

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

President of the New York Life.
Alexander E. Orr, who succeeded John A. McCall as president of the New York Life Insurance company, has been first vice president of that institution since the resignation of George W. Perkins from that office and is also president of the rapid transit commission of New York city.

Mr. Orr's salary will be $50,000 a year, just half that paid to President McCall. He will not, it is understood, resign the presidency of the rapid transit board so long as his duties do not conflict. On this account and because

ALEXANDER E. ORR.

He is nearly seventy-five years old it is believed he will not remain permanently in his new office.

When asked if there would be any general scaling down of salaries under his administration Mr. Orr said:

"It is my judgment that the organization of the working force is excellent, and I have not in my observation come across any officer of the company whom I did not think to be earning his salary."

Didn't Know.

L. White Busby, secretary to Speaker Cannon, is one of the best dressed men at the national capital. He is a constant companion of Mr. Cannon, who is somewhat careless of his attire. Mr. Busby is a handsome man. He wears a vandyke beard and as a rule affects a silk hat. Mr. Cannon and Mr. Busby strolled in front of an up-town hotel one evening recently. Two men were standing in front of the desk, one of them a man around town and the other a stranger. Mr. Cannon wore a slouch hat, and his cigar pointed toward his nose. Secretary Busby was faultlessly attired. "Why, there's Speaker Cannon," said the man around town. "He's a handsome fellow," said the stranger, "but who's the old duffer with him?"—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Heads New York's Police.

Brigadier General Theodore A. Bingham, U. S. A., retired, the new police commissioner for New York city, is a West Point graduate and forty-seven years old. He was retired from the army because of physical disability. While in charge of government work in Buffalo a couple of years ago General Bingham was struck by a falling derrick and so badly injured that one of his legs had to be amputated.

For six years prior to 1903 he was military aid of the president and superintendent of public buildings and grounds of the District of Columbia. By virtue of his office he had charge of the White House and was major domo of official and social receptions.

It is related of him that on one occasion when there was a social function of importance at the White House and a large number of guests were present one of the guests, a well known senator, began the narration of a story in a tone which attracted attention throughout the room. General Bingham saw that the president was annoyed. Without waiting for anything further he stepped up to the senator and said:

"The president desires to have quiet." The senator was extremely wrath, but it made no difference to General Bingham. He had merely stopped a rude interruption of what was going on.

Anecdote of Paderewski.

Paderewski accompanied a cellist at one of his concerts. He was a rather testy German, who throughout the selection kept grumbling about the volume of Paderewski's playing. Finally he told the great pianist that he could not hear himself at all, to which Paderewski replied, "Well, you're lucky!"

King Hakan a Humorist.

King Hakan, who was recently chosen to the throne of Norway, has a keen sense of humor. When told that he had been elected king of the Norwegians he laughed heartily.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Household Hints.

To polish silver, brass, etc., make a polishing soap as follows: Dissolve eight ounces of good hard soap in four ounces of boiling water. When cooling add one and a half ounces of turpentine and later on stir in three ounces of strong ammonia water. Keep well covered.

When washing black yarns or calicos make the bluing water almost black with bluing, as it renews any of the dye that may have come out in the washing.

When washing a white dress that has become yellow put a few drops of turpentine into the water and then lay in the sun and dry.

To make wash silk look like new put a teaspoonful of wood alcohol to every pint of water when rinsing and iron when damp.

Washing Woolen Dresses.

Flannel, cashmere or almost any all wool dress goods that are to be made over may be washed without shrinking or fading if handled properly.

Take the garment apart and brush it until the dust and lint are removed. Use soft water and heat it until it is a little warmer than new milk. Dissolve enough fine soap in it to make a strong suds and wash the cashmere or flannel in it, just as you would wash anything else. Rinse in water heated to the same temperature.—McCall's Magazine.

The Kitchen Linoleum.

