HOW TO STUDY PROPERLY.

Books Should Be Well Chosen and Read Carefully, Not Devoured.

Study is like a dinner. The viands must be well chosen and eaten slowly, not devoured, then well turned over in the mental stomach for awhile untill with ease and comfort they are perfectly digested and furnish nutriment to the brain. Most students study without thought, which is like eating without digesting. Others read merely as a fad and soon forget all they may have learned.

The most satisfactory method of study is the digestive. It is the thorough one—the one that gives strength to the brain. Take the subject you are studying. Read a few lines or a few pages, as the case may be, then put the book down and think on what you have read. Turn it about in your mind from every standpoint. Do not accept it immediately. Argue for and against it in your mind. In other words, masticate it. You need not be at your leisure to do this. Do it in your walks, in your idle moments, at any time. When you have satisfied yourself on the subject go on with a little more in the same way. In a short time you will find yourself more a thorough student than if you had read all at a sitting. The best educated man in the end is the man who learns slowly, but surely.

A Thackeray Letter.

A letter from Thackeray found among the papers of the late George M. Crawford, Paris correspondent of the London Daily News, establishes the fact that Mr. Crawford was the original of Warrington. "You will find much to remind you in 'Pendennis' of old talks and faces—of William John O'Connell, Jack Sheehan and Andrew Archdeene.
There is something of you in Warrington, but he is not fit to hold a candle to you, for, taking you all around, you are the most genuine fellow that ever strayed from a better world into this.
Warrington is always guzzling beer, but he has your honesty and, like you, could not posture if he tried."

Pullman Car Profits.

Most people who patronize the Pullman cars have no conception of the enormous profits accruing to the company, says a New York letter. The net earnings of a sleeper on an ordinary run are from $10,000 to $12,000 a year, or about two-thirds of the cost of the car. On limited trains between New York and Chicago the net earnings are as high as $18,000 a year. The mileage paid by the railroads is practically sufficient to cover all the expenses of operation, including the investment and depreciation, so that all receipts from passengers are in effect net profits to the Pullman company.

Paradoxical.

Smith—You remember Muggins, who used to bore us with his long winded stories? Jones—Yes. What of him?
Smith—He was arrested yesterday for being short in his accounts.—Chicago News.

Work.

"Anyhow you can't deny that Hewlgus is a self made man. He worked his way through college."
"He certainly did. He worked nearly every student in the institution."— Chicago Tribune.

His Flowerings.

"Isn't Mr. Teejus a deep thinker?"
"He must be," answered Miss Cayenne. "I never heard him try to say anything without getting beyond his depth."—Washington Star.

Since knowledge is but sorrow's spy it is not safe to know.—Davenant.

COMPLETED PROVERBS.

"Whatever man has done man can do" better.
"There's many a slip 'twixt' the cradle and the grave."
"Look before you leap" out of the frying pan into the fire.
"Until a man finds a wife he is only half;" thereafter he is less.
"Honesty is exact to a penny," but not always to larger amounts.
"A fool and his money are soon parted" when the fool has friends.
"The best things are not bought and sold;" they are stolen and kept.
"The second blow makes the fray," but not if the first is well placed.
"Pity is akin to love," but kinship does not always signify friendship.
"Everything comes to the man who waits" except that for which he waits.
"Opportunity knocks once at every man's door," but often makes sure the man is out before knocking.—Literary Digest.

The Slow Story Teller.

Friar Lawrence checks the impetu-ous Romeo with, "He stumbles who runs fast," a sentiment true enough, perhaps, but one which ought never to be repeated to the constitutionally slow story teller. I like a good story and am ever ready to applaud a good story teller, but heaven save me from the deliberate, detailing, circumlocuting, exasperating efforts of the slow story teller. In the first place, they seldom tell a tale that needs a rapid recital—and when they do they murder it—and in the next place the long stories, the impressively sentimental and the lugubriously funny stories they deal in chiefly are seldom worth listening to.—London Globe.

SHORT STORIES.

Eighty per cent of the cadets at West Point are in Y. M. C. A. Bible classes.
It is stated by experts in life insurance that less than 10 per cent of the policies issued are after the age of forty.

A project is under consideration to build a twenty mile automobile speedway from 50 to 100 feet wide in Mercer county, N. J. It is reported that options on the necessary property have been obtained.

It is stated that by 1907 a channel 30 feet deep and 450 feet wide between Quebec and Montreal will be completed and that Montreal will then be in a position to compete on equal terms with the other great ports.

According to the figures compiled by the Publishers' Weekly, the number of new novels and volumes of stories published in the United States in 1904 was 1,007, nearly 200 more than were recorded in 1903. The number of new editions of fiction published in the same period was 814.

Canadian emigration agents in the United States expect a great increase in the number of American farmers who will migrate to the Canadian northwest this year. Fully 60,000 persons from the United States are expected to settle in the Dominion. Last year the number was 45,000.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Fanny Rice will play in Europe this summer.

Clara Morris is playing an engagement in vaudeville.

George Ade has written a comedy,
"A Second Time on Earth."

Arabella Bingham has been doing well with her new play on the road.

Kate Denin Wilson has joined the cast of "A School For Husbands."

The stock companies are growing in popularity, judging by their increase.

Giles Shine is playing Mr. Knox in a revival of Robertson's comedy, "School," in New York.

Colonel Savage will produce an operetta next season by John Kendrick Bangs and Manuel Klein.

Reginald De Koven and Frederic Ranken have entered a contract by which Mr. Ranken agrees to write only in collaboration with Mr. De Koven for the next five years.

The beloved old veteran of the stage, J. H. Stoddart, whose illness at Galt, Ont., compelled him to give up the remainder of his tour in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," continues to improve in health.

GERMAN GLEANINGS.

The Berlin police authorities intend to take severe measures to suppress the practice of playing poker in public places.

Plans have been accepted by the Berlin municipality for the building of two immense popular swimming baths for both sexes.

White women are scarce in the German colonies. There are only 524 in east Africa and 229 in the German islands in the Pacific ocean.

In Germany the number of servant girls who have savings bank accounts is nearly three times as large as that of shopgirls who have them.

Professor Haeckel of Jena, the great German Darwinian, declares that the best Germans have been driven to the United States and that they have left behind a race of weaker men and women.
