THE NEW WAY.

The real result of Oregon's direct primary law is apparent at the present session of the legislature.

What a change.

The ninety members are there to be sure. Sort of just dropped in without any demonstration of no aim and object in life. Never was Salem so quiet during the session of the legislature.

The absence of visitors was noticeable indeed. The many loafing places around the capitol building are silent and lonely.

Outside of the routine business in the two houses, the greatest jazz is the clickety clack of the presses down in the state printing office.

It looks like the large force of overworked clerks will even get tired of the monotony.

The voice and the wishes of the people through the direct primary law have been plainly spoken. Not much has been asked.

Many burdens have been removed from the shoulders of Oregon lawmakers. And why, because it is a question of plain and simple duty. That's all. The big end of political maneuvering is not there because the people have removed the incentives for the fascinating political game.

But the need of the meeting of the legislature has not been removed.

It is down to simply a plain business proposition.

D. A. Knowles was an incoming passenger Wednesday evening from Seattle.

Rev. Dr. Samuel Findlay of Akron, O., recently visited Washington for the express purpose of hearing Senator Dick make a speech. Dr. Findlay is superintendent of a Sunday school in Akron, where years ago Senator Dick was one of his "boys." He says he enjoyed the unique experience of hearing the senator speak.

SHORT STORIES.

In the United States 1,620,000,000 gallons of coffee are drunk every year.

The Naval Young Men's Christian association is making preparations to entertain the sailors of the navies of the world which will center at Jamestown, Va., in 1907.

The largest United States mail ever sent out of New York was the Christmas and New Year's mail for England and France, taken just before the holidays by the big liner Philadelphia, consisting of 3,226 sacks.

The state department has been using a distinctive cord for tying up its official papers for over sixty years. It is known as "official cord" and is about the usual size and is made of silk of three colors intertwined, red, white and blue.

Dr. C. A. Peterson is exhibiting before the Missouri Historical society the largest stone ax ever discovered among the Indian tribes of this country, and it is believed to be the heaviest in the world. It is owned by George M. Huss of Birchwood, Wis.

Harness Horse Gossip.

Fred Teachout will winter at Tecumseh, Mich. Besides his "green" ones he has Long John, pacer, 2:12¼; Nat Gordon, 2:13¼, and Liberty Bell, pacer, 2:19¼.

J. A. Fitzpatrick of Cambridge, Mass., recently purchased a yearling colt, by Bingen, 2:06¼, dam Jolly Bird, 2:15¼, from A. H. Parker of Bedford, Mass.

John Caldwell, by Strathway, reduced his record to 2:08½ at Los Angeles, Cal., when he won the 2:09 trot in straight heats from Helen Norte.

Fast Hockey Teams.

Harvard's hockey team looks to be a mighty good one this season. The intercollegiate champions have a lot of men left from last year. Yale is likely to be a permanent factor in the championship series this time, however. The New Havenites are fast as lightning.

New Western Basket Ball League.

The colleges of the Western Conference Intercollegiate association have formed a basket ball league. Michigan is not a member. An invitation has been sent to Columbia to send a team west some time this season to compete against the champions.

Leads m[illegible] medicines [illegible] composition. [illegible] fore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody, Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Keep your eye pealed for the club dance, on Saturday January 19th, 1907. They are great. Yes, they are the dope and you are invited.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

In the Day's Work.

"And then," according to the author of a late book, "a wild shriek rent the air."

And:

"The two people hiding behind the lilac bushes felt their blood curdle."

And:

"Again came the wild, weird shriek."

And:

"Looking into each other's faces, they found them the color of marble."

And:

"That sound again—that terrifying sound which made the heart stand still and the listeners to gasp for breath."

And:

"With a moan of despair, Aspasia slowly sunk on the cold earth, and Harold stood looking at her like one struck dumb."

And then, after an interval of ten minutes:

"All of a sudden it came to them that the sounds were produced by a mother licking her ten-year-old boy for drinking up the molasses on his way home from the grocery, and life went on with them in the same happy strain as of yore. Life is full of such mistakes, though, and one can't be too careful about getting the labels mixed."—Detroit Tribune.

Resented It.

"Gerald," said the young wife, noticing how heartily he was eating, "do I cook as well as your mother did?"

Gerald put up his monocle and stared at her through it.

"Once for all, Agatha," he said, "I beg you will remember that, although I may seem to be in reduced circumstances now, I come of an old and distinguished family. My mother was not a cook."—Chicago Tribune.

No Time For Details.

An American speeding over the continent of Europe in his automobile asked of his chauffeur, "Where are we?"

"In Paris!" shouted the man at the wheel, and the dust flew.

"Oh, never mind the details!" irritably screamed the American millionaire. "I mean what continent?"—Chicago Post.

At the M. E. Church next Sunday at 11 A. M. the theme of the sermon will be, "The work greater than the workman", with a solo by Mrs. Winnard. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the theme will be Condition and "Character". Welcome.
