Local Notes.

Miss Elza Love, of Wasco, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Lucas.

Heppner merchants report a big holiday trade.

Whit Mauldin came down from the mountains Saturday to spend Christmas.

Chas. W. Fuller was in from his farm Saturday. Mr. Fuller has been seeding during the nice weather. He will seed about 480 acres this season.

The social given by the ladies of the Heppner basketball team at the Commercial club rooms, Saturday evening, was well attended and the evening was very enjoyably spent in playing 500 and dunch.

The ladies of Rawlins W. R. C. will hold public installation of officers at Masonic hall, on Monday evening, January 7. Supper will be served. All old soldiers and their families are invited.

Revival services will begin next Saturday evening at the M. E. church, South, and will continue through next week. Meetings will be held every evening commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Looney will do the preaching.

The rainfall during the past week has been unusually heavy. Heppner's streets and the roads in general are very muddy. The hills are almost as green as they were in the spring and grass is growing rapidly. Stockmen have quit feeding and sheep and cattle are doing well on the ranges. Where is the man that predicted a hard winter?

The old year will be bidden goodbye and good morning will be said to the New Year next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. at the M. E. church. From a tree of evergreen in the evening gifts for 1907 will be distributed, after which the graphophone will sing "The Great Invitation." All are welcome.

The masked skating carnival at the big rink last Thursday evening was largely attended and was a great success. For the best dressed character, a lady from Ione was given the prize. Mrs. W. R. Irwin received the prize for the best sustained character, and Robert Thompson carried off the prize for the most ridiculous makeup.

Earnest Copper, an eccentric character, who has resided in Morrow county for the past 15 years, was taken before Judge T. W. Ayers and was examined by Drs. Kistner and Winnard and was adjudged insane. The unfortunate man was laboring under many delusions, one of his hobbies being the idea that it was necessary for him to take care of all the dogs in the county, Heppner being certainly a good field to work in. Copper's main trouble was an uncontrollable thirst for booze. He was taken to the asylum Monday by an attendant from the asylum. Copper was harmless. His case is said to be a bad one.

The sheep market has been very active of late. Fully 75 per cent of the yearlings have been sold which is about two months earlier than usual for the sales. Prices are ranging from $3.00 to $3.75 for mixed yearlings, which are undoubtedly the highest prices ever paid in Morrow county. The Penland Livestock and Land Co. sold a lot of 5000 lambs for $3.50. C. A. Minor purchased 3100 head of mixed yearlings from W. B. Potter of Spray, to be delivered June 1, 1907, with the wool on, for $4.50 per head. Mr. Minor also purchased 2500 head of Templeton Bros. for June delivery for $4.30 per head.

Carl Rhea is home for the holidays. He is attending business college in Portland.

Clint Gilliam, who is attending business college in Portland, is home for the holidays.

ERRORS OF SPEECH.

Common Abuse of the Verbs to Get, to Lay and to Lie.

The verb to get is one of our much misused words. It means to acquire, win, obtain, and primarily it signifies the putting forth of effort to attain something. Consequently it is not only superfluous, but incorrect, to speak of a man as "getting drowned" or "getting sick," and you may unfortunately "have a cold," but it is impossible that you "have got a cold." At this moment no exceptions occur to the writer to the rule that got should never be used in connection with have, which alone sufficiently expresses possession. Say "I have the picture," not "I have got the picture." "The dog has a broken leg," not "The dog has got a broken leg."

The irregular verbs lay and lie are frequently confounded. Lay is an active or transitive verb, and he is passive or intransitive. We lay things down or have laid them down, but we and things lie at rest. You lie down, have lain down, will lie down or are lying down; she lay down yesterday and is going to lie down this afternoon. A frequent error is to confound the past tenses of these verbs. One should say, "Mary laid the book on the table and lay down herself," but the book lies on the table.

THE STOMACH.

How It is Affected by the Use of Mixed Fatty Foods.

The stomach never has the least power of digesting true fat. This is disposed of in the intestines. When eaten in the ordinary forms, as fat meat, butter, etc., the fat separates out in the stomach and does not in the least interfere with the work of the gastric juice on the other food, but when a fatty food has been intimately mixed with grease the latter prevents the gastric juice getting at the food it could digest. Fish fried in oil or butter is by no means the most marked example, as the fat does not penetrate very deeply. Potatoes mashed with butter are rather worse, and minced vegetables fried with butter are bad offenders. The reason advanced explains why pork is difficult of digestion. The muscular fibres are mixed up with fat cells, and by the liberation of the oil in each they cell the entire pork is made into an oily paste. A very strong stomach will do the work required, but it is not a fair task to impose frequently, and a weak stomach will refuse to do anything beyond reminding its owner by a few stabs that it will not stand such treatment.

