STRINGENT REGULATIONS.
Product of The Packers Will be Thoroughly Inspected.

Washington, July 27.—Secretary Wilson today made public the regulations under the new law governing the inspection of meat products for interstate and foreign trade. They do not, however, cover the subject of interstate transportation of meat or the microscopic inspection of pork for export. The regulations on these subjects, it is stated, will be issued later. The regulations issued today are stringent throughout, and are in line with the best authorities on the subjects of sanitation, preservatives, dyes, chemicals and condemnation of diseased carcasses. The general regulations provide that the scope of the inspection shall cover all slaughtering, packing, meat canning, salting, rendering or similar establishments whose meat or meat food products, in whole or in part, enter into interstate or foreign commerce, unless exempted from inspection by the Secretary of Agriculture. Under the law the only establishments which may be exempted by the Secretary are retail butchers and retail dealers supplying their customers in interstate or foreign trade, but even these exempted classes are required to submit to the Secretary an application for exemption. All animals, carcasses and meat food products will be subjected to a rigid inspection. Reinspection will be had wherever necessary. The sanitation regulations require the establishments in which animals are slaughtered or meats and meat food products are prepared, cured, packed, stored or handled to be suitable lighted and ventilated, and to be maintained in sanitary condition. All work in such establishments must be performed in a cleanly and sanitary manner. All portions of the buildings must be white-washed or painted, or where it is impracticable, they must be washed, scraped or otherwise rendered sanitary; old floors and old equipment which cannot be made sanitary must be removed and replaced by suitable material. All trucks, trays, chutes, platforms, racks, tables, knives, saws, cleavers and all utensils and machinery used in handling meat must be thoroughly cleaned daily. Employees of the establishments must wear outer clothing of a material that is easily cleaned and made sanitary, and all toilet-rooms and dressing-rooms are required to be entirely separate from apartments in which carcasses are dressed or meats and meat food products are prepared. Managers of establishments will not be permitted to employ any person affected with tuberculosis in any of the departments where carcasses are dressed, meats are handled or meat products prepared. Butchers who dress diseased carcasses are required to cleanse and disinfect their hands and implements before touching healthy carcasses. Employees who are unclean and careless of person will not be allowed to handle meats. Weekly reports on sanitation are to be made by the employees in Chicago on the various departments to the inspector in charge of the station, who in turn must report weekly to the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, but if any unsanitary conditions are detected by any department employe, such conditions must be reported immediately to the inspector in charge, who will report to Washington. The provision relating to dyes, chemicals and preservative is stringent. No meat or meat-food product for interstate commerce shall contain any substance which lessens its wholesomeness, nor any drug, chemical or dye, unless specifically provided by a Federal statute; or any preservative other than salt, sugar, smoke, wood, vinegar, pure spices and, pending further inquiry, salt petre. Meats and food products for export may contain preservatives in proportion which do not conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which they are exported, but all meats or meat-food products so prepared for export must be treated and kept in compartments of the establishment separate and apart from those in which meats and meat food products are prepared for interstate commerce, and be specially labeled and certified and stamped with the word "special." Such meats may not enter domestic trade under any circumstances. The inspection of animals before slaughter, designated in the regulations as the ante-mortem inspection, is changed to conform to the new law, and to give the Secretary of Agriculture authority to require that all animals suspected of disease on this ante-mortem inspection shall be slaughtered separately and apart from all other animals under the careful supervision of Federal inspectors. Heretofore, the ante-mortem inspection has been made in the stockyards at the time the animals arrived, and has covered animals which were to be slaughtered at establishments where inspection was maintained and those which were slaughtered for local trade. The new law does not authorize inspection of animals for local trade. It came to the attention of the department that speculators were taking advantage of this form of inspection, and the farmers who shipped the animals to market were thereby losing several hundred thousand dollars a year. Under the new form of inspection the shipper will be absolutely protected and will receive full price for animals which pass the inspection.

LOSS BY DISASTER.
Insurance Companies Make Returns in San Francisco.

Albany, N. Y., July 29.—State Superintendent of Insurance Otto Kelsey tonight made public the results of his investigation as to the losses of fire insurance companies in the San Francisco disaster.

All joint stock fire and inland marine insurance companies transacting business in the state were called on for a sworn statement as to their losses in California. The companies were asked for the gross amount of insurance involved in risks destroyed or damaged, the deduction for amounts received by reinsurance, the deduction for estimated salvage, the total deduction and the net amount of loss as shown by the records June 30, 1906.

The New York state companies, 47 in number, show the gross amount of insurance involved as $41,110,069; the reinsurance to be recovered $10,834,195; the estimated salvage $7,137,183, and the actual amount of loss $23,138,690.

