WHEAT CROP IS SAFE

Favorable Reports Continue to Come From the Wheat Dis- tricts of Northwest.

The wheat crop of Morrow county is now safe. No damage to speak of has been caused by the hot weather of the past week owing to the fact that the grain is well advanced. Very late spring grain has suffered a little but even this was so far along that the yield will not be materially lessened.

Taking it all around the yield will be very satisfactory. While the aggregate amount of grain will not be as great as last year owing to a smaller acreage, the quality will be good and the yield of the entire county will not be far from the million bushel mark which will add much wealth to the pockets of the already prosperous farmers of Morrow county.

Winter wheat suffered somewhat from the cold spell of last winter by freezing out, the most damage being in the Ione district where the yield will be cut down a small per cent.

In the Eight Mile and Gooseberry districts crops are very good. Harvesting will be general in a few days. No wheat has yet been brought into the warehouses.

Walla Walla Wheat Safe.

Walla Walla, Wash., July 22.—Harvesting operations are in full headway in Walla Walla county, and the entire crop is safely beyond damage from hot weather.

The yield from the crops that have already been threshed has fully equalled the anticipations of a few weeks ago, and in some cases it was even better.
Taken all in all, the wheat crop of this year will be first class in quality and a bumper in quantity.

The market has not as yet hardly opened, although the buyers seem to think that it will start out on a basis of about 70 cents for No. 1 bluesstem.

Big Crops in Umatilla.

Pendleton, Or., July 22.—The wheat crop of Umatilla county will be a bumper, according to reports now being received from different sections of the county. During the past two days a number of outfits have begun operations in the large wheatfields on the reservation and harvest is general. The yield of fall sown wheat is averaging from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre, while spring wheat is even better than usual, about 20 bushels being the average.

The quality of wheat was never better. New wheat purchased here today stood a test of 62 pounds to the bushel.
Spring wheat is also testing well in weight, though the berries were somewhat shriveled by the intense heat of the past three days.

Heavy Losses in Spring Grain.

Spokane, July 22. The damage to spring wheat is growing. In some localities 25 per cent of the crop is the loss estimated; in other sections the damage is estimated at 5 per cent.

If the hot weather continues, the aggregate loss in the Big Bend and Palouse may reach $1,000,000, as the crops this year are unusually heavy, and the yield promised up to last Sunday, before the hot weather intervened, was a record-breaker. Fall wheat is entirely out of danger. Harvesting will begin within a week on fall wheat.

Spring-Sown Grain Suffers.

Garfield, Wash., July 22.—The hottest wave ever experienced in the Palouse country has been for the past few days.
"So far, Spring-sown grain, both wheat and oats, are damaged 25 per cent. and if the hot spell continues until Monday night the damage will be 50 per cent."

The fall-sown wheat so far is but little damaged, as it is too far advanced.

Heat Tells on Spring Wheat.

Moscow, Idaho, July 22.—All records for hot weather in this vicinity have been broken. The extreme heat is beginning to tell on spring wheat and oats. Fall grain is practically safe.
The damage to spring grain thus far has been slight, owing to the absence of hot wind. Five per cent is the loss estimated.

Good Yield is Predicted.

Wilbur, Wash., July 22.—The weather was fully as hot today as yesterday, but no hot wind. Twenty five per cent of the wheat is yet in the milk, and continuation of this hot spell will damage the crop by cutting down the yield.
Farmers report very little damage to date. The grain is ripening fast and a good yield is universally predicted.

Sacajawea's Grave Found.

Lander, Wyo., July 22.—From old time residents here, information has been obtained which tends to establish almost beyond question that the body of Sacajawea, the Shoshone Indian woman, who acted as guide for Lewis and Clark in their great journey to the Pacific Coast just 100 years ago, lies buried in an unmarked grave near the Episcopal mission on the Shoshone reservation near here.

Major Baldwin, when in command at Fort Bridger, made a trip of exploration to the Lander Valley, his guide being the Shoshone Indian "Old" Basil.
Basil's mother, according to the statements of Basil as well as of the women herself to Dr. James Irwin, the United States agent at the reservation, was no other than the now famous Sacajawea.

When the Shoshones settled on their present reservation, Old Basil and his mother took up their abode at the agency, where the mother died on April 9, 1883, having lived nearly a century, and was buried in the Indian cemetery near the Episcopal mission. Basil and another son, Baptiste, mentioned in one of General Clark's letters, died soon after their mother, of old age.

The people of Lander are satisfied that the identification of the grave is authentic.

Yellow Fever Breaks Out.

Montgomery, Ala., July 22.—State Health Officer W. H. Henderson this afternoon received a telegram from Acting Assistant United States Surgeon General Glenn and President Bondurant of the Alabama Medical Association stating there was yellow fever in New Orleans. Only a few cases within two blocks are reported as positive cases.
Experts from the department at Washington have been sent there.

President Bondurant requested the governor to immediately issue a proclamation quarantining New Orleans, and the governor is wavering, putting the matter off until tomorrow, and the people here are much wrought up. This city will put on quarantine officers immediately.

MITCHELL IS SENTENCED

Conviction and Sentence Does Not Render Office Vacant—Will be Appealed.

Portland, July 25.—Senator Mitchell, convicted of the prostituting of his office to further the law practice of the firm of Mitchell and Tanner, was today sentenced to pay $1,000 and to serve a sentence of six months in the Multnomah county jail. Pending a review of the case by the United States Supreme Court, the execution of the sentence will be deferred. In the meantime, Mitchell will be at liberty under a bond of $2,000. Judge DeHaven stated in passing the sentence that he had taken into consideration the advanced age of the defendant and the fact that he was forever barred from holding public office. Senator Mitchell did not move a muscle during the passing of the sentence and when the words "county jail" fell from the lips of the judge, the aged senator sat as one transfixed.

Immediately upon the pronouncing of judgment, ex-Senator Thurston filed notice of an appeal, an additional bill of exceptions, a supersedeas bond of $2,000 for appearance before the supreme court and a record of a writ and assignment of error. Judge DeHaven then announced that execution of the sentence would be stayed for two days, in order to enable the defense to take an appeal.

In granting a stay of execution for two days Judge De Haven made an allowance of time in which an appeal to the supreme court might be perfected.
Otherwise it would have been the duty of the marshal to carry out the sentence of the court. In perfecting the appeal it will be necessary for Judge De Haven to sign the bill of exceptions, make an order allowing the writ of error and the supersedeas bond of $2,000. The stay of execution will admit of time in which to do this, after which the appeal will act as a stay, until the appellate court passes on the questions involved.

The conviction and sentencing of Senator Mitchell does not render his office vacant. This principle was determined in the Burton case. If the supreme court affirms the judgment of the trial court, its act would have the effect of vacating the office. Otherwise the gov-
