No more phonograph music at the Palm on Sunday.

Go to H. Howard for your carpet and rug weaving. Prompt attention to orders and satisfaction guaranteed.

Voters are a little slow to register. The registration books only show about 45 names for the first week.

Practically all the school lands of the state remaining unsold are located in Harney, Lake, and Malheur counties, there being 152,000 acres in Harney, 112,000 acres in Lake, and 182,800 acres in Malheur. There are 34,000 acres in Crook county and 19,000 in Baker, the balance being scattered in small amounts in nineteen other counties, nine counties having no school lands unsold within their borders.

On next Sunday, morning and evening, there will be union services of the different churches of this city at the Christian church. The services are not intended as union meetings of the churches alone, but as general mass meetings of the law abiding and peace loving citizens of our town. Secretary Henry Hudson, of the National Reform League, will be present to address the meetings. There will be good music by a choir selected from the various churches in the city. Everybody come and help the good work along. All those who can sing are especially invited to be present tomorrow (Friday) evening at the Christian church to practice some songs. The appointed hour is 7:30 sharp, so don't wait until eight or half past.

J. L. Howard left Monday for Anatone, Wash., where he goes to look after real estate interests.

Mayor and Mrs. O. E. Farnsworth and daughter, Miss Mary, are sojourning in Portland this week.

R. W. Hickok, the lone grain buyer, will be at Heppner Thursday of each week. Get offers on your grain.

Mr. H. Cullen, special representative of Sunset Magazine, spent Monday in this city in the interest of this popular magazine.

Phill Cohn, at the Heppner warehouse, will pay the highest price for hides, pelts, and furs. Seed wheat, oats, rye, and barley on hand.

Robt. Gaynor, who has been quite sick the past week, is improving, and unless further complications set in, he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

A couple of I. O. O. F. brothers from the local lodge went to visit a neighboring lodge recently. Before leaving they got up a crowd to accompany them, but quit the brothers at the last minute and went in a private rig; at supper they made a mistake and sat at the commercial table, which so crippled their finances that after the festivities at the lodge hall they had to return home in the dark while the crowd stayed and had a pleasant journey home. Moral: Stay with the crowd. By One Who Was There.

The second session of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress is to be held in Salt Lake City, Utah, January 22nd to 26th. The proceedings of this congress are of especial importance to a vast area of Oregon and Washington, and every commercial body in the two states is asked to appoint at least one delegate. Their whole territory east of the Cascades should be represented, and both Governor Chamberlain and Governor Mead are anxious that large delegations should be present at the convention. The executive committee from the Pacific Northwest are Hon. W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural College, and Hon. R. G. McCroskey of Washington. President Fisher Harris of the organization requests that delegates be appointed and names sent to him at once at Salt Lake City.

MINOR'S

Annual Pre-Inventory Sale.

In two weeks we will take our Annual Invoice. In going thru' our stock after the unprecedented Holiday rush, we find many broken lines of seasonable goods. Also a few lines of strictly cold weather merchandise, that owing to the continued mildweather, we find ourselves too heavily stocked.

Years ago we discovered the fact that it was not only easier but better business to invoice cash than merchandise. Consequently, for the next two weeks we are going to give our customers some long-to-be-remembered values in these lines.

Ladies, Misses, and Children's Coats. Children's Wool Underwear. Silks and Dress Goods, Furs. Remnants of everything.
