Facts About Coffee. Coffee originally came from the island of Mocha, when in the year 1616 coffee trees were transported to Holland. This article of diet was first scientifically cultivated at Surinam by the Dutch in 1718. Though coffee was not known either to the Greeks or Romans, it was used as a beverage by the Persians in early times. The first coffee house of which there is any record was opened in Constantinople in 1511, and coffee was first brought to France in 1662 by Thevenet, the famous traveler.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood, instead of being removed from the body daily as nature intended. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills, liver pills. All vegetable. Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of HAIR VIGOR, AGE CURE, CHERRY PECTORAL.

Ready for Him. Last summer a well-known professor with his family went to a small seaside resort on the New Jersey coast and boarded with a farmer. This year he wrote to the farmer, and in his letter he said: "There are several matters I should like changed if I board at your house again. We do not like your servant Jane and we think a pigsty so near the house is not sanitary." The farmer replied, "Jane is west and we ain't had no hogs since you went last August."

How to Make a Furniture Polish. To make a furniture polish use one ounce of brown beeswax, one-half ounce of white wax, one-half ounce of castile soap, one-half pint of turpentine and one-half pint of water. Shred the brown and white wax into a jar (a two pound jam jar will do), add the turpentine and let it stand on the stove until dissolved. Shred the soap and let it boil in the water until quite dissolved. Allow to cool, then pour into the jar and stir all the ingredients together. When cold, it will be a thick cream and must be kept air tight. For old furniture this produces a deep, glowing polish quite different from any other, and it does not finger mark.

Why One Family Will Not Take a Colored Maid to France Again. "My wife and I went to France not long ago to see her parents, who live in that country, and we took along my wife's maid, an extremely efficient colored girl, who has been in the family a long time," said J. T. Lenert, of New Orleans at the New Willard, according to the Washington Herald. "This girl, besides being an excellent creature, is about the complexion of the ace of spades, the deepest of blacks, for she is the direct descendant of slaves of unadulterated African blood. Next year we may go again to France, but we will leave the maid at home."
"What for? Well, that colored girl created a sensation that we never dreamed of. It seems that in many parts of France no colored person had ever before been seen and this one was a novelty that whenever she appeared crowds gathered to look at the unaccustomed sight. This was carried to such an extent as to prove very embarrassing to us and it also worried the maid greatly, for she was not used to being stared at by great throngs of people. One day she went to church, but her presence came very near breaking up divine services and the good father, seeing what was the matter, dismissed the congregation in short order. In London, where black folks are not unfamiliar sights, her appearance created no such stir and, while the girl would willingly go back there, no money could induce her to revisit France."
Well-Meaning But— "So you don't like Mr. Bilgins?" "No," answered Miss Cheyenne. "He is very clumsy."
"But he means well."
"Yes. He is one of those people who think it doesn't matter how much damage they do if they say 'Excuse me.'"
—Washington Star.
Explained. "Miss Waspie says she wonders why she has to meet so many disagreeable people."
"That's easily explained," answered Miss Cheyenne. "It's hard for anybody not to be disagreeable in Miss Waspie's company."—Washington Star.
Not Quite. "Have you any difficulty in getting the proper diet for the invalid?" "No, indeed; the doctor has ordered us to give some of that prepared desecrated food."—Baltimore American.
Even the man who paid for the parlor furniture isn't to be trusted along with it and a jack-knife, and nothing to do.
You are more apt to hear any woman rave over a doctor than the woman who has to earn the money to pay her bills.
If a woman has her children with her, she never hears half what you

WHAT IS A "LADY."

Funny Definitions by English School Children.
Some elementary school children were asked to write down what they understood by a lady. Some of the answers deserve a wider publicity than that of the magazine of the Graystone (L. C. C.) Training College, England, in which they were recently published. The following is a selection:
Ada (aged 7). A lady marries a man and she goes in a car or she goes in a motor. Sometimes she is a rich lady, sometimes she goes to a ball, and she has glasses when she can't see, and when her father dies she is a widow.
John (aged 8). A lady is a pres (person) and a Cookmaid and a lady does the work (work) and a lady does the doorstep and Cens the handle of the door and the noker and the stevos (stoves) and the taloos and bred.
Bertie (aged 7). A lady has got a love haves (house) and have got some serves and lovely frames and a ring and a lovely long hair and a pony trap.
Eddie (aged 8). A lady has a very nice house and she has nice things in it and when she is married she has very nice wrings and then she nite have a nice husband and sometimes he treats her to nice things and then they be kind to each other.
Lizzie (aged 7). A lady is something like a man. But she's got long hair and she's got a different face and different clothes and she's got a lot of work to do.
Ernest (aged 7). A lady is a mother oo as a lot of children and she thiest (tries to get rid of her children).
Harry (aged 7). A lady is a maid and sometimes a cook that cooks the dinner, and a lady as a skirt, and when a lady isn't married she is called a widow a lady has long hair.
Dolly (aged 7). A lady is a kind Wooman. A lady is a Guvnals, a lady is a Ruler. A lady is a kind and gentle wooman to us and gives us clothes.
Jack (aged 7). A lady is a nice woman because she don't have torn clothes, and she has a woch with her and she has a chane on the woch.
Ned (aged 7). A lady is like a Mistress and like a sister and she prehers (preaches) to people and tells (teaches) about God.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

Whenever a sore refuses to heal it is because the blood is not pure and healthy, as it should be, but is infected with poisonous germs or some old blood taint which has corrupted and polluted the circulation. Those most usually afflicted with old sores are persons who have reached or passed middle life. The vitality of the blood and strength of the system have naturally begun to decline, and the poisonous germs which have accumulated because of a sluggish and inactive condition of the system, or some hereditary taint which has hitherto been held in check, now force an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body. The place grows red and angry, festers and eats into the surrounding tissue until it becomes a chronic and stubborn ulcer, fed and kept open by the impurities with which the blood is saturated. Nothing is more trying and disagreeable than a stubborn, non-healing sore. The very fact that it resists ordinary remedies and treatments is good reason for suspicion; the same germ-producing cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore, and especially is this true if the trouble is an inherited one. Washes, salves, nor indeed anything else, applied directly to the sore, can do any permanent good; neither will removing the sore with caustic plasters or the surgeon's knife make a lasting cure. If every particle of the diseased flesh were taken away another sore would come, because the trouble is in the blood, and the BLOOD CANNOT BE CUT AWAY. The cure must come by a thorough cleansing of the blood. In S. S. S. will be found a remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It is an unequalled blood purifier—one that goes directly into the circulation and promptly cleanses it of all poisons and taints. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and forces out every trace of impurity and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the blood so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes the irritated, inflamed flesh with healthy blood. Then the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, all pain and inflammation leaves, the place scabs over, and when S. S. S. has purified the blood the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Write for our special book on sores and ulcers and any other medical advice you desire. We make no charge for the book or advice.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE
This is the West Indian way of preparing oranges for the table: Peel the oranges, taking off as much white skin as possible; then slice them off all round as you would an apple, regardless of the sections. This leaves the seed, tough, stringy central part and most of the inner skin together and is a much less tedious process than removing the skin by sections. Use a very sharp knife, so as to make clean cuts and not crush the fruit.
