

The Week's News

Local and Personal Happenings in and About the City.

M. S. Maxwell, of Ione, was in the city the first of the week.

Sage rats are doing great damage to crops in Crook county.

Dr. Winnard Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat. Glasses properly fitted.

Frank Lee has finished his work in the Heppner wool market and left Saturday for Portland.

County School Superintendent S. I. Stratton, of Ione, was a Heppner visitor the forepart of the week.

George W. McHaley, a pioneer of Grant county, died at his home near Prairie City Monday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackman and son Abie, left Wednesday for Sea Side where they will spend a few weeks.

Garfield Crawford returned from Portland, Saturday. He left Monday for Burns where he goes to take charge of a Burns newspaper.

Glasses properly fitted at P. O. Borg's.

Mrs. Cameron and daughters Misses Mabel and Josephine, of Pendleton, who have been visiting Mrs. C. E. Redfield left Monday morning for Pendleton.

Postmaster General Cortelyou believes that a two-cent postal rate with Great Britain is extremely unlikely; or at least not likely to be achieved within a lifetime.

The farm residence on the Shobe place owned by Thos. Quaid and occupied by the Farley brothers was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The house and contents were a total loss.

T. J. Mahoney, the Ione banker came up from Ione, Monday. Mr. Mahoney states that while grain was injured somewhat in the Ione wheat belt during the recent hot spell, still there will be a very good crop.

Work is now progressing on Frank Roberts' new building which will be used as a skating rink. This building which is 49x-120 feet will contain more floor space than any single room in Heppner. There will be a fine hard wood floor and the rink will be one of the finest in the country.

A petition was circulated this week asking for the removal of Victor Heath as deputy game and forestry warden. Investigation indicates that the main reason for the desire to remove Mr. Heath is from the fact that the officer has been diligent in trying to do his sworn duty. In speaking of the matter Mr. Heath said to the Gazette: "As deputy game and forestry warden, I feel that it is my duty to use every effort in trying to see that the laws are enforced. As a special officer I will do my special work without showing favors to anyone. I have been putting in my time and so far have not received one cent for it."

N. Williamson, of Moscow, Idaho, buys the entire stock of the Fair store. A bill of sale has been filed with County Clerk Hill for S. E. Carr to N. Williamson for the merchandise and fixtures of the Fair store. At the time of the Heppner flood, Mr. Giger was owner and manager of the Fair store, at which time Mr. Giger lost his life. Mr. Carr was heavily interested by the sale of merchandise to Mr. Giger and was forced to take over the stock, paying all creditors in full and giving to the widow of Mr. Giger $1000. Since Mr. Carr has come into possession of the Fair he has tried repeatedly to sell. He now makes a complete sale and retires from the mercantile business in Heppner.

HARRIS RIDINGS IN JAIL.

Admits Guilt Making Clear Confession.

Sheriff Shutt arrived Tuesday evening from Creston, Wash., with Harris J. Ridings, a prisoner charged with horse stealing. Ridings, was employed by Ben Swaggart, and a year ago the 21st of last May borrowed a saddle horse from Mr. Swaggart. Coming to Heppner he bought a saddle and riding outfit from Eugene Noble which he was allowed to take without paying for after putting up a plausible story saying that he would pay for the goods as soon as he got his money from Mr. Swaggart. Going to Douglas from Heppner he traded Mr. Swaggart's horse for another which he rode across the mountains to western Oregon. He was followed to his home in Clackamas county by Sheriff Shutt where it was found that he had been warned of the coming of the sheriff. Ridings then went to Weiser, Idaho, finally returning to the Willamette valley again when he was arrested and placed in jail at Silverton. He made his escape by breaking jail at the latter place and from there went to Eastern Washington. In response to circulars sent out by Sheriff Shutt, the sheriff last week received a message that H. J. Ridings had taken out a marriage license. In this way Ridings was located and arrested. Ridings admits his guilt having made a clean confession to Sheriff Shutt.

W. W. Flatt, of the Smith Bros' Sheep company, pleaded guilty at Helena, Mont., to illegally fencing government land. He was fined $500 and jailed for one day.

It has caused more laughs and dried more tears, wiped away diseases and driven away more fears than any other medicine in the world. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. W. P. McMillen, Lexington, Oregon.

The supreme court of Washington has decided that Seattle may not sell water outside its own limits. The decision invalidates a contract between Seattle and Ballard under which the latter place was to obtain water from Seattle's supply.

MARRIED.

BOWKER-GEISIE—At the parlors of the Palace hotel in this city, July 19, 1906, Mr. Albert Bowker and Miss Minnie Geisey, both of Morrow county. Judge J. P. Williams officiating.

DOG POISONER AT WORK.

Canine Victims Were Many Last Sunday.

After a rest for some time Heppner's dog poisoner again got busy last Saturday night or early Sunday morning. No less than 14 dogs were poisoned and some fine animals were killed. The poison was placed in small bits of meat and was scattered over different parts of the town.

Old Duffy, belonging to Frank Roberts, so well known by everybody is among the missing. The blooded setter belonging to W. R. Irwin, got a bad dose but was saved by hard work. One of Ben Patterson's fine dogs was badly poisoned but was saved.

The perpetrator of the cowardly act has not yet been discovered. If he can be found there will be something doing.

State Auditor Bigler, of Indiana, has written to the French Lick Springs company and the West Baden Springs company, both the property of Tom Taggart, treasurer of the national democratic committee, that as a result of the investigations there last week, he finds that the two hotel companies have been engaged in "wanton and wilful violations of the criminal laws" of the state and demands that both companies cease their "unlawful practices."

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at Patterson & Son druggists.
