Government Retakes Gracias, Rebels Threaten Puerto Cortez.

Washington, July 15.—Official advices which reached the state department yesterday confirm the press reports that the Honduran government forces have retaken the small town of Gracias, and add that they are about to move to the more important city of Choluteca. To this extent the government appears to have the advan-

The state department is being fully advised of the situation in the whole Central American district, but Mr. Dodge, the minister to Honduras and Salvador, explains that reliable information is difficult to obtain. The United States and Mexican governments still continue to use their best efforts to keep peace in that part of the world, but have gone to the extent thus far only of offering their friendly mediation. The American cruiser Albany is now on its way from Panama to Amapala, the Pacific coast port of Honduras, Gunboats to go East.

Washington, July 18. Acting Secretary of the Navy Newberry has announced that the gunboats Princeton and Vicksburg, now at Bremerton and Mare Island respectively, on the Pacific coast, will be brought to the Atlantic in a short time. Both vessels are now out of commission. They will be fitted for the voyage and advantage will be taken of suitable weather conditions to make the trip. They will be used for coast defense on the Atlantic.

Increase Border Posts.

Washington, July 16 .- Ambassador Creel, of Mexico, who has been in conference with Acting Secretary of State Bacon regarding the alleged violation of the neutrality laws along the Mexican border, was given again the most positive assurance of the intentions of this government to prosecute all neutrality offenders. An increase of the army posts on the border is possible, as Mexico already has indicated her intention of adding to the number.

Knocker on Navy Visits President.

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 18.—Henry Reuterdahl was the guest of President Roosevelt yesterday. This is the first time the writer has seen the president since his criticism of the navy. It is understood that Reuterdahl went over the whole article with the president and pointed out to him the basis of the criticism.

The Drummer Boy of Shiloh. On Shiloh's dark and bloody ground, the dead and wounded lay ;

Among them was a drummer boy, who beat the drum that day. A wounded soldier held him up, his drum was by his side;

He clasped his hands and raised his eyes and prayed before he died.

"Look down upon the battlefield, Oh, Thou, our Heavenly friend! Have mercy on our sinful souls!" the soldiers cried, "Amen !" For, gathered round, a little group, each brave man knelt and cried;

prayed before he died. 'Oh, mother!" said the dying boy, "look down from Heaven on me; Receive me to thy fond embrace; Oh, take me home to thee!

They listened to the drummer boy, who

A Case of Courtesy. "There is always time enough for courtesy," says Emerson, giving voice sue of Scribner's Magazine, gives an instance of politeness and deference which took on a national character.

The most interesting performance 1 saw was in a schoolhouse. It was a normal school, where a number of very earnest young Chileans were learning how to teach. The principal, a girl of twenty-five, was hearing a class read the English fable about the hare and the wicked condor.

"Pooair-r aleetle hare-r-re," the, read, in extreme embarrassment, for some were quite grown up. Then the pupils lined up and sang a national song, then in English "America." It was a polite attention to the guests which no Chilean would have received in the United States,

After that the pupils drew a long breath, smiled up to the gallery where we stood, and sang, quite correctly and with tremendous feeling, "My Old Kentucky Home." All I could do was to put myself in the place of a Chilean who would drop by chance into a New York school and have the pupils stand up and sing his national anthem, followed by an ancient popular song of
