The Heppner Gazette

Established March 30, 1883.

ISSUED THURSDAY MORNING.

Fred Warnock

Entered at the Postoffice at Heppner Oregon, as second-class matter.

THURSDAY..... Jan. 18, 1906

That Heppner Commercial Club building looks like business.

It is now believed that Eastern Oregon will name the next governor, and Chas. A. Johns, of Baker City, seems to be man.

In the race for secretary of state, Claud Gatch, of Salem. is developing strength all over the state. Mr. Gatch would well represent the state in this position.

Again the people of Heppner are confronted with the bad condition of the pavement on Main street. The water should not be allowed to run across the sidewalk in freezing weather.

"The Ione Proclaimer threw a couple of fits and took a few shots and had a dream wherein he seen Ione as the best town in Morrow county."—Lexington Wheatfield. The Wheatfield's sentiment is all right, but the grammatical construction shows a whole lot of early neglect.

It is now generally conceded that J. R. Whitney, the present state printer, is far in the lead in the candidacy for the nomination for state printer. Mr. Whitney's best indorsement is his record in the office during his first term. The Gazette hopes that Morrow county will be in line with the other counties in giving Mr. Whitney a majority when he is nominated, which is now a certainty.

Heppner is undergoing the unpleasant experience of a coal famine like several other towns of the Northwest, however, we are more fortunate than some others for the reason that we can get plenty of wood. While wet and green wood is undesirable for the unfortunate husband who has to build the fires these cold mornings, still it beats no fuel at all. A report from the United States Geological Survey, issued this week states that the mining of coal for the year 1905, was one of record breaking activity, the output of the Rocky Mountain region, along with the rest of the country showing a decided increase. Notwithstanding this fact, the railroads and the Northwest towns are short on coal. The Gazette does not believe that Heppner will be able to get any more coal this winter, so we must be content with wood.

The question of granting a telephone franchise is now before the city council of Heppner. Of course a perpetual franchise is asked for. It is not the desire of the Gazette to be antagonistic to any public enterprise, especially when the promoters are residents of Heppner, which is the case in this particular telephone question, but the intent is to call attention to the fact that present conditions will not last a great length of time. The city of Portland today is reaping the results of unwise action in giving a sweeping franchise to a gas company. It was of little consequence when the franchise was granted when Portland was a small town, but conditions have undergone a great change. While Heppner may never be a great city, still the town will get larger and the future should be guarded. Franchises are the stock and trade of a city, in fact about all that the city has to sell or give away and the custodians of this public property should guard it well.

The people of Heppner apparently do not realize the fact that the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company has in this city a telephone in almost every business house and many private residences. With the business of the city and the outside connections, the monthly revenue runs into the hundreds of dollars. Every resident of Heppner who owns property that brings in a revenue is taxed, and each must bear a certain proportion of the burden. Not a single telephone of the telephone company pays one cent of taxes. It is true that the lines are taxed, but only at a nominal rate in which the number of 'phones used cuts but little figure. For the privilege of putting 'phones in the city, the company should pay a tax on each and every 'phone. If a proper law were passed by the city council, it could be easily enforced. Let the telephone company pay a just share of city taxes for the good money that it is taking out of Heppner.

Brother Bennett, of the Irrigon Irrigator, who has had much to say about Morrow county roads, and, by the way, holds that honorable position of vice-president of some good roads association, and who has not been at all times complimentary in his remarks about the county court, especially when there is anything about a road in the matter, has been appointed road supervisor for his district. This is certainly getting even all once. It is said that Mr. Bennett is already figuring on building an elevated, up-to-date, 20th century ripsnorter of a road from Irrigon to Rabbitville, and that automobiles will be running out of Irrigon in all directions. Anyhow Mr. Bennett will have a chance to make good on some of the prize methods which he has been exploiting with wind and on paper for a long time. It is also reported that Bennett has already hired a herder to drive that 6,000-000 coyotes that he recently saw swimming the Columbia, over the roads, believing that the toe nails of the varmints will scratch out the rocks and level the grades. The county court is even, but it was rather a mean way to pay off an old grudge.

TAX THE FAKIRS.

At the last session of the county court an order was placed on record fixing a county license fee of $400 on peddlers and hawkers operating in the county. This is enforcing the authority which the court is given by the law of the state. This action of the court is commendable. The court is the custodian of the business of the county in which all citizens are interested, and the guarding of the interests of the public is a duty that should never be neglected. The order imposing a heavy tax upon peddlers covers a greater scope than most people would think in giving the matter passing notice. It is a protection to every business man in Morrow county. The general purpose and intent is not to especially prohibit the small peddler who sells trinkets of small value, but the main object is to deliver a blow at the big fakir who comes every fall with the steel range, or cheap buggies and wagons, the inferior and unwholesome groceries, etc, who reaps a rich harvest in big profits through misrepresentation and fraudulent methods. The plan of work with these fakirs is entirely at variance with legitimate business methods, and the permanent business man who must shoulder the burden of government bears the injury. These fakirs jump in and are soon gone. They do not pay one cent of taxes and give nothing for the privileges that they have that are paid for by home people.

Morrow county people will not be bothered much with fakirs after this.

POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

For the coming campaign, the Gazette has been asked for the privilege of space to be used by people who represent different political beliefs. The Gazette is a Republican newspaper, and to be a Republican paper in the broad sense of Republican principles, fairness and justice must be one of the main pillars of support. If other parties desire to promulgate sincere opinions in a fair and reasonable way, with a strict confinement to principles and not personalities, which is only an American principle of freedom, this paper will not refuse such privileges, the matter to be treated as any other advertising matter. The Gazette is not beating around the bush in stating plainly that discussions of this kind under the head of advertisement, will be charged for at the regular commercial rates, no more, no less.

This class of advertising will be charged for for two good reasons.

In the first place, the advertising space of a legitimate and honest newspaper is all that the paper has to sell. It is all that any newspaper ought to sell.

The Gazette cannot afford to pay the expense of distributing the views of the different parties. This paper is forced to charge for its advertising in order to stay in business and make a living for the proprietor, and furthermore, the paper is not an object of charity, but a plain every day business proposition.

In the second place, if the matter is paid for there is no abuse of privileges. Every line that the Gazette prints costs money.

Many people in their earnestness for what they believe, are so unreasonable that if they are given one-half column one week, the next week they want four columns to explain why they used the half column, and if this amount of space is refused, they get mad and call the paper unfair because they are not allowed the whole thing. If the matter is paid for, no privilege is abused. The man gets what he wants, the paper disposes of its stock in trade.
