VISITING OLD SOUTH.

No Other Building in America the Scene of More Thrilling Events.

An alert boy of 12 or 13 years, visiting in Boston for the first time, was asked what historical building he would like to visit first, and he replied very promptly:

"The Old South Meeting-house. I like to see places in which there has been something doing in the past.

They did things in the Old South Meeting-house, both before and during the Revolution, didn't they?"

Indeed they did! No building in America has been the scene of more thrilling events than has this ancient house of worship.

Had this boy, who was eager to see the Old South Meeting-house because of all that it stands for, been in Boston on the 29th day of last April, he might have gone into the time-honored old building in company with hundreds of other boys, and a great many girls, who came from all parts of the city to be present at the "Children's Hour" in the "Old South." This is a semi-yearly event in Boston. It is a part of what is called the "Old South Work," which is a good work, having for its chief purpose the bringing of the young people of Boston and America into an intimate knowledge of early American history.

On this 29th day of April the Old South Meeting-house was packed with boys and girls from the public schools, to hear about William Blackstone, the first settler in the city of Boston. A large orchestra of boys and girls from one of the public schools played patriotic airs, and I remember that at one "Children's Hour" in the Old South two hundred school girls sang the ode which was composed and sung when President George Washington visited Boston in 1789. You see that they still "do things" of a patriotic nature in this old meeting-house—hallowed, as it is, by memories of Washington and Adams and Otis and Hancock and all the good men and true who helped to give our country its most valued possession—Independence.—St. Nicholas.

SALE OF GOODS.

State Law Provides Protection for the Creditor.

Portland—The Portland Association of Credit Men, one of the state's oldest and strongest commercial bodies, has taken up the matter of purchasing goods without the buyer knowing whether or not there is any indebtedness against the same. A law on the statute books of Oregon, covering this question, follows:

SALE OF GOODS IN BULK.

It shall be the duty of any person who shall purchase any stock of goods in bulk, for cash or credit, to demand and receive from the vendor, at least five days before the consummation of such purchase, and at least five days before paying or delivering to the vendor, any part of the purchase price, a written statement under oath, containing the names and addresses of all of the creditors of said vendor, with the amount of indebtedness due and owing, or to become due or owing to each of such creditors, and if there be no such creditors, a written statement under oath to that effect; and it shall be the duty of such vendor to furnish such statement at least five days before such sale. After receiving said written statement, the vendee shall at least five days before the consummation of such purchase, and at least five days before paying any part of the purchase price, in good faith notify personally or by wire or by registered letter, each of the creditors of the vendor named in said statement, of the proposed purchase by him of such stock of goods; and whenever any person shall purchase any stock of goods in bulk, without having first demanded and received from his vendor, the statement herein provided for, and without having also notified all of the creditors of the vendor named in such statement, such purchase, sale or transfer shall, as to any and all creditors of the vendor, be conclusively presumed fraudulent and void. Any vendor of a stock of goods in bulk, who shall knowingly and willfully make or deliver, or cause to be made or delivered, any false statement, or shall fail to include the names of all of his creditors in any such statement, shall be deemed guilty of perjury. Any sale or transfer of a stock of goods, wares or merchandize out of the usual or ordinary course of the business or trade of the vendor, or whenever thereby substantially the entire business or trade theretofore conducted by the vendor shall be sold or conveyed or attempted to be sold or

RHEUMATISM CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

When the joints are sore and swollen, and the muscles throbbing with the pain of Rheumatism, relief must be had at once, and it is natural to rub the affected parts with liniments, oils, etc. This treatment does good in a way, by temporarily relieving the pain and reducing the inflammation, but has no effect on the disease itself, because Rheumatism is more than skin deep; it is in the blood and cannot be rubbed away. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, weak kidneys, poor bowel action, stomach troubles and a general sluggish condition of the system. The refuse and waste matters, which should be carried off through the natural avenues of bodily waste, are left to sour and form uric acid and other irritating poisons which are absorbed by the blood, making it thin, weak and acid. Then instead of nourishing the different nerves, muscles, joints and tissues it fills them with poison to produce the aches, pains and other disagreeable symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter for the reason that cold and dampness are exciting causes. The nerves become excited and sting with pain, the muscles are sore and drawn, the joints swollen and stiff and the sufferer lives in intense agony; and if the disease is not checked it often leaves its victims helpless cripples for life. Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away but it can be driven from the blood by S. S. S. Being a perfect blood purifier this great remedy soon produces a complete change in the entire circulation; the thin, acid blood through the body nourishes and soothes

TRUMPET CALLS.

Ram's Horn Sounds a Warning Note to the Unredeemed.

