The August number of the Ladies World is given up chiefly to fiction—and excellent fiction it is, so good, in fact, as to restore our belief in the short story. There is variety enough to suit every taste, but all have that touch of human nature that makes them attractive to everyone who reads. As a collection the illustrations are remarkable, and typographically the magazine is, as always, a delight to the eye. Besides the stories—eight in all—there are the usual departments, which take up timely matters of household interest, of health, the Care of Children, Summer and the Complexion, and the Midsummer fashions, all treated in a sane, practical way, which gives the impression that the writers know what they are talking about. To sum up, this number is up to the usual high standard of the publication.—New York: 50 cents a year.
