Pure Blood

Is certain if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine cures those eruptions, pimples and boils that appear at all seasons; cures scrofula sores, salt rheum or eczema; adapts itself equally well to, and also cures, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles; cures rheumatism and catarrh; cures nervous troubles, debility and that tired feeling.

Mrs. C. K. Tyler, Burlington, Vt., says: "The cares of a large farm, so much to do and so little health to do it with, caused almost a complete break down; blood poor and thin; no strength, little sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave appetite, natural sleep, perfect health, strength to do all my work."

Sarsatabs—For those who prefer medicine in tablet form, Hood's Sarsaparilla is now put up in chocolated tablets called Sarsatabs, as well as in the usual liquid form. Sarsatabs have identically the same curative properties as the liquid form, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy,—no loss by evaporation, breakage, or leakage. Druggists or promptly by mail. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Singer's Lungs.

The singer at the end of the practice aria panted heavily. "I sang one hundred and ninety-six notes that time," he said, "without once taking breath."

"Indeed! That must be a record."

"No. The record is held by Courtice Pounds. Pounds sang three hundred and sixteen notes without respiration in 1898. The record previous to that was held by Farinelli, with three hundred notes. Norman Salmond has sung two hundred and eighty-seven notes in this way. The average man could hardly sing fifty notes without breathing; to the singer two hundred would be nothing.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Refused to Wither Away.

Miss Ascum—Jack Hanson isn't fat, is he?

Miss Newitt—Not at all; he's quite graceful and muscular. Why?

Miss Ascum—I happened to mention him to Miss Jilter, and she said: "Oh! isn't he disgustingly stout?"

Miss Newitt—Ah, yes. She rejected him some weeks ago and she's mad because he didn't pine away.—Philadelphia Press.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY.

A Woman Who Has Suffered Tells How to Find Relief.

The thousands of women who suffer backache, languor, urinary disorders and other kidney ills, will find comfort in the words of Mrs. Jane Farrell, of 606 Ocean ave., Jersey City, N. J., who says: "I reiterate all I have said before in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had been having heavy backaches and my general health was affected when I began using them. My feet were swollen, my eyes puffed, and dizzy spells were frequent. Kidney action was irregular and the secretions highly colored. Today, however, I am a well woman, and I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills have made me so, and are keeping me well."

Poor Christmas Fare.

A delegation of fellow townsmen recently called on Rufus K. Combs, of Midway, Ky., to congratulate him on the receipt of a Carnegie medal.

As his friends were taking leave Mr. Combs wished them all a merry Christmas.

"And I hope," he ended, "that you'll have a more bountiful dinner than fell to the lot of a young friend of mine last year.

"He, the poor chap, was stopping at a cheap New York boarding house, and on Christmas day, after he had eaten a turkey neck, a potato and a splinter of sodden mince pie, the landlady said to him, as he rose just as the weak coffee was brought on:

"'Oh, don't leave thme table, Mr. Smith.'

"'I must, madam,' said Smith, grimly. 'It's hard wood, and my teeth are not what they used to be.'"

His Constancy.

A story is told of General Sir Alfred Horsford, who believed in a celibate army. A soldier once sought his permission to marry, saying he had two good conduct badges and $25 in the savings bank. "Well, go away," said Sir Alfred, "and if you come back this day year in the same mind you shall marry. I'll keep the vacancy." On the anniverasry the soldier repeated his request. "But do you really, after a year, want to marry?" "Yes, sir, very much." "Sergeant major, take his name down. Yes, you may marry. I never believed there was so much constancy in man or woman. Right face. Quick march!" As the man left the room, turning his head, he said: "Tank you, sir. It isn't the same woman."

How Colors Affect Mentality.

There are good and evil effects even in color, not only in the inartistic arrangement of them to the trained eye of an artist, but in plain every-day red and blue and green, to say nothing of others.

According to Medical Talk for the Home, if a person were confined in a room with purple walls, with no color but purple around him, by the end of a month he would be a raving madman. Scarlet has even worse effects. Blue is very depressing; hence "the blues." Green is quite soothing, and yellow also has good effects on the vision and spirits of most people.

The Soft Answer.

"I have already said 'No' to you, Mr. Vere," said Miss Bute. "I don't seem to be able to make myself plain, although I have tried—"

"Ah, Miss Bute," interrupted Percy Vere, "you couldn't do that, no matter how you try."