OWEBBS on the Bible mean time for a spiritual housecleaning. "A little fun" has often led to a great fall. Love is heaven's lever amongst our lives. Wherever there is room for sorrow there is room for the Savior.

Hatred breaks the heart in which it is born. Death breaks the shell to set the kernel free. Religion is more than a get-rich-quick system. The man who is ever on the make never makes a man. It's the small joys we give that make our great joys.

A coat of arms will be a poor protection in the judgment. The poorest kind of a man is the one who is made of money.

This is only a good world when we know that it is God's world. A man is not called pig-headed because he is greedy of intellect. The nearer we get to heaven the heavier this world's goods become.

If the Lord had loved us less he would have let us live without labor. The great objection some men have to the sun is that it shines on others. A professional air in the pulpit may please a few, but it will freeze the many.

If your religion is of the kind that can be easily hidden it can as easily be lost. Don't call the world dirty because you have forgotten to clean your glasses.

You do not win a front seat in heaven by taking a back seat in church. Many men think they would obey the Ten Commandments if they could just clip off one or two.

It takes more than a brotherly manner to make up for a lack of business method in religious work. If life is a voyage, the cargo and the port are of much more importance than the fish that may be caught on the way.

When the cracked choir sings, "O, for the wings of a dove," they can be sure of the congregation being with them on that.

ON THE FARM.

It is Always Good to Make the Laborer One of the Family.

More consideration for the helper about the country house is urged by Mabel Osgood Wright. Describing her home in Connecticut, she writes: "Here is the poor man's paradise. The American helper and the gardener dwell together, as it were, for, if work is to be of the best and true, the beauty of it, as well as the toll, should surround the worker. Why should the laborer endure the heat of the day and be shut out from the shadows and breeze of evening? His cottage, improvised from the old barn, looks cheerfully from his shelter of trees and shrubs, and he and his enjoy the spell of the wild each nightfall as well as we. The real reason why the American is disappearing from farm and garden is that the American when he becomes an employer rarely 'knows himself,' or remembers, what manner of man he was. If we can only open our eyes and hands to seeing and holding fast to that in the outdoor life that means so much and costs so little! Ambition of excelling one another, of creating a sensation, of doing the big and marvelous, and completing in five years what should be the work of a lifetime makes of the life outdoors a thing as heavy and cumbersome as any other financial or social venture. In bringing the spell of the wild as close to the door as may be lies peace, refreshment and inspiration like the voice of the wood thrush sounding through the twilight."—Country Calendar.

Poland's Schools. In the kingdom of Poland, with its 127,000 square kilometers, somewhat less thickly settled than Galicia, it is true, having only seventy-three inhabitants per square kilometer, there are less than 2,200 common schools. Fifty per cent of the adult population of Warsaw is illiterate. With a school population of 110,000 between seven and fourteen, this city has a total primary school accommodation for not more than 40,000. The public schools, conducted in an alien language (Russian), have a capacity for only 14,000; an equal number are accommodated in the Jewish schools which teach Yiddish and Hebrew, while private enterprise gives facilities for 10,000 or 12,000.

Out of the Long Ago. Pochontas had just performed the rescue act. "And your name?" she asked. "John Smith," he replied. "Crazed with grief over the thought that the man she had rescued was not named Reginald Worthington, she gave a low sob and crept from the scene."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Danger of Realism.

David Belasco was talking about stage realism. "It may go too far," he said. "It is a dangerous thing."

"A stage manager," he said, "once had a subordinate with realistic ideas. The manager was producing a play containing a snowstorm and the subordinate had charge of the snow."

"Confound you!" said the manager. "At the end of the snowstorm scene, 'What on earth did you mean by making the snow out of brown paper?'"

"Ain't the scene laid in London?" asked the other. "Yes, but what of that?"

"Well, that's the color of London snow."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

How to Exercise the Bowels

Your Intestines are lined inside with millions of little suckers, that draw the Nutrition out of food as it passes them.

But, if the food passes too slowly, it decays before it gets through. Then the little suckers draw Poison from it instead of Nutrition.

This Poison makes a Gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it.

You see, the food is Nourishment or Poison, just according to how long it stays in transit.

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as Cathartics do.

They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine.

They simply stimulate the Bowel Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

And, the Exercise these Bowel Muscles are thus forced to take, makes them stronger for the future, just as Exercise makes your arm stronger.

MY CASCARET POCKET

The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo. It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle.

It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles more than ever, and thus weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong Cathartic, like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed.

What does the Cathartic do? It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers.

But, the Digestive Juice we waste in doing this today is needed for tomorrow's natural Digestion. We cannot afford to lose it.

That's why Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.
