

WOMAN AND FASHION

An Attractive Model.
Full skirts cut in narrow gores that serve to bring out the curve of the hips are among the most attractive of the season. The smart model here shown was developed in chiffon broadcloth and may be in round, short round or Empire length. The back may be in habit style or made with an inverted box plait. Etamine, voile, serge and granite cloth will all make up well in this design.

The New Stationery.

No wonder letter writing is becoming a lost art. Fashion now makes the paper so thick that it is about impossible to get more than two sheets into one envelope, and the modish handwriting has grown so large latterly that one barely gets a letter started before two sheets are covered. Pure white and a very delicate pearl are still the leading colors. Monograms are conspicuously large, heavy block letters taking first place when used separately or in a monogram.

Silk Tailor Gowns.

Tailor gowns are made of silk a great deal. For a time the silk tailor gown was regarded as the property of summer and between seasons, but it has been found so smart and effective that winter claims it also. There is a fancy just now for trimming these with braid with rows of stitching between, making a most effective decoration. They are trimmed a good deal and made to look as heavy and rich as possible.

Concerning Feathers.

Flaunting plumage of most vivid colorings decks the winter hats of the woman of fashion, and, curiously enough, not even the most brilliant feathers are left as nature colored them. They are dyed even more brilliantly to suit the millinery freak of the moment. Peacock tail plumage is used in its metallic blue green shade, while the tail feathers of the same bird are dyed a rich brick red.

Fashion Fancies.

Shoes are getting more pointed—definitely so. Those rounded muffs—flat, of course—are as good this year as last, and that's saying a great deal. Short and long neck pieces are both good, the preference a little given to the long. Lynx is more popular than it was last season.

The Corset.

Corsets have changed a great deal. The old idea of a small, round waist is coming back into favor as rapidly as can be, but, like the return of all old ideas, with radical differences. Unlike the trim straight front corset, a poor figure isn't improved by it, but it emphasizes the lines of a good figure in the prettiest possible way.

A New Boot.

A new boot has lately been brought out called the spat boot. It is, as the name implies, a walking boot with an attached cloth spat, which forms the upper part of the boot, but it overlaps the vamp exactly as the spat does and is finished with the little buckle and strap under the foot.

For Young Folks.

Bright red silk, plaided with stripes of brown and dull green, is the fabric used for this very pretty child's costume. The circular skirt has two box plaits laid in the front, and these are trimmed with brown velvet buttons in assorted sizes. The same trimming is repeated upon the front of the waist, which has the plait graduated to accommodate a dainty lace yoke. Ribbon velvet stretched over the shoulders outlines a round collar, and the fullness of the untrimmed sleeves is taken at the wrists with small stitched tucks.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Joseph's Postscript.
There lives near Richmond, Va., a family of some social distinction who have in their employ a small negro boy. Much to the annoyance of the ladies of the household, this pickaninny for a long time would persist in neglecting his nominal duties and would idle about the grounds of the place. Finally one day the mistress of the establishment, adopting a strategic course, handed the boy pencil and paper, saying:
"Here, Joe, write me a letter."
With a grin the lad obeyed. In a short time there came from him a shrill call:
"Mrs. Blank, I've got it wrote! It says: 'Dear Missus—Kin I go down to the croquet court and see 'em play croquet?' Respectfully yours, Joe Jones."
Mrs. Blank, not yet ready to allow him that recreation, said:
"Very well. Now write me a postscript."
Then she forgot all about Joe. Some hours afterward she chanced to observe a note stuck in a door jamb. Opening it, she read the message first written by Joe and underneath it this postscript: "I have went."—Saturday Evening Post.

Young S.'s table manners distressed his father extremely. After repeated rebukes he said sternly:
"My son, do you know what a pig is?"
The small boy looked up for a brief moment from his pudding.
"Um-um," he answered serenely; "it's a hog's little boy."—Lippincott's Magazine.
The Man With a Hobby.
Don't make fun of the man with a hobby. It may be that that very hobby will be the means of the world getting something of great good. All people that have contributed to the sum of human knowledge had a hobby. The man who ranks as an inventor had a hobby once; the minister who gets up in his pulpit has his hobby; the man who sells you goods has the same. In fact, those that do anything at all have a hobby. You may call it by some other name, but the hobby is still there.—Terrell Transcript.

Why Don't Homeseekers Come To Morrow County?

Morrow county produces more wealth per capita than any other county in the state of Oregon. Our territory within county lines is 75 miles in length by 3 miles in width, large enough for a state, but with not enough population for a good sized country village. Only 5000 people in the county.
Every year we grow about 1,000,000 bushels of wheat. This is worth about $700,000.
We have about 225,000 head of sheep worth about $562,000, after shearing while the wool from these sheep will sell for $360,000. Then there are horses and cattle worth at least a half a million more.
These are the main items in the wealth producers.
It don't take much figuring when you look at these figures to come to the conclusion that Morrow county people make some money. We have the soil, the climate and the goods to make good.
Morrow county's climate is pleasant and healthful.
Morrow county people are prosperous. Morrow county people have money. Here in the town of Heppner we have two banks. The First National in published statements shows deposits running from half a million dollars up. Both banks have a big business. Heppner can show the largest bank deposits of any town of its size in the Northwest, and it should be remembered that Lexington, nine miles away, and Ione, 18 miles from Heppner both have banks doing a good business. This looks like Morrow county people have money.
But look here, almost half the population of Morrow county reside in the towns. This leaves only between 3,000 and 4,000 people in a territory 75 miles in length by 35 miles in width. Don't you think there is room for more people?
Ten or twelve years ago land in Morrow county went begging at from $100 to $250 for a quarter section.
Five years ago this land had looked up to $6.00 and $7.00 per acre. Today this land is worth $15 per acre with a few of the choicest lots some times bringing $20 per acre. Now the old timers are wondering why they did not take advantage of this cheap land. They could have made a barrel of money.
Over in the adjoining county of Umatilla wheat lands today are worth from $50 to $75 an acre. On the other side of us is Sherman county with wheat lands selling from $25 up. Here we are between with just as good land land at $15 per acre. Our lands are sure to go up in price. In a few years the people here will be again wondering why they did not buy some of this $15 land. The proposition is the same now as it was a few years ago, but it takes more money. Last year and year before a number of good farmers bought wheat lands and paid for it with the first crop.
Come to Morrow county and investigate this land business.
