Wastefulness of Woodworkers.
In a great number of works and mills wood is being wastefully burned in ordinary furnaces designed for good coal. In some cases wood alone is burned, in other cases it is mixed with coal, either large or small. Indeed, it may be fairly observed that in many works good coal is being burned to consume the wood, a practice not at all uncommon and entirely due to the ignorance of the steam user, who too often is quite satisfied if he can generate such steam as he requires under any circumstances.

In many sawmills, etc., sufficient wood waste is available to provide the whole of the steam power required if such fuel is burned under the best conditions, and in this industry, needless to add, it would be very beneficial if coal accounts could be entirely closed. Such a desideratum, however, will be reached only by burning wood waste under those scientific conditions which will insure the maximum value being secured and fully utilized. The nature of the material is such that it can be best burned outside of the boiler in an external cell or furnace.—W. F. Goodrich in Engineering Magazine.

Jews or Jewels?
Dr. Madison C. Peters, in his newly published "The Jews in America," says that "not Jews, but Jewels, were the real financial basis of the first expedition of Columbus." He continues: "Dr. Kaysersling has, beyond a doubt, pointed out that two Marranos, or secret Jews, Luis de Santangel and Gabriel Sanchez—the former the chancellor of the royal household and comptroller general in Aragon, the latter chief treasurer of Aragon—enormously rich merchants, who enjoyed the favor of Ferdinand and Isabella, supplied the funds needed to fit out Columbus' caravels. Isabella did not sell her valuable jewels to fit out Columbus for his voyage. It is generally supposed that she had already pawned or sold them to defray the expenses of the wars then devastating her country. Dr. Kaysersling clearly shows that the jewel story is false and mythical. In the account book of Luis de Santangel and the treasurer, Francisco Pinelo, extending from 1491 to 1493, Santangel is credited with an item of 1,400,000 maravedis, which he gave to the bishop of Avila for Columbus' expedition."

When London Sheriffs Ate Goose.
Thavie's Inn, in Holborn, a nice quiet spot, was formerly an inn of a canary. Thavie was an armorer of the time of Edward III, probably a Welshman and in all likelihood a "Davie" and perhaps the original Taffy of English prejudice. There were plenty of Welshmen in Holborn in the days of the Plantagenets. They would lie in wait for your worship strutting down from your inn toward the court and offer cheeses of the kind they called Talgar at less than market prices and without paying the city dues.

The city belliffs would run them in if they caught them and generally kept a sharp lookout for forestallers and regraters and people with a taste for bargains. Thus in 1375, one day after dinner, John Clerk, a poulterer, met John Spencer, "with twenty-two geese in Holborn when coming to the city," and forthwith bought the whole flock. He was adjudged a forestaller, and the geese were forfeited to the use of the sheriff, so that there would be a rare goose pie at the next city feast.—London Academy.

Marriage of Consumptives.
The marriage of the tuberculous is perhaps frowned upon by all physicians, the majority of whom would no doubt advocate the prohibition of such unions. It is considerable of a surprise, then, to learn that Dr. Charles Valentino of Paris has declared that these marriages are desirable. He bases his opinion upon the well known fact that the disease itself is rarely if ever transmitted and that there is an immunity possessed by many of the offspring of the tuberculous. He shows that, though this infection is more frequent about the age of twenty, its appearance in those of tuberculous parentage, if they acquire it at all, is somewhere between thirty-five and fifty. He acknowledges that where one partner alone is infected the other is contaminated in 16 per cent of the cases and that this infant mortality is quite high, particularly where both parents are tuberculous, but he thinks that these disadvantages are far outweighed by the advantage of breeding up a race of immunes.—American Medicine.

A Record in Red Tape.
As long ago as Dec. 6, 1877, a young French doctor sent in an application for a small post under government. Another man was appointed to the post, and the doctor, having received no answer to his letter, forgot all about the matter. He was therefore more than a little surprised a few days ago to receive an official document which he was required to fill up in order to get a nomination for the position he had applied for nearly eight and twenty years before. But while the officials had been leisurely replying to his letter the doctor had become a man of importance in the world and has long since ceased to think of such trifles as a small government berth.—London Tatler.

Running Injures the Heart.
The Finnish man, who often runs forty miles a day at his greatest speed, averages only five years at his work, when his heart becomes diseased. It is said the medical director of the Tokyo hospital, who considers the Finnish an instrument of death, exerted his influence to prevent its introduction as a feature at the St. Louis exposition.

Why Don't Homeseekers Come To Morrow County?

Morrow county produces more wealth per capita than any other county in the state of Oregon. Our territory within county lines is 75 miles in length by 3 miles in width, large enough for a state, but with not enough population for a good sized country village. Only 5000 people in the county.

Every year we grow about 1,000,000 bushels of wheat. This is worth about $700,000.

We have about 225,000 head of sheep worth about $562,000, after shearing while the wool from these sheep will sell for $360,000. Then there are horses and cattle worth at least a half a million more.

These are the main items in the wealth producers. It don't take much figuring when you look at these figures to come to the conclusion that Morrow county people make some money. We have the soil, the climate and the goods to make good.

Morrow county's climate is pleasant and healthful. Morrow county people are prosperous. Morrow county people have money. Here in the town of Heppner we have two banks. The First National in published statements shows deposits running from half a million dollars up. Both banks have a big business. Heppner can show the largest bank deposits of any town of its size in the Northwest, and it should be remembered that Lexington, nine miles away, and Ione, 18 miles from Heppner both have banks doing a good business. This looks like Morrow county people have money.

But look here, almost half the population of Morrow county reside in the towns. This leaves only between 3,000 and 4,000 people in a territory 75 miles in length by 35 miles in width. Don't you think there is room for more people.

Ten or twelve years ago land in Morrow county went begging at from $100 to $250 for a quarter section.

Five years ago this land had looked up to $6.00 and $7.00 per acre. Today this land is worth $15 per acre with a few of the choicest lots some times bringing $20 per acre. Now the old timers are wondering why they did not take advantage of this cheap land. They could have made a barrel of money.

Over in the adjoining county of Umatilla wheat lands today are worth from $50 to $75 an acre. On the other side of us is Sherman county with wheat lands selling from $25 up. Here we are between with just as good land land at $15 per acre. Our lands are sure to go up in price. In a few years the people here will be again wondering why they did not buy some of this $15 land. The proposition is the same now as it was a few years ago, but it takes more money. Last year and year before a number of good farmers bought wheat lands and paid for it with the first crop.

Come to Morrow county and investigate this land business. Following are a few samples of what we have for sale:
