Heppner—May 29; June 11-30.

J. C. Owen, the Hardman sheepman, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Kelly, from Iowa, is here at the bedside of his brother, Norman Kelly.

Norman Kelly, who is sick at the Heppner Sanitarium, is showing a little improvement.

Miss Sadie Garrigues came up from Portland last week to assist Mrs. Luper in her millinery store.

Lewis Kinney came up from Ione Tuesday evening.

Glen Burroughs, a popular student of Whitman college, was a visitor in Heppner Saturday and Sunday.

Otis D. Bullis and Miss Nora E. Stephens, both of Hardman, were married at the Star hotel in this city, yesterday evening, Judge J. P. Williams officiating.

The Heppner Commercial Club has secured from the State Library Commission fifty volumes of books which are free to all. They will be kept at the Club and any responsible person may take a book for a period of two weeks. The people of Heppner are cordially invited to take advantage of this free offer and secure the best books of all nature on the market. Library days will be Tuesdays and Fridays, from 4 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Clothes cleaned and pressed, called for and delivered. Gey McKnight

Phil Cohn, at the Heppner warehouse, will pay the highest price for hides, pelts, and furs. Seed wheat, oats, rye, and barley on hand.

Rev. Charles H. Porter has some of the finest White Wyanotte chickens in the Northwest. They are beauties and the greatest of all egg layers. Three pens, each headed by prize winning males. Pen No. 1 by cockerel winning in six shows. No. 2 by cockerel winning in three shows this year. No. 3 by 3 d prize cockerel at Salem three years ago. Mrs. Estelle Natter is up from Portland visiting relatives and friends.

I. C. Bennett, of Lone Rock, is in the city attending to some business matters.

Mrs. Ed Reed, of Pullman, Wash., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rasmus.

Rev. Orr, of the M. E. church, South, left for Weston Wednesday morning to remain over Sunday.

Sheep shearers are arriving daily and if the good weather continues shearing will begin earlier this season than common.

Jeff Neel is an entirely different man from what he was prior to March 21st, 1908. The cause of this great change in Jeff's career is the arrival at the Star hotel of a bouncing baby boy. He is a dandy, according to his pa's way of thinking.

Dr. W. V. Glaisyer and Dr. Pinkerton, of Pendleton, just came in from a tour of the northern part of the county. They failed to find any scab in that section of the county. Dr. Pinkerton returned to Pendleton this morning, but Dr. Glaisyer will remain until after the season and will inspect the herds of Morrow, Gilliam, and Sherman counties.

Mrs. Chas. A. Reed, of Hardman, died Monday and was buried Wednesday in the I. O. O. F. cemetery of that place. Mrs. Reed leaves a husband and a family to mourn her loss. The Reeds are old time residents of Morrow county, having lived at Hardman for several years. Rev. Porter of this city officiated at the services.

E. M. Shurt's too many fine thoroughbred Leghorn hens, one year old, and will sell a couple of dozen of them cheap. Leghorn eggs $1.50 per setting. Black Langshan eggs $2.00 per setting.

SOCIETY.

The basket social given at the Commercial Club last Saturday evening was quite a success. Music was furnished by the Crawford orchestra and the sale of baskets netted $41.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Lufe Penland gave a party to a large number of young people at their home Tuesday, March 25, in honor of their daughter Pearl's 17th birthday. Various games were played and piano selections rendered during the evening. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Penland was assisted by Mistresses W. A. Richardson, Frank Hale, and J. McFerrin. Miss Pearl received many beautiful presents. There were forty guests present.

Mrs. Celsus Keithley was tendered a very complete surprise Tuesday evening March 24, the occasion being her 29th birthday.

The surprise was arranged by Mrs. Clyde Wells and Mrs. Jeff Jones. They were assisted by Miss Leah Minor.

When the guests arrived at the Keithley home about eight o'clock they found Mrs. Keithley in a comfortable house dress calmly mending stockings.

Piffo was played. Mrs. L. E. Cohn secured the fowest lobsters and won the prize, a beautiful China cup and saucer. The consolation, a small picture went to Mrs. Jeff Jones. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Keithley was presented with a beautiful cut glass water bottle.

Following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Keithley; Mistresses Wells, Jones, O. Minor, A. Minor, F. Gilham, F. Neel, L. E. Cohn, Mills, Warnock, and Chas. Thomson; Misses Minor, Gilham, and Jones.

Mrs. Sybil McSwords, of Boston, entertained the Five-Hundred Club at the home of Mrs. W. R. Irwin, Thursday afternoon, in one of the prettiest parties of the season.

The large reception hall and front rooms of the house, where the card tables were placed, were artistically decorated in pink and white. Streamers of pink crepe paper extended from the chandeliers to various parts of the rooms. Large vases of pink carnations adorned each table, and the whole house was brilliantly lighted both with electricity and numerous pink candles. The door was opened by Master Ellis Irwin, clad in white, and the guests were received by Mrs. McSwords and Mrs. Irwin. The dressing-room was presided over by little Anne Roberts, daintily gowned in pink silk.

In addition to the regular members of the club, Mrs. McSwords entertained an extra table for Mistresses Eleanor Cameron, Gilman, Spencer, and Miss Josephine Cameron.

The first prize, a large braes tray, was captured by Miss Mary Farnsworth, while Mrs. Young was the lucky winner of the booby prize, a pot of genuine "Boston Baked Beans." The prize for the extra table, a pitcher in the Dutch ware, was won by Miss Josephine Cameron.

Refreshments, consisting of Boston baked beans, brown bread and coffee, ice cream and cake, were served by Misses Leah Minor Lena Gilman, and Josephine Cameron.

Those present were: Mistresses L. Bisbee, Pruyn, H. J. Matlock, Lucas, Hynd, Young, Conser, Cohn, Irwin, Redfield, Patterson, Halleck, Roberts, Jones, Cameron, Gilman, and Spencer; Misses Farnsworth, Minor, Lena Gilman, and Josephine Cameron. Among those who were invited in after the cards were Mistresses Dutton, Blackburn, Metzler, and Miss Mabelle Cameron.
