

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. The chorus is sung by millions.

"Before using Ayer's Hair Vigor I had very thin and very poor hair. But I continued to use the Vigor until my hair greatly improved in every way. I have used it off and on for the past ten years."—Mrs. M. DRUMMOND, Newark, N. J.

TRUMPET CALLS.

Ram's Horn Sounds a Warning Note to the Undecided.

MAN can be sweet without being fresh. The joy of service is the secret of joy. The one country waits for the one King. Many who glory in their titles have no title to glory.

Limitations lead to liberty. Conceit conceals the Savior. Truth cannot be tyrannical. Selfishness destroys serenity. Grace cannot grow by greed. Bigotry blasts many blessings. Love calls no service degrading.

The world is no better for calling its Father a force.

It takes more than curiosity to make a good neighbor. Pardon alone purchases freedom from punishment.

You cannot develop affection without heart athletics.

The world needs your witness as well as your work.

Your prospects depend on something beside your precepts.

The people who shine as the stars think only of the Sun.

You will always find the best berries in the biggest brambles.

He cannot be truly brave who is not trying to be bravely true.

Duty never brings danger without also bringing the Deliverer.

The best way to learn to work with a man is to pray with him.

Our greatest gratitude comes from our deepest disappointments.

The glory of the choir may get in the way of the grace of Christ.

It is little use coming to your senses unless they send you to your Savior.

The worst habits, in our opinion, are those for which we have no appetite.

Dignity is a good thing in the museum, but out of place in the market.

A man's piety is not established by the police duty he does in the church.

Some preachers think that God has a preference for polysyllabic prayers.

The most dangerous part of the devil's program is where he tells the truth.

"GIBSON GIRL" HAS GONE.

It is Now the Turn of the Ethel Barrymore Young Lady.

Down at Atlantic City they have made a new find. Some latter-day Christopher Columbus has discovered that the place of the Gibson girl is this year filled by the Barrymore girl, according to the San Francisco Chronicle.

The broad-shouldered, wide-shouldered, stiff shirt-waisted, bareheaded, brown-skinned female of generous proportions has, they say, faded away in the smoke of antiquity and left in her stead the most charming, alluring, dainty and feminine person the board walks have ever seen.

Ethel Barrymore ought to feel highly complimented, if the story of the discovery is true. Here is a great seaside resort, the bulk of the population of which has gone daffy over her, and is trying as hard as it can to look and act like her. In other words, she—Ethel Barrymore—has not only won the hearts of ten-score unsatisfactory men and the hand of one lucky Britisher, but she has cast a spell over the bulk of American femininity. Not half bad for one of our youngest and least demonstrative actresses.

"She parts her hair in the middle," writes the discoverer of "the Barrymore girl," "makes it in a huge roll over each ear and winds it into an oblong coil at the back. Her shoulders droop in the most approved English fashion, she wears collarless blouses, unstuffed skirts and loose waists that are snugly belted in."

"Feminine to the finger tips, she is alluringly soft and gentle. She has nothing in common with her predecessor. All frills, soft lines and fancies she is; a distinct copy after the young actress. The 'Ethel Barrymore girl' glides along. She moves slowly, quietly, and does her best to keep her heels from pounding the floor—she is the daintiest, most fetching type Atlantic City has produced."

And yet there are those who assert that the stage has only an evil influence!

Cat as Food.

In northern Italy the cat is a favorite article of food, even though people are forbidden by law from partaking of the animal. Indeed, cats are fattened and grown for the market with great care, and the Italians believe that they far surpass rabbits in every good quality. The method of cooking the animal is to roast it in an oven until brown, with onions, garlic, parsley, bay leaf, red wine, and some fragrant herbs other than those mentioned.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH RESTORED BY PE-RU-NA

Mrs. Emma Fleissner, 1412 Sixth Ave., Seattle, Wash., Worthy Treasurer Sons of Temperance, writes:

"I suffered over two years with irregular and painful periods. My health was in a very precarious condition and I was anxious to find something to restore my health and strength."

"I was very glad to try Peruna and delighted to find that it was doing me good. I continued to use it a little over three months and found my troubles removed."

"I consider it a splendid medicine and shall never be without it, taking a dose occasionally when I feel run down and tired."