If the kitchen floor is painted or covered with oilcloth it will save much cleaning. Oilcloth and linoleum should be washed in the ordinary way with warm water and soap, then wiped over again with clean, warm water and dried with a soft cloth. If water is left on the oilcloth it is inclined to rot it; therefore it is important that it should be dried thoroughly. Turpentine and linseed oil mixed form a good preparation for restoring the brightness to oilcloth which has become dull.

A Curious Sign.

If you are in a certain Irish town and are looking out for lodgings you would probably come to the conclusion that none are to be had, for, search as you will for the familiar "Apartments to Let" notice so often seen in the windows of houses in other places, you will search in vain. Instead you may observe fastened by the flap to the window a clean white envelope. This is an indication to all whom it may concern that apartments are to be had within. This curious custom is greatly in vogue at the seaside health resort, Kilkee, County Clare, where all houses that have apartments to let exhibit a white envelope.

Faith and Works.

A pretty anecdote is related of a child who was greatly perturbed by the discovery that her brothers had set traps to catch birds. Questioned as to what she had done in the matter, she replied, "I prayed that the traps might not catch the birds." "Anything else?" "Yes," she said; "I then prayed that God would prevent the birds getting into the traps, and," as if to illustrate the doctrine of faith and works, "I went out and kicked the traps all to pieces."—Household Words.

The One Thing Lacking.

Anxious Mother—Why don't you marry young Swansen? He has good looks, good family, wealth and everything to be desired. Pretty Daughter—But there is one very important thing lacking, mamma. Anxious Mother—What is that? Pretty Daughter—A proposal.

A Good Distinction.

"Remember, son," said Uncle Eben, "dat in dis life you's bound to do some things you's sorry for, but dat ain't no reason for doin' nuffin' dat you's ashamed of."—Washington Star.

Why Don't Homeseekers Come To Morrow County?

Morrow county produces more wealth per capita than any other county in the state of Oregon. Our territory within county lines is 75 miles in length by 3 miles in width, large enough for a state, but with not enough population for a good sized country village. Only 5000 people in the county.

Every year we grow about 1,000,000 bushels of wheat. This is worth about $700,000.

We have about 225,000 head of sheep worth about $562,000, after shearing while the wool from these sheep will sell for $360,000. Then there are horses and cattle worth at least a half a million more.

These are the main items in the wealth producers.

It don't take much figuring when you look at these figures to come to the conclusion that Morrow county people make some money. We have the soil, the climate and the goods to make good.

Morrow county's climate is pleasant and healthful.

Morrow county people are prosperous. Morrow county people have money. Here in the town of Heppner we have two banks. The First National in published statements shows deposits running from half a million dollars up. Both banks have a big business. Heppner can show the largest bank deposits of any town of its size in the Northwest, and it should be remembered that Lexington, nine miles away, and Lone, 18 miles from Heppner both have banks doing a good business. This looks like Morrow county people have money.

But look here, almost half the population of Morrow county reside in the towns. This leaves only between 3,000 and 4,000 people in a territory 75 miles in length by 35 miles in width. Don't you think there is room for more people?

Ten or twelve years ago land in Morrow county went begging at from $100 to $250 for a quarter section.

Five years ago this land had looked up to $6.00 and $7.00 per acre. Today this land is worth $15 per acre with a few of the choicest lots some times bringing $20 per acre. Now the old timers are wondering why they did not take advantage of this cheap land. They could have made a barrel of money.

Over in the adjoining county of Umatilla wheat lands today are worth from $50 to $75 an acre. On the other side of us is Sherman county with wheat lands selling from $25 up. Here we are between with just as good land and at $15 per acre. Our lands are sure to go up in price. In a few years the people here will be again wondering why they did not buy some of this $15 land. The proposition is the same now as it was a few years ago, but it takes more money. Last year and year before a number of good farmers bought wheat lands and paid for it with the first crop.

Come to Morrow county and investigate this land business.