Returns from other joint stock fire and fire marine insurance companies, 84 in number show the gross amount of insurance $80,423,704; reinsurance to be recovered, $22,130,167; estimated salvage, $11,558,425; actual amount of loss $51,983,111.

The foreign companies, 32 in number, made these returns: Gross insurance involved $101,302,333; reinsurance to be recovered, $32,281,808; estimated salvage, $15,318,859; actual loss, $57,701,856.

The gross amount of insurance involved by all companies was $222,826,307; reinsurance, $65,246,771; salvage, $33,814,468; and actual loss, $132,823,067.

The company with the largest net losses is the Hartford Fire of Connecticut, according to the report. Its loss is $6,186,701.

HIS DECISION IRREVOCABLE.
Roosevelt Reiterates That He Will Not be a Candidate Again.

Peoria, Ill., July 30.—A positive announcement from President Roosevelt that he will not be a candidate for a third term was made today in a letter addressed to Mrs. L. A. Kinney, of Peoria, by Secretary William Loeb, from President Roosevelt. The text of the letter follows: "White House, Oyster Bay, L. I., July 26, 1906. "Dear Madam—Your letter of recent date has been received and I thank you in the President's behalf for calling attention to the inclosed clipping. I would say, however, that the President has nothing to add to the statement issued after his election in 1904. His decision, as announced at that time, is irrevocable. "Yours truly, "WILLIAM LOEB, Secretary to the President."

Stockmen Unite.

Because the live stock commission houses of Chicago and Omaha were not content with a reasonable profit but having the producers under their thumb were able to charge outrageous commissions for selling the fat stock of western ranchmen, the latter determined to organize their own commission houses and James Guina a former Pendleton man is in the city for the purpose of placing a block of stock in the Cooperative Livestock association with Pendleton capitalists.

The new organization for the benefit of stock growers is strongly recommended by the National Woolgrowers' association. The capital stock of the corporation is $10,000, nearly one half of which has already been subscribed. Stockmen are taking kindly to the new concern and are liberal in subscribing to the stock sold.

Branch offices of the company will be established in all the large packing centers of the country and the saving made to the growers will be the difference between the exorbitant charge heretofore maintained and the cost of handling, which will be the figure at which the corporation will give to its patrons.

The immediate cause of the movement by the producers of the west was the raising of rates by the commission firms, the following figures showing a few of the inflated prices:

On sheep or hogs, single or double-deck cars, an increase of $2 per car.
On cattle an increase was effected by means of a minimum of $10 per car, whereas formerly no minimum was established.

On mixed carloads of livestock the increase ranges from $2 to $6 per car. After the new charges had been put into effect by the commission men, protests were made several different times by committees from the various livestock organizations, but without avail.

The action of the stockmen will cause a reduction in cost, it is said, of nearly $3,000,000 every year in the cost of production.—Pendleton Tribune.

TO TAX RAILROADS.
Oregon Commission Figures Show Higher Values.

Salem, Or., July 25.—That railroad property in Oregon was assessed at only $10,815,915 41, when it had a commercial value of nearly $70,000,000, is one of the important and interesting features of the report of the Oregon Tax Commission, which will be presented for the consideration of the next Legislature. These figures relate to valuations in 1904, which was the latest year for which the commission could secure reliable information upon which to base its computations. The Assessors of the several counties, each acting according to plans and ideas of his own, placed various valuations upon railroad bed and rolling stock, and in the aggregate found a valuation amounting to only about 15 per cent of the actual value. At the same time the Assessors listed property in general at about 33 per cent of its actual value.

In placing the value of railroad property in Oregon at $69,411,856, the commission pursued methods of computation somewhat different from those adopted by the United States Census Bureau, which found a still larger valuation, the total reported by the bureau being $75,061,000. Since the Oregon Tax Commission's figures are over $6,000,000 less than those of the Census Bureau, it seems altogether probable that the Commission's calculation has brought a total none too high.

The commission adopted the method which has been approved by the Oregon Supreme Court, which was to ascertain the net earnings of the road and then compute the amount of capital upon which these earnings would pay interest at a determined rate per cent. In the case before the Supreme Court that tribunal used 5 per cent as the rate of capitalization for the reason that the bonds of the company bore that rate of interest.

Big Wheat Sale.

The first wheat sale of any importance this season became known today when it was learned that C. H. Brown & Co., which consists of Messrs Brown, Maloney & Hodgins, had recently contracted their entire yield for the price of 85 cents. The wheat was purchased by the Pacific Coast Elevator company, through Will Moore, local agent.

Thrashing was commenced on the Maloney-Hodgins place over a week ago, and so far about 10,000 bushels have been threshed. The total yield is estimated at 16,000 bushels.

While several small purchases have been made by the various buyers of the city, no deals of importance have been made outside of the above, if the statements of the brokers are to be relied upon.—East Oregonian.
