Reports from all over Morrow county are to the effect that the wheat crop is making a wonderful growth since the rains have fallen. Wheat that was badly burned from the dry weather is taking on new life and will now make a fairly good crop. In the Eight Mile country there is every indication of a heavy yield, some of the fields giving promise of 30 bushels to the acre. Grass is also making a vigorous growth and there will be plenty of feed for stock.

MISS GILLIAM WINS.

Receives Highest Number of Votes in Oregonian Contest.

Mayor Frank Gilliam returned from Portland, Monday evening where he had been as one of the judges in the Oregonian's voting contest for a trip to Yellowstone Park.

The contest between Miss Ona Gilliam, of Heppner and Miss Nola Coad, of Dallas, was spirited and was contested to the last minute, however Miss Gilliam came out with 25,000 votes to spare. Miss Gilliam is receiving the congratulations of her many friends on her success.

James Carty will start in about 10 days for his old home in Ireland where he will make an extended visit.

V. H. Heath, deputy game and forestry warden, was in from his mountain home, above Hardman, the latter part of last week. Mr. Heath reports that he has torn out a lot of trout traps which have been put in on Wall creek, contrary to law. Mr. Heath states that he will enforce the game laws strictly and if the parties who have been putting in the traps can be found they will get into trouble. At one place he found where a ditch had been dug from Wall creek taking out a large amount of water and depositing it in such a way in a pool that fish could not escape. In a shallow pool in this ditch he found a large number of dead trout. The method of draining the smaller streams in order to get the trout from the pools must be stopped says Mr. Heath. He also stated that a few cattle died during the heavy rain of the past week. In the higher altitudes the rain was mixed with snow and it was very bad weather on stock.

Hill Has the Whip Hand.

Tacoma, Wash., June 2.—The report that the Hill and Harriman interests may reach an agreement whereby they will co-operate in the building of a double track down the north bank of the Columbia River is not generally believed here by railroad men. Harriman's title to rights of way on the north bank is nowhere clear, save at the Celilo portage road, and that could be condemned under the defile and canyon act.

"The defeated may surrender," said a prominent railroad man today, one too, who has been in the thick of the north-bank fight, "but he cannot offer a compromise to the disadvantage of the victor. Harriman can't block the north-bank line now being built by Hill. Completed, it will shorten the distance between Portland and Spokane by five or six hours. Harriman thoroughly understands how serious a menace that is to his interests. He is most apt to improve his own line to meet the competition and retaliate by shortening the journey between Portland and the Sound cities.

"But he cannot compromise on a double track down the north bank. Why? The Northern Pacific has already surveyed that route for a double line."

LAND FRAUD CASES.

Honey Comes to Portland Next Month.

Oregon will again become the center of land fraud attraction next month. As soon as Special Prosecutor Honey gets through with the letterbook trial of Binger Hermann in Washington, it is expected that he will come to Portland and resume the trial of important cases pending there.

It is not expected that the Hermann cases in Washington will take much time. Now that the dilatory tactics of the congressional defendant have been put to a corner, and the case is scheduled to come to trial before the 10th of next month, it is expected to finish it in little time. The government's evidence in the letter-book case is believed to be compact in form and little time will be taken up in placing it before the jury. The case is unlike the long conspiracy cases heretofore tried.

District Attorney Bristol has said that it is the policy of the government to complete the land fraud cases between now and fall to clear the docket. This means that the federal court house will be the scene of great activity soon.

Many important cases are pending trial. Among the notables in official rank to stand the shafts of Prosecutor Honey and Bristol are Binger Hermann on the Oregon conspiracy indictments; former United States Attorney John H. Hall; States Senators F. B. Mays, George C. Brownell and Robert A. Booth. Besides these there are many men of prominence in the state and in the east, mostly indicted by the grand jury recently adjourned.

Terror will again strike the hearts of the timber grabbers when the federal grand jury is called into action next month.

According to a dispatch from Portland, United States District Attorney Bristol has received a telegram from Francis J. Honey, special prosecutor in the land fraud cases, apprising him of the fact that the suit of the government against Binger Hermann, involving the alleged destruction of 39 letter press copy books belonging to the general land office, would come up for trial at Washington, D. C., not earlier than June 5, and not later than June 10.

Mr. Honey expressed the opinion that the taking of testimony would not last longer than five days and that in any event he would reach there between June 15 and 20, and be prepared to take up the first of the Hermann cases before Judge Hunt without further delay.
