STOP THINK AND PONDER

The merchant who does the credit business is compelled to mark his goods at least 40 per cent higher than the one who buys and sells for cash.—THREE reasons we give that cannot be successfully denied. FIRST—The percentage of losses which any credit business must stand will entail 20 to 25 per cent. SECOND—The credit merchant cannot discount his bills, unless he borrows the money which adds another 10 per cent. THIRD—He must employ bookkeepers and office help, adding 5 per cent more.

WASHABLE YARN GLOVES

Colors are white, tan, brown, grey and black
