Her Divorce Portion.
"Mrs. Jones just got a divorce from her husband for throwing salad in her face," said one.
"Did she get alimony?" asked the other.
"No," replied the first. "She got the salad."—New York Press.

LENGTH OF BLACKSNAKES.
Rapidity of Movement Makes Them Seem Louder.
One of the significant features of this snake season, and of any snake season that occurs, which is every year, is the very long length of the blacksnakes that are seen, says the Ohio State Journal. This is not at all remarkable, for about the only thing a blacksnake has to show for itself is its length. It has no musical tail like the rattlesnake, nor the puffed-out head of the hissing viper, nor the livid, languid manners of the house snake—it has only length, and when with amazing speed it whips through the deep grass or dead leaves it seems to be thirty or forty feet long. So truly does this little illusion exist that when a person tells of a blacksnake seven or eight feet long, he prides himself on great modesty of statement. And, by the way, we have noted many blacksnake stories this summer, and we have not encountered a snake under seven feet.

There was that story of a girl out in York State, who heard her little dog barking violently out in the stable. She went there to discover the cause, and lo! that little dog was in fight with a blacksnake seven feet long. It was a great fight and the dog was doing heroic work, keeping the python at bay until the little girl hunted up a pitchfork and with that dispatched the serpent, which, the account says, was seven feet long. Of course, it had to be seven feet, for there is no other kind. There is a moral to this? There is, of course, to every snake story. It is this: Be exceedingly careful not to make bigger than it is the horrible incident in your life which you encounter. See that your blacksnake is under seven feet long.

New Monthly Magazine.
A bright, new monthly magazine has made its appearance on the Pacific coast, and looks as if it had come to stay. It is the Coos Bay Monthly, published at Marshfield, Oregon, the business center of one of the most resourceful districts of the entire Northwest. The November number consists of about 125 pages of good reading matter, mostly local in nature, nicely illustrated, and of general interest to all who wish to know anything of the Great Northwest. The number also contains nearly 30 pages of local advertising. This speaks volumes for the business enterprise and energy of the citizens, as well as for the ability of P. C. Levar, editor and manager, and F. B. Cameron, advertising manager.

Off the Wagon.
Mrs. DeChise—Why are you weeping, dear?

Belief and Understanding.
"Does that man really believe all he says?"
"Believe it!" echoed Senator Sorghum, "why he doesn't even understand it."—Washington Star.

The Ideal Family Laxative is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandrett's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which all we then to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so safe and sure.

Brandrett's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

First Appearance.
"Who are you, sir?" asked Eve, in surprise.
"Madam," answered Adam, with his most engaging smile, "I am Exhibit A of the ethnological department."
It was then that the serpent, having escaped from the zoological department, entered upon the scene, and the real trouble began.

A PUBLIC DUTY.
Montpelier, Ohio, Man Feels Compelled to Tell His Experience.
Joseph Wilgus, Montpelier, O., says: "I feel it my duty to tell others about Doan's Kidney Pills. Exposure and driving brought kidney trouble on me, and I suffered much from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Sometimes there was retention and at other times passages were too frequent, especially at night. There was pain and discoloration. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the first, and soon infused new life. I give them my endorsement."
Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

"You say you wouldn't like to get out?" exclaimed the prison visitor. "Why, I thought you were in for life." "Oh, worse than that, ma'am," replied the convict. "I'm in for a double life, I've got two wives waiting outside."—Philadelphia Ledger.

First Girl—What are you waiting for? Why don't you finish your letter to Ella? Second Girl—I don't know whether to say "Ever yours with trust love," or simply "Yours affectionately." You see, I can't endure Ella—I think she's detestable!—Tit-Bits.

Grace—Oh, Mr. Nocoyn, how lovely of you to bring me these beautiful roses. How sweet they are, and how fresh! I do believe there is a little dew on them yet! Mr. Nocoyn—Well, yes—there is; but I'll pay it to-morrow.—Illustrated Bits.

First Auto in Bogota.
A. G. Snyder, consular general at Bogota, reports as follows, says the New York Times:
"Last week the first automobile made its appearance upon the streets of Bogota and the excitement was unparalleled. Crowds have blocked the highways for squares, rendering traffic almost impossible, and great interest has been aroused as to the possibilities that this mode of transportation may offer in the future."
"This automobile is an American machine, and some business may result from the present enthusiasm. I shall be pleased to receive catalogues from automobile manufacturers of the United States for filing in the reading room here."
"It is rumored that a concession is shortly to be given to a transportation company for the exclusive use of the Camboia road, which leads from the upper Magdalena River to Bogota. Automobiles are to be used exclusively by this company."

Judicial Annals.
The late Justice Daly of New York frequently enlivened the tedium of legal proceedings had before him by his kindly wit.
One day a suit was brought before him in which damages were claimed by reason of an assault. Plaintiff had been knocked down by the defendant and severely punneled while prostrate. One of the witnesses seemed very reluctant to answer the questions put to him on cross-examination, in which he was upheld by the court.
"With all due respect to your honor," complained the attorney for the plaintiff, "the court does not appear to take cognizance of the underlying principle in this case."
"In my opinion," replied his honor, good-naturedly, "the underlying principle in this case is your client, Mr. Attorney."—Harper's Weekly.

Judge and Juror.
Judge Adams, the County Court Judge of Limerick, is one of the wittiest of Irishmen, but occasionally from an encounter he emerges second best. The other day a juror asked to be excused from serving on account of deafness.
"Were you in court during my charge to the jury in the last case?" asked the judge.
"Yes, yer honor," replied the juror. "Did you hear it?"
"Yes, yer honor, I heard every word of it, but I couldn't make any sense of it!"
The reply evoked a roar of laughter, in which Judge Adams heartily joined. But he did not excuse that juror.

Look but Do Not Touch.
"Has your wife got your den fixed up yet?"
"Yes, and you ought to see it. It's the coziest place in the whole house."
"I suppose you find great comfort in it, don't you?"
"Oh, she won't let me go in it. It's merely to look at."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Have You a Friend?

Then tell him about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Tell him how it cured your hard cough. Tell him why you always keep it in the house. Tell him to ask his doctor about it. Doctors use a great deal of it for throat and lung troubles.

"I had a terrible cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it gave me quick and perfect relief. It is certainly a most wonderful cough medicine."—E. S. WITMAN, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.