AN AFGHAN CUSTOM.

An Afghan is bound by custom to grant a stranger who crosses his threshold and claims protection any favor he may ask, even at the risk of his own life. Yet apart from this he is cruel and revengeful, never forgiving a wrong and retaliating at the first opportunity.

The One to Blame.

"He's bragging that he doesn't owe a cent to any man in the world."
"Well, he doesn't brag that he does not owe me."
"Why not?"
"I'm doing the bragging for that."—Omaha News.

Not money, but the love of it, is the root of evil. The right use of money brings only good.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all the ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-poisonous in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, taking the place of the commonly used alcohol. In its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended. A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

W. A. Ayers, accompanied by his daughter, of Payette, Idaho, is visiting his father Judge Ayers.

A. A. Roberts, Receiver of the United States Land Office at La Grande, spent Christmas with his brother Frank Roberts of this city.

We care not how you suffered, nor what failed to care you, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes the penicil, weakest specimen of man or womanhood strong and healthy. 35 cents. W. P. McMillen, Lexington, Oregon.

Of course you pay your money, But you get your money's worth, For what does money mean to you When Rocky Mountain Tea's on earth? W. P. McMillen, Lexington, Oregon.

Abolish soup from the dinner table, eschew tea and coffee, pass the baked beans with silent contempt, beware the genuine pancake, be not lured into turning traitor to your stomach by America's common enemy, pie; be tranquil and cheerful at mealtimes, even if you are nursing a chronic grouch the rest of the time, and never, never go to bed with your stomach filled.

These are scattering fragments of a thirty-two inch shell of advice fired before the Chicago Medical society by Dr. Edwin B. Tuttle, who lectured on "When to Eat, What to Eat and How to Eat."

"Soup," declared the doctor, "is superfluous in a substantial dinner menu. So is tea and so is coffee and, in fact, any moisture except that which is naturally contained in the foods. Soup in the form of beef broth, without eggs, cereals or vegetables, would starve a dog to death in ten days. Beef tea made from the solid extract sold for the use of invalids is a mere stimulant, a non-nutritious, queer tasting temperance drink. Tea and coffee are not foods, but stimulants. They retard digestion and often cause gastric catarrh, nervousness and insomnia.

"Beans, the dried and baked variety, cooked with salt pork, are baneful. Teamsters, soldiers and Boston intellectuals subsist upon them to some extent. Pass them by."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Belcher Artesian Well. The Belcher well in St. Louis is one of the famous artesian wells of the world. The boring of it was begun in the spring of 1849 by William H. Belcher, who had a sugar refinery near the river a few blocks north of where the Eads bridge now is. After the expenditure of $10,000 the well was in 1854 driven to a depth of 2,199 feet, where a flow of seventy-five gallons a minute was struck, but the water proved to be so impregnated with mineral matter that it was unfit for use in the sugar refinery, for which Mr. Belcher wanted it. It is used now only for medicinal purposes and for sanitary baths.—St. Louis Republic.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Valuable Farm and Outfit Offered for Sale.

Ten hundred and forty acres of deeded land in the famous Butter creek district. Plenty of running water the year round. Four hundred acres of good wheat land. Eighty acres of alfalfa under irrigation. Thirty acres more of fine alfalfa land practically under irrigation. All under fence. $3,000 residence. Good barn and sheepshed, camphouse and other sheds. One of the finest orchards in Morrow county, on the famous Butter creek. This orchard last year netted the owner $500, and the people who bought the fruit picked all of it. The fruits are principally apples and peaches.

The place is completely equipped with everything necessary for farming and stockraising which will go with the ranch at the purchase price as follows: Twenty-three hundred head of first class stock sheep, 32 head of fine Merino and Lincoln bucks, two spans of good mules, one span of fine mares, other young horses, hogs, chickens, and a complete outfit of machinery, all in good condition. Price $30,000. $12,000 down and ten years time on the balance. This place will pay for itself and is one of the best investments in Morrow county.
