

Big Land and Sheep Deal.

Fred Falconer completed a big land and sheep deal Thursday, selling to John Johnson of Innaha his 900 acre Pine Creek ranch for $9600 and two of 400 breeding ewes, says the Enterprise News. They are to be paid for with lambs. Mr. Falconer is not going out of the sheep business for on the same day he bought 7700 head, 3000 ewes from E. O. Maken and 2300 yearling wethers and 2400 lambs from John and Leonard Johnson.

The Pine Creek ranch that figured in the foregoing deal is one of the best stock ranches in the country and the new owners will make a handsome profit on it.

Mr. Falconer is optimistic over the outlook for the sheep business not withstanding the low price for mutton in the eastern markets. It is just the time to go into the business. Following the Heppner sale with a highmark of 15 3/4, came the Shaniko sale with wool selling as high as 16 3/8 cents.

All Wallowa county wool is being held for the sales day at Elgin on July 9, and as Wallowa county wool is the best in Oregon the major part of the clip ought to bring above 15 cents. Mr. Falconer predicts the price range will be from 14 to 17 cents.

J.C. Hayter has sold The Dalles Observer to two men named Allgood and Collins. Allgood at least ought to be all right, if his name signifies anything.

Can't you hear the toot? says the Prineville Review. The Central Oregon Railroad company has been capitalized at $50,000, and the stock is all subscribed for.

A Western boy 7 years old fell while out playing and broke his arm, but did not whimper. He trotted home, but some time elapsed before he felt called upon to tell his parents that his arm hurt.

R. Mahoney went to Tillamook some 15 years ago with about $15 in his pockets. He recently sold a dairy ranch there of 38 acres for $8,000, and has bought a 600 acre ranch in Lane county for $7,500.

Madras Pioneer: The plans for the construction of railroad from Shaniko to Madras, and on to Bend and Prineville, are rapidly assuming form and as the work of evolving a definite working plan out of the transportation situation in Crook county progresses the hope grows that central Oregon's dream of a railroad will be realized in the very near future.
