Set Fire to Timber.

Tolle Spray is the man who set fire to the Umatilla forest reserve near the line between Grant and Wheeler counties on August 29 and September 2, and destroyed six sections of standing timber. This statement was made by United States District Attorney John McCourt says the Portland Journal.

Mr. McCourt says the man was seen and chased by Forest Supervisor Chidsey but escaped and has so far eluded capture, though it is expected that he will be caught before long. Revenge on settlers living in the timber, for injuries either real or fancied, is supposed to be the cause of the incendiary acts.

Spray set fire to the forest twice. The first time was on August 29, He was caught in the act and chased by Chidsey, but managed to get away. The fire was extinguished.

A few days later, on September 2, the incendiary returned to make another attempt to finish his work. He again set fire to the timber and as a result a large area was burned over. Spray was again chased by Supervisor Chidsey, but once more succeeded in making his escape. He has told some one living in the district that he is going to Canada, and the United States authorities hope to capture him before he gets out of ther jurisdiction.

Mrs. Matt Hughes Dead.

Mrs. Sarah A. Hughes, wife of Matt Hughes, died in this city, Tuesday forenoon.

The death of Mrs. Hughes was sudden and came as a great surprise.

Deceased was born near Cambride, Story county, Iowa, 34 years ago. Her maiden name was Hiatt, and with her parents came to Morrow county in 1882, and settled on Butter creek.

On the 11th of December, 1894, Sarah A. Hiatt and Matt Hughes were united in marriage. From this happy union there are five children together with a sorrowing husband left to mourn the untimely death of a devoted wife and mother.

The funeral was conducted today from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith.

Among beautiful flowers and heavy hearts she was placed in her last resting place yesterday at the Heppner cemetery.

Big Purchase of Bucks.

W. W. Stabler and wife of Buffalo, Wyoming, were in the city this week.

While on his way here Mr. Stabler met Frank Roberts at Heppner Junction who was on his way to Wyoming with 189 head of the Nunemaker & Wilcox bucks. These bucks were purchased by Mr. Stabler and Mr. Roberts took them on for delivery.

While here Mr. Stabler bought 150 head of Lincoln bucks from the Penland Land & Livestock Co., and 50 head of Rambouillet bucks from Archie Cox.

One of a party of Eugene men, who have been up on Quartz creek tells the Register that they wern't much on deer, but they found fishing the best ever. He says the trout were so eager to bite they would jump out of the creek two or three feet after some white millers that were flying around thick and though they had tried their own flies they couldn't get them to take them at all. "Khaki" Moullen wasn't going to be hoo-dooed that way, and suggested shooing, so they got their shotguns and whenever a trout jumped out of the water they would get him on the "fly." In this way they secured about 125 pounds and shot away all their ammunition. There were quite a few dogfish in the stream and they were trained to retrieve the trout.

Some corn stalks raised near Milton are 15 feet from tassels to roots and heavily loaded with plump roasting ears.

A settlement in Yamhill county is named Skunkville.

OREGON'S SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

On the 14th of next February, Oregon will have been a state a a full half century, having been a territory since the 31 of March, 1849, when Joseph Lane of Indiana arrived at Oregon City, an appointee as territorial governor, with a commission in his pocket bearing the signature of James K. Polk, president of the United States, whose term expired the next day.

On the following June Lane resigned his position as governor and ran for congress, being elected. In 1853 he was again appointed governor, but served only three days, resigning to run for congress again, and again being successful. He continued in congress until the admission of the state in 1859, when he was elected one of its first united States senators, serving two years. Lane was born in Kentucky on December 14, 1801, and died in April, 1881. He was the grandfather of Mayor Harry Lane, of Portland.

Under the provisions of a resolution of the Oregon lagislature adopted during its extra session in October, 1898, the 40th anniversary of the state's admission into the Union was celebrated in Salem on the 14th day of February, 1899, in the state capitol building. The two houses of the legislature met in the representative hall and very interesting addresses were delivered by ex-Governor William P. Lord, Hon. Geo. H. Williams, Hon. L. B. Cox, and Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway. Governor Geer presided and made the opening address. T. C. Taylor was president of the senate and E. V. Carter speaker of the house.

The addresses of ex-Governor Lord and Judge Williams are of great historical value and are preserved in the archives of the state.

The semi-centennial anniversary of Oregon's assumption of statehood should be celebrated in a manner commensurate with its historic significance. — Pendleton Tribune.

Fourteen trees on a Milton man's place produced 2,510 pounds of first class prunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Farnsworth, of Cecil, are visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Wade and Miss Grills, sisters, of Marshfield, were riding in an automobile and as they rounded a street corner two little children darted in front of the automobile, and to save them from the consequences Mrs. Wade deliberately turned and plunged over an eight foot embankment. Neither was seriously hurt but the auto was.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Oregon, prohibiting the running at large of animals within Morrow county, have taken up and have in my possession at my place 1¼ miles west of Hardman, Morrow County, Oregon, the following described animal:

Iron gray horse, weighing about 900 pounds; right hind leg white almost to hock; left hind leg white to fetlock; left front foot partly white; branded J H, connected, on right shoulder, age about 6 years.

The owner or owners of said animals are hereby notified that unless the same is claimed within the proper time or manner, that I will on the 2nd day of October, 1908, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day at my said farm sell the said described animal in the manner and for the purposes provided by lay.

Dated this 17th day of September, 1908.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Foley's Orino Laxative does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes.

A man in the eastern part of Umatilla county is raising garden huckleberries. He has about 200 bushes of this fruit which tastes exactly like the wild huchleberry and is very much larger, being about the size of a small cherry. The bushes are prolific bearers, each averaging about a gallon.

A Boon to Elderly People.

Most elderly people have some kidney or bladder disorder that is both painful and dangerous. Foley's Kidney Remedy has proven a boon to many elderly people as it stimulates the urinary organs, corrects irregularities and tones up the whole ystem. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy at once and be vigorous. Slocum Drug Co.

Disagreeable at Home

Lots of men and women who are agreeable with others, get "cranky" at home. Its not disposition, its the liver. If you find in yourself that you feel cross around the house, little things worry you, just buy a bottle of Ballard's Herbine and put your liver in shape. You and everybody around you will feel better for it. Price 50 cents per bottle. Patterson & Son.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Slocum Drug Co.