"Well—er—of course, I shall always be glad to have you call upon me, Mr. Vere."—Philadelphia Press.

WIT OF THE YOUNGSTERS.

Teacher—Johnny, what is the future tense of "He drinks?" Johnny (promptly)—He's drunk.

Teacher—Willie, can you tell me why the multiplication table stops at 12? Willie—I guess it's because 13 at a table is unlucky.

Teacher—Now, Johnny, you may give me the definition of "exercise." Johnny—Exercise is work what a fellow likes to do because it isn't work.

"They say that I have cut a tooth,"
Said the babe with mournful glee;
"But if they'd only tell the truth,
They'd say the tooth cut me."

Teacher—Why, Freddie, this excuse doesn't look like your father's writing. Freddie—Well, the next one will look more like it, I guess. He says my penmanship is improving.

Small Tommy after being severely chastised by his mother for disobeying her ran to his father and said between sobs: "Papa, how d-did you c-come to m-marry such a w-woman as m-mamma is?"

Mamma—If you had two peanies, Willie, and I was to give you three more, how much would you have? Willie—Make it dollars, mamma. What's the use of being stingy with make-believe money?

A little fellow, age 4, accompanied his father to Lincoln Park one day, where he saw a diminutive monkey with whose playful antics he was greatly pleased. "What did you see, dear?" asked his mother upon his return home. "A funny little boy with a tail," replied the small observer.

"What's the matter, pet?" asked a mother of her 3-year-old daughter, who was crying. "S-somfin' dweadful h-happened," sobbed the little one. "Well, what was it, darling?" queried the mother, anxiously. "My d-dolly dot away f-fwom me an' b-bwoked a d-dish in ze p-pantwy," she sobbed.

JEWELS IN BOOT LEATHER.

Diamond-Set Dancing Pumps Will Soon Be Fashionable Rage.

It is said that a manufacturing jeweler in New York has invented a device for setting gems in boot leather; that diamond-set dancing pumps will soon be the rage; that diamond-toed boots will eventually be so common as not to attract attention in Broadway or in 5th avenue.

Here is merely a return to ancient luxury. The "campagus," the most ordinary footgear of the Roman emperors, was often enriched with pearls and diamonds. Roman women had shoes with soles of solid gold, shoes that sparkled with precious stones. Heliogabalus, who never wore a pair of boots twice, insisted on exquisite cameos as decorations, but he forbade women to wear gems attached to their shoes. High priests were coquettish also in this manner. Alcibiades invented a boot that became the fashion, but we believe it was gemless.

Let us go through the centuries. Charlemagne wore shoes adorned with gems and richly ornamented foot coverings were worn by the nobility of Europe, both by lords and noble dames in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. In the time of Charles I. of England the extravagance was shoe strings edged with gold. Louis XIV. wore at his wedding boots adorned with fleurs de lis and decorations of gold, but how did they fit him? For the shoemaker, Lestage, disdained to take the royal measure. Toward the close of the eighteenth century in England shoe buckles dazzled with jewels.

A millionaire is now a person whose income is a million. A capital of a million is nothing. When General Jung Bahawther took his seat at the ball given in London by the Peninsular and Oriental Company—

Bedad his troat, his belt, his coat,
All bleezed with precious minerals,

Why should not the suddenly rich, the heroes of the American nights, more wonderful than the nights of Arabia, break out all over with diamonds as poorer mortals with measles or the shingles?—Boston Herald.

To Be Refilled.

One of the suburbs of Chicago is the site of a well-known school of theology, from which go out each week-end many members of the senior class to try their voices as "supplies."

A passenger on a Monday morning train was surprised at the number of them who got off at the station.

"What are all those chaps getting off here?" he asked the brakeman.

"Them?" asked the brakeman. "Oh, they're returned empties, for the college."

Histrionic.

There was on the stage a realistic scene in which a surgical operation was apparently performed.

"Hold on-" cried a voice from the audience. "Aren't you going to give us some of that chloroform?"

Of course the management was displeased, but there is a point at which realism palls.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hereditary.

"Your son is a great football player."

"Yes; it is hereditary."

"I never heard that his father was a football player."

"He isn't, but he is a chronic kicker."—Houston Post.

Women can always see the point of a pointless joke.

Pale, Thin, Nervous?

Then your blood must be in a very bad condition. You certainly know what to take, then take it—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If you doubt, then consult your doctor. We know what he will say about this grand old family medicine. Sold for over 60 years.

