AUGUSTUS MALLORY DEAD

Former Prominent Citizen of Heppner Passes Away at Jefferson.

Augustus Mallory died at Jefferson, Or., January 29. He was a brother of Rufus Mallory, of Portland. Mr. Mallory was born in Chenango County, New York, January 12, 1819, and was 89 years old at the time of his death. He came to Oregon in 1869, and after spending two years in the Willamette Valley, moved, in 1870, to what was then Umatilla County, at a place near what afterward became the town of Heppner. He afterward became a resident of Heppner and successively filled the offices of Justice of the Peace, Judge of Morrow County, Postmaster of Heppner, and Commissioner of the United States Circuit Court.

About 15 years ago Mr. Mallory lost the use of his legs through some affection of the hip joints and could move about only in a wheelchair. His wife died at Heppner about five years ago. About three years ago he left Heppner and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Looney, at Jefferson, where he died. Four children, two daughters and two sons, survive him. Mrs. Looney, of Jefferson; Mrs. W. T. Wright, of Union; W. L. Mallory, of Ione, and Charles Mallory, of Cascade Locks.

The body was brought to Heppner and funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church last Saturday afternoon. The remains were buried by the side of his wife.
