past few years. These mills were built some years ago, but have been remodeled and improvements added from time to time until they have a modern plant, equipped with the latest improved machinery. They have a daily capacity of 100 barrels of flour. Their brand, "Fairy Queen," is highly recommended by bakers and other experts, and has given universal satisfaction wherever introduced. This mill is one of the chief industries of Heppner, and pay out large sums of money for taxes and wages, to say nothing of a local market for wheat. They are in the market at all times for wheat and pay the highest market price. Dealers and users of flour should see that "Fairy Queen" is on every sack of flour handled or used. A. Wright is president of the company, W. O. Minor secretary, and F. H. Stephenson, miller and business manager.

Telephone Livery Stable.

In this review of the business interests of Heppner we feel called upon to make favorable mention of the Telephone Livery Stable, owned and conducted by Sam Meadows. This gentleman has conducted the barn for the past four years and is well known all over this section. This barn is the home of the spotted horses that have attracted so much attention and favorable comment. His equipment is of the best. He has new rigs and turnouts, good horses and furnishes careful drivers. He believes in first-class service at reasonable rates, and this policy has served to keep his teams busy. Liberal, courteous treatment and right prices is his motto.

Red Front Livery Stable.

Elegance and taste combine with good horse flesh are essential to the up-to-date liveryman, and the rigs and turnouts from the Red Front barn are readily recognized by these distinctions. Promptness is also a characteristic of this barn and teams may be had on a moment's notice. Careful drivers are furnished and gentle horses are provided for ladies. Every attention is given the traveling public. Stewart & Kirk are the proprietors and they have been identified with the barn for fourteen years. They buy, sell and exchange horses, harness, saddles and vehicles. They are well known business men and are always to the front when the best interests of Heppner are at stake.

Rhea & Welch.

In this review of Heppner we feel called upon to make favorable mention of the general store conducted by Rhea & Welch. This firm is composed of E. W. Rhea and Otis Welch, two well known business men of this city. The business was established by Mr. Rhea, and about nine years ago Mr. Welch became a partner in the business. They carry a large and complete stock of general merchandise, embracing dry goods, notions, ladies and gents furnishing goods, clothing of the latest weaves and all the newest styles and shapes in shoes. They also carry a full line of staple and fancy groceries, flour, feed and provisions, and their prices are always right. They also handle tinware, tobaccos and smokers goods. All goods sold by this firm are warranted to prove as represented.

B. G. Sigsbee.

None of the arts come nearer our homes and affections than does photography. By its means the poor as well as the rich are enabled to adorn their walls with pleasing reproductions of the best works of the masters. One of the skilled members of the profession is Mr. B. G. Sigsbee, of this city. He is a true artist of talent and attainment and his heart is in his work. He has a well equipped gallery and is prepared to do all kinds of photographic work, including high grade portraits, groups, landscape views, livestock and commercial work. In fact any and all kinds of work pertaining to the art of photography.

Thomas Brennan.

Heppner has a farrier of the scientific sort, and to him the horse's hoof is an open book, and many an ailing animal has been restored to usefulness by his timely attention. Mr. Brennan has made the anvil ring here for the past nine years and has built up a most satisfactory trade. He is a workman of skill and ability and warrants all work to give entire satisfaction.

Crescent Laundry Co.

As cities progress and grow, and as business increases in volume, the old, slow, foggy methods of conducting the same are through necessity supplanted by more modern and perfect means. Heppner has a steam laundry, fully equipped with all modern machinery and operated by gentlemen who thoroughly understand every detail of the work. They employ only experienced and competent help and the work turned out by this laundry is equal to any in the state. Laundry of every kind is executed in the most artistic manner, and of the highest grade at reasonable prices. Work is called for and delivered in the city promptly and in a satisfactory manner. Johnson Bros., the present proprietors, succeeded to the business about three months ago and have built up a most satisfactory trade.

J. R. Simons.

Among the clever mechanics of this city we will make mention of Mr. J. R. Simons. This gentleman is the pioneer blacksmith of Heppner, having first commenced work here in 1884. He is a high class workman and employs none but competent help to turn out the work that comes to his shop. He does a general blacksmith business, including wagon and carriage work of all kinds. He uses the best of material and warrants every job that leaves his shop. His reputation for fine work and reasonable prices is well established and brings him work from a distance. Mr. Simons is a broad liberal business man and a citizen of high repute.

Over 40 new buildings have been erected in Corvallis during this year, and other improvements have been made.

The American Farmer the Best in the World.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $300,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shiver up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made only of herbs and roots it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—that is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity. Dr. Pierce's "Medical Adviser" sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