Our files contain thousands of testimonials which Dr. Hartman has received from grateful, happy women who have been restored to health by his remedy, Peruna.

Edward W. McKenna, who was elected Second Vice President of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad at the annual meeting of the directors in Milwaukee, is one of the most widely known railway officials in the railway service. He was born in Pittsburgh and entered the service of the Pennsylvania system in 1863 and rose steadily in the service of that company until 1887, when he became division superintendent of the St. Paul Road, becoming general superintendent in 1890. In 1894 he transferred his services to the Great Northern Railroad in the same capacity, where he remained till the autumn of 1895, at which time he had developed an invention for rolling steel rails and at once launched a company, which has since made a fortune out of the process. Mr. McKenna resumed his services with the St. Paul Road as assistant to the President Feb. 1, 1904.

Jacob Henry Schiff, who testified before the Insurance Investigating committee in New York that the directors knew nothing of the secrets of the Equitable, that he never heard anything of the numerous "trustee" accounts, and that he doubted the correctness of entries in the Equitable book recording the purchase of $500,000 of Union Pacific stock for "holding account," is one of the noted financiers of the country. He is a member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., is a director in several banks, trust companies and railroads and also is a director of Equitable Life and of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Mr. Schiff was born at Frankfort-on-the-Main in 1847 and came to the United States in 1865. He has served as vice president of the New York Chamber of Commerce and is the founder of the Jewish Theological Seminary of the Semitic Museum at Harvard University. Last winter he was decorated by the Japanese emperor for services in connection with floating the Japanese loan.

Frederick L. Cutting, Commissioner of Insurance for Massachusetts, has come into wide notice on account of a severe arraignment of the methods of big insurance companies incorporated in his annual report. He especially condemned the Equitable, the Mutual and the New York Life. He characterized some of the officials as Judases and alluded to "dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Company."

He referred to "dubious schemes" and "schemes for getting enormously rich." He also touched on fraternal societies and mentioned the Royal Arcanum in particular.

John M. Hamilton, former Governor of Illinois, who died recently, was for many years a prominent figure in the politics of the State. He was a schoolmate of Vice President Fairbanks and of Senator Foraker. Mr. Hamilton was a member of the House of Representatives, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

J. B. Fowler, of Portland, Ore., is the inventor of a device which, if successful, will make him the peer of Edison. Marconi, Tesla and all the other wizards of electrical discovery. It is claimed for this newest of wonders that by means of it one may see the image of the person with whom he is talking through the telephone. Its discoverer calls it the "televue." Mr. Fowler, until recently was a laborer in a railroad shop.

"I'm sorry for her lawyer."

"Because the jury will give a verdict for her husband as soon as they see her."—Cleveland Leader.

Prof. L. H. Bailey, director of the New York state school of agriculture at Cornell, is writing several articles which are soon to appear in The Century on the subject of the young man and the farm. He will tell why he thinks the young man now leaves the farm, and he will show how the farm can be made more attractive and better worth the young man's while.

A Hopeless Fight

It is as impossible to conquer the king of diseases—Contagious Blood Poison—with Mercury and Potash as it would be to conquer the king of the forest in a hand-to-hand encounter, as thousands who have had their health ruined and lives blighted through the use of these minerals will testify. They took the treatment faithfully, only to find when it was left off, the disease returned with more power, combined with the awful effects of these minerals, such as mercurial rheumatism, necrosis of the bones, salivation, inflammation of the stomach and bowels, etc. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood it quickly contaminates every drop of that vital fluid, and every muscle, nerve, tissue and bone becomes affected, and soon the foul symptoms of sore mouth and throat, copper-colored blotches, falling hair and eyebrows, swollen glands, sores, etc., make their appearance. Mercury and Potash can only cover up these evidences for awhile; they cannot cure the disease. S. S. S. has for many years been recognized as a specific for Contagious Blood Poison—a perfect antidote for the deadly virus that is so far-reaching in its effects on the system. S. S. S. does not hide or mask the disease, but so thoroughly and completely cures it that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. while eradicating the poison of the disease will drive out any effects of harmful mineral treatment. A reward of $1,000.00 is offered for proof that S. S. S. contains a mineral ingredient of any kind. Treatise with instructions for home treatment and any advice wished, without charge.
