C. C. Bunnell and wife of The Dalles, have located in Heppner, Mr. Bunnell having accepted a position as plumber with Gilliam & Bisbee.

Regular services at the Baptist church on next Lord's day. The morning subject, "The Law of Christ." The choir will render a good program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Reed, of Pullman, are here to be with the latter's mother, Mrs. Rasmus, who has been quite sick but is now reported much better.

Joseph Vey, one of the pioneer sheepraisers of Eastern Oregon, says that he never saw pelts commanding the price they are now. The usual price is about 10 or 12 cents but now they are selling as high as 16 cents. Sheep are bringing unusually high prices also. Wool promises to bring an excellent price this season if present indications are any criterion.

Geo. Vincent was in Heppner the first of the week.

J. W. Beckett, of Eight Mile, was in the city Tuesday.

M. S. Corrigan, the Butter creek stockman was in the city Friday.

Robert Wilson and Mike Kinney were in Heppner from Sand Hollow Monday.

According to figures compiled from reports from 28 steamship companies during 1905, 77,835 persons crossed the Atlantic first-class, 107,097 second class and 776,330 steerage.

Mrs. Jennie Hasenberg, a sister of Mrs. Henry Blackman, of this city, died at her home in San Francisco, last Monday. She leaves a husband and one son. The funeral occurred yesterday.

State Printer J. R. Whitney, of Salem, was in the city the latter part of last week. Mr. Whitney has been making a tour of Eastern Oregon in the interests of his candidacy. Mr. Whitney feels very much encouraged over the outlook. Morrow county will give him a big majority.

A. L. Ayers came in from Parker's mill Monday and went to Portland, Tuesday on a short business trip. Mr. Ayers informs the Gazette that he is making preparations for a big run with the saw-mill as soon as spring opens. He now has about 300,000 feet of logs in the yard. Sam Carter has the contract for 500,000 feet of logs which will be ready for delivery as soon as the weather will permit.

William B. Parsons, an old resident of Morrow county, and who has been postmaster at Ella, for some time, was brought to this city in charge of Sheriff Shutt and Marshal B. F. Akers, of Ione, in a demented condition last Friday. The unfortunate man was violent at his home and showed a dangerous attitude, making a vicious attack upon his wife just before being taken into custody. It was necessary to tie his hands and feet to bring him from his home to Ione. He was examined by Drs. Kistner and Winnard and was adjudged insane. He was taken to the asylum Tuesday.

A number of sheep buyers are now in Heppner and the market is beginning to show considerable activity. Growers generally are inclined to hold and unusually high prices rule the market. There are about 80,000 head of sheep for sale in Morrow county which is about the usual surplus at this time of year. The sales this week reported are: D. O. Justus, 4,000 mixed yearlings at $2.75 per head. Penland Livestock & Land Co., 2,500 mixed yearlings at $2.75 per head. John Busick, 2,000 at $2.75 per head. J. W. Blake, the Wyoming buyer was the purchaser of the three lots above mentioned.

The highest price ever paid in the history of Gilliam county for yearling sheep was paid Friday by F. G. Oxman of Salt Lake to A. Smythe & Sons of Arlington. The conditions of the contract made it imperative that Smythe & Sons should deliver at the local stockyards 6,000 head of yearlings after shearing time at $3.50 per head. Mr. Smythe says that his yearlings will shear eight pounds per head, and he can contract the wool for 20c per pound any time. The figures mean that a yearling is worth $5.10 in this part of Eastern Oregon. Mr. Smythe has been in the sheep business for years and is considered one of the best dealers in the northwest. He figures that the prospect for the coming season is conducive to the highest record prices in the sheep industry on the coast.

Meetings at the Christian church continue through the week.
