THURSDAY....February 28, 1907

Now let us help the railroad commission to do something.

The evidence in the Thaw trial would indicate that a fast life is not what it is cracked up to be.

Come to the Gazette office and get your early garden seeds free, now that spring is here. The government pays for the seeds.

The ladies of the Heppner basket ball team who played the Ione ladies last Saturday, speak very highly of the courteous treatment and friendship shown by the people of Ione.

A business representative of John D. Rockefeller says that the poor old fellow's fortune has been greatly over estimated. He is only worth $300,000,000 which brings in the paltry income of from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 yearly. Poor old man.

From all over the country comes the same story of the scarcity of labor. In Canada, the great activity of railroad building has created a demand for men in railroad construction work that cannot be supplied. Contractors are scouring the country and even looking to Europe for some means to relieve the situation. Sixty thousand men are needed for railroad work alone in Canada.

Early spring crop prospects were never better in Morrow county. Owing to the fact that the grain belt was well covered with snow, during the cold weather of last month, grain was not injured, and has already commenced to make a vigorous growth under the influence of the warm weather. During the past winter the percipitation of moisture has been unusually great and the ground is now wet down deeper than it has been for a number of years. A prominent wheat grower of the Eight Mile district informs the Gazette that present conditions would indicate a crop for 1907 equal to the bumper crop of 1891 The acreage in this county this year will hardly be up to the average.

Local Notes.

Eben Andrews was in town from his ranch near Jordan Siding, Monday.

A C. Pettys, the pioneer farmer of the Jordan district, was a business visitor in Heppner, Monday.

Geo. H. Goebel, national organizer and lecturer for the Socialist party, will speak in Heppner on March 13.

V. B. McComb and son shipped a train load of cattle to Bozeman, Mont., Monday. They had been ready to ship for over a month, but were held up on account of blockaded railroads.

Three salesman for our new county, township and railroad surveys of Oregon. These surveys are a splendid compilation of facts, figures and drawings, and of wonderful value. Counties and towns plainly shown and distances between all stations also shown; congressional districts outlined, numbered and populations given. Other features too numerous to mention. A splendid opportunity for energetic man.

The committee of stockmen desire to recomend that the season for opening the Heppner Forest Reserve for grazing in 1907 as follows:

Five mile and Taylor creek, cattle and horse range, be opened from May 20 to Oct. 15.

Madison Butte, June 1 to Oct. 15.

Lower Potamus, March 1 to Feby. 28 of the following year.

Willow creek, May 20 to Oct. 15.

On eight acres of land J. F. Danien of Bristol, Vt., raised 250 bushels of onions, 2,200 bunches of small onions, 13,000 cabbages, 900 cauliflowers, 100 bushels of cucumbers, 100 bushels of turnips, 100 bushels of table beets, 150 bushels of green peas, 200 bushels of potatoes and three acres of sweet corn

The modern steam turbine was in some respects anticipated by an invention of an Italian architect named Branca, who lived in the seventeenth century. In far more distant times the engine devised by Hero was at least a hint of the turbine which is now making headway against the familiar reciprocating steam engine.

A novel and apparently successful burglar alarm which was recently put up in the store of a Baltimore grocer has the merit of simplicity and cheapness. He placed over the door of the grocery an ordinary shovel, hung on a nail so that when the door opened the shovel would fall and make a racket. Burglars visited the place the other night, the shovel did all that was expected of it, and the burglars, alarmed by the noise, took to their heels.

S. S. Wertz of Altoona, Pa., has come into possession of a valuable and historic heirloom. It is a watch that was once owned by Lafayette. He came by the watch through the death of a relative, John Van Pelt, at Germantown. The watch, a rather unique timepiece, was made by Gregson, Paris, for Lafayette. It is made of gold and is studded with some 480 pearls, and instead of a mainspring a small chain encircles the drum and keeps the watch in motion.

Johnson has wholly abandoned said tract; that he has changed his residence therefrom for more than six months since making said entry; that said tract is not settled upon and cultivated by said party as required by law; that he has never resided upon said land and that said absence from said land was not due to his employment in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States. The SPORTING WORLD

Iceboating Season.

Ice boat races are now at the height of the season's activity. In New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois thousands of daring ice sportsmen are endeavoring to lower previous records.

The ice boat is the fastest racing machine in existence, excelling at times the speed of even the swiftest of automobiles. A few years ago an ice boat on the Shrewsbury river, New Jersey, covered part of a course at the rate of a mile in 33 seconds. That terrific rate of speed is still the world's record.

American League Topics.

Rube Waddell, the famous pitcher of the champion Philadelphia Athletics, may be sold or traded to the Boston American team before the beginning of the next championship campaign. Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, was in Buffalo in conference with Manager Collins of the Bostons, and the deal whereby Waddell will become a member of the Puritans may be announced soon.

One of the reasons assigned for Mack's willingness to let Waddell go is the coldness of the Philadelphia fans toward Rube. When the big twirler broke down last fall part of the Quaker fans thought his ailment was not genuine, although the management was thoroughly convinced that the famous "southpaw" was "all in" at the finish of the season. On account of Waddell's eccentricities and desire to stand high in the estimation of the rooters Manager Mack is afraid that Waddell would not be at his best if the fans were indifferent about his work.

"Rube has got to be the whole show wherever he is," said Mack, "and if the Philadelphia people failed next spring to warm up to his pitching and rave over his actions on the ball field he might soon lose heart in his work, and so I think he would do better work with some other team, but the deal is by no means consummated."

President Johnson of the American league was with Mack. He announced his staff of umpires for the coming season. The name of Jack Sheridan heads the list, although that veteran has not yet signed his contract. If he signs the staff will include Sheridan, Connolly, O'Loughlin, Hurst, Connor, Evans and Conlhan. Jack McCarthy is not to be retained next season, probably on account of the numerous rows he had with players.

Wicker Signs 1906 Contract.

The great pitcher, Bob Wicker, has signed his contract to pitch for the Chicago Nationals in 1906 and during a talk with President Murphy said he considered the team much stronger, with the addition of Moran, Sheckard and Steinfeldt than it was last season.

Former Manager Frank Selee was heard from, too, his letter from Faywood, N. M., reaching the office of the Cubs' president the other morning. Mr. Selee congratulated the Cubs upon the acquisition of Sheckard and stated that the Chicago Nationals looked stronger than they ever had to him.

Forest and Pure Air.

A Parisian scientist, while testifying to the greater purity of the air in the vicinity of forests, does not attribute the cause to a greater richness in oxygen—the quantity of the latter being the same in the atmosphere of woods as in plains—but to the absence of those agents which vitiate the atmosphere of towns. When forests are not surrounded by marshes a well treed region is next to exempt from epidemics. Versailles is a case in point. It is surrounded by a screen of forests. Epidemics are unknown, yet the city has the most wretched water.
