WHAT IT COSTS.

Ten Dollars and Fifty Cents to See All Sights at Exposition.

For weeks and weeks the Oregonians and their neighbors have been devouring, with their eager eyes, column after column of reading matter relating to the famous Trail of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. They have heard so much about the wonderful and varied attractions that they feel satisfied that to "hit" the Trail from one end to the other and take in all the shows would cost nothing less than a small fortune.

"How much will it cost to see everything on the Trail?" is the natural question asked by thousands of people. They want to see all the shows if they are financially able to do so. To "hit" the Trail, and "hit" it from one end to the other, without passing up a single attraction, will cost less than $8, and there are about 40 shows on the Trail.

Then again, if a person desires to "blow" himself to see how much money he can spend on concessions without visiting or indulging in any of the shows or attractions more than once, he would find it impossible to spend more than $10. Of course, if he wanted to ride in an electric launch all day, or be pushed around the grounds in a roller chair from morning to night, $10 would not last him more than a few hours.

Take a man who comes to Portland to see the Exposition with the determination of visiting and seeing everything of interest, notwithstanding the cost. It will cost him 50 cents to obtain admission into the grounds. Then, being fatigued, he will allow himself to be pushed about the grounds in a roller chair for about an hour.

Then he will procure a reserved seat and listen to the band playing in the grandstand as long as he desires. Feeling a little stupid from arising early, he takes a ride on an electric launch. Being ignorant of the notable events arranged for each day, he will buy an official programme. He will also purchase an official guide.

About this time he will turn towards the Trail. Taking them as they come, he will visit attraction after attraction. About this time he will be ready to shoot the chutes. After wandering around a while he spies a shooting gallery and tries a few shots at moving targets. Then he will hunt out the life-saving exhibit and rent another reserved seat, also purchasing an official catalogue to take home with him as a souvenir of the Exposition.

He remembers that he greatly enjoyed his ride on the lake, so he turns his footsteps to the landing and hires a gondola. Tiring of that and in need of exercise, he procures a rowboat and skims the waters for an hour. Desiring to secure a better view of the Exposition, he ascends in the captive balloon.

He will visit the Cairo Theatre and take a ride on the hunched back of the camel. Then he will try his horsemanship on a donkey. By this time he has seen all the concessions and is out just exactly $10.50, which includes his admission fee to the grounds.

As a matter of fact, it would be impossible for a person to visit all the shows and attractions at the Exposition in even two or three days. Very few of the shows are of short duration. It has been estimated that it would take considerably more than two days to attend and stay to the close of every attraction on the Trail alone. Of course, many of the visitors will find shows that do not appeal to their sense of humor or enjoyment, and will not go in.

LOCAL NOTES.

C. E. Woodson left this morning for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morrow, of Portland, are visiting in the city.

Prof. E. Jay Merrill, of Hardman, was a Heppner visitor yesterday.

There will be a special train from Heppner to Ione next Sunday, on account of the big ball game between Morrow County and Gilliam County.

Mrs. Andrew Neal, of Lone Rock, Mrs. Joe Hayes, Elvey and Neva Hayes and Mrs. Sarah Hayes, of this city, left yesterday morning for Okanogen, Wash., to attend the wedding of Miss Vie Curtis. Miss Curtis is well known in Heppner.

Monday Judge Ayers and D. E. Gilman were out driving on the Hinton creek road and when near Thos. Marlatt's place the horses became unmanageable and the rig was overturned, the occupants being thrown violently to the ground. Mr. Gilman was badly bruised while Judge Ayers escaped with slight injury.

Wednesday, June 7, will be Umatilla and Morrow county day at the Lewis and Clark fair. A large number of people from the two counties will go down on the special train which will go down on the 6th. Judge T. W. Ayers is very active working up enthusiasm so that there will be a good representation of Morrow county people on that day. The delegations from both counties will wear badges of the same kind and there will be many to let the people know that we are on earth. Mrs. George Conser has been appointed hostess with Mrs. Reid, of Ione, as assistant.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 55c at Slocum Drug Co.'s drug store.