This is the first question your doctor would ask: "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that daily action of the bowels is absolutely essential to recovery. Keep your liver active and your bowels regular by taking laxative doses of Ayer's Pills.

In the Coming Days.

Husband—Maria, this is going to be a closely contested election, and we've got to get everybody out. You'll have to hurry, or you'll be too late.

Wife—Gracious, John! I can't vote to-day. There's no use in talking about it. I haven't a thing that's fit to wear to the polls.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

System.

Railway Magnate—I don't see how the accident could have happened. We run our road on the block system.

Unreasonable Person—I know it. You're so busy running out blocks of watered stock that you can't pay any attention to the way you run your trains.

Comparisons.

Mrs Kross-Rhodes—Still, in the city there is more going on. You have ever so much more variety than we do out here.

Mrs. Avnoo—Ah, me, yes! In the last year I have tried cooks of seventeen different nationalities, and haven't found one to suit me yet.

Not Quite in His Line.

Kind Hearted Woman—Why don't you give up your idle, useless way of living and make a man of yourself? I don't suppose it ever occurred to you that even a person of your stamp might be useful in settlement work.

Goodman Gonrong—No, ma'am. I've done a little flat workin', but workin' a whole settlement is too dog-gone risky.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Gets Back at Him.

Newed—When you say anything that makes your wife angry what does she do—threaten to return to her parents?

Oldwed—Worse than that. She repeats some of the fool things I said during our courtship.

Stimulate the Blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the great blood purifier. They are a laxative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors and cure all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood. One or two taken every night will prove an invaluable remedy.

Each pill contains one grain of solid extract of sarsaparilla, which, with other valuable vegetable products, make it a blood purifier of excellent character.

Brandreth's Pills have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

A Pretty Experiment.

A very pretty effect may be produced by using some aniline dye in powdered form in alcohol. Fill a small glass with the alcohol and drop the smallest portion of the dye on its surface. It will shoot down through the liquid, like a strand of color, dividing into two branches, which will subdivide again and again until you have, apparently, an inverted plant in miniature growing before your eyes. An arrangement of mirrors may be made to throw the reflection of this on a screen or a wall, and the enlarged shadows will be very interesting to watch.

It Happens Every Night.

At the end of one of the sessions of the world's convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Boston, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens condemned the habit which so many men have of going out between the acts at the theater.

"I am in hearty sympathy," said Mrs. Stevens, "with a woman whose husband said heartily to her, at the end of an interesting drama:

"'Jove, what a play. I don't believe there was a dry eye in the house when the curtain went down on the third act.'

"'No,' said the lady, bitterly, 'but there seemed to be the usual number of dry throats.'"

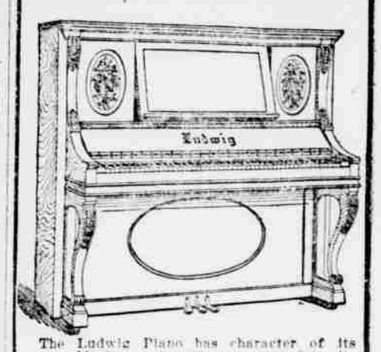
This is Your Piano



The Ludwig Piano has character of its own. Musicians intuitively recognize its charm. Tone is its chief characteristic—so refined and sympathetic; so wonderful in its sweetness and purity that you marvel at its source. From the very beginning the principle was fixed to give the utmost quality at a certain price—high enough to allow the best of everything; low enough to only yield a reasonable profit without any additional charge for reputation.

The above piano is Style I—price $375, delivered at your railroad station, with stool, scarf and instruction book. If desired you may pay $37.50 cash and the balance in monthly or quarterly payments. We furnish this piano in oak, walnut or mahogany.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED when you trade with Sherman, Clay & Co. First you know the price is right. Every piano is marked in plain figures. One price—no more—no less. Second the standing of this old firm is a guarantee that all your dealings will be satisfactory.

Besides the Ludwig piano we are sole agents for Steinway, Knabe, A. B. Chase, Everett, Mason & Hamlin, Packard, Fischer, Conover, Estey, Kingsbury Emerson, Sterling, Wellington, Huntington and Mendelssohn. We also sell organs and Victor Talking Machines. We have a fine six octave organ at $80. Write for catalogue, prices and terms. Be sure and mention that you saw the advertisement in this paper.
