A north Inlet, Coos county, man says that his cranberry ranch will yield about 300 bushels per acre, and as the prevailing price is about $2.75 per bushel, he will derive about $825 per acre. He expects to raise 400 bushels an acre after the land has been cultivated more, and some times cranberries are worth $4 a bushel there.

From one Gravenstein tree, a Moro man picked eight boxes of $3 apples, and his pears did even better than that. The Sherman county climate is alright and so is the soil, for almost anything that will grow anywhere in Oregon, by the application of sound reasoning and a little elbow grease, says the Observer. These trees never have had the least bit of irrigation.

Alfalfa Meal for Stock.

Alfalfa meal is looked upon as the coming food for stock in the Northwest, where fattening is necessary. This fodder is now manufactured in large quantities in the state of Colorado and shipped to the fattening grounds of Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri where corn is raised on a large scale. Alfalfa can be produced in Oregon and Washington on a much larger scale is the opinion of stockmen here who have investigated its advantages. Heretofore Oregon and Washington, as well as Idaho and Montana have been sending thousands of head of cattle and sheep to the feeding grounds of the east. This stock, bought here in good condition, but not fat enough for the butchers, is shipped into corn-growing states, where it is kept for a year or so before being considered fit for the markets at Chicago, Kansas City, or Omaha. The idea has consequently prevailed among stockmen that Oregon will do very well to raise stock, but not to fatten it. With the production of "alfalfa meal" this notion will vanish, as it can be produced cheaper here than corn can in the states of the Mississippi Valley. The Portland Commercial Club is having the advantages of "alfalfa meal" investigated with the idea of having the mills for grinding it started in different parts of the state.

FOR BETTER ROADS

JUDGE SCOTT STARTS THE BALL.

Good Roads Convention to be Held in Heppner Soon.

Judge John H. Scott, of Salem, ex-county judge of Marion county, president of the Good Roads Association of Oregon, good roads enthusiast and expert on road building was in Heppner yesterday evening and held a meeting at the Commercial Club, where a good sized audience of Heppner's business men were greatly interested in listening to plans for the betterment of roads in Oregon. The meeting was called to order by C. E. Woodson, who introduced the speaker.

Judge Scott said that it was not his purpose to go into detail in the short time allotted on road building, but at the recent good roads conference in Portland, he was employed to go over the state for the purpose of arousing interest. To get the people to think about needed legislation and state aid.

The first work necessary to get properly started would be to hold a good roads convention and form a good roads league, when detail work and methods could be properly handled.

Judge Scott asked the people here to get together and get acquainted with our needs in order to be able to properly advise a legislative committee at the proper time.

Also to stimulate the proper sentiment and enthusiasm to back up the county court in work that is impossible under present conditions.

Judge Scott favored a state commission to outline a state road policy.

The speaker called attention to the progress of other states in good road building, and impressed the necessity of working Oregon up on this important question.

The speaker said that it would only cost about $100 to hold a convention and get started right.

By motion of T. J. Mahoney it was unanimously decided to hold a convention in the near future, the time to be set by Judge Scott to suit the convenience of his itinerary in this district.

Judge Scott was followed by short addresses by Prof. Reid, Judge Patterson, R. F. Hynd, Dr. Kistner, and Sheriff Shutt, who all favored the movement.

By motion the chair will appoint a committee to solicit funds and arrange for a big convention to be held here soon.

Ample time will be given to thoroughly advertise the date.

State Senator R. A. Booth has given $10,000 more to the endowment fund of Willamette university.

HEAVY STOCK SHIPMENTS

Sheep and Cattle are Being Moved.

Movements in both sheep and cattle have been heavy of late.

Good demand and short grass are the reasons for the active business in the stock industry.

Joe Coombs, the Grant county stockman, is in the city today looking after the shipment of 300 head of 3-year-old beef cattle. The sale was made to the Union Meat Company. J. H. Phirman, representing the company is here to receive the stock.

Other cattle shipments will soon follow.

During the past week, T. H. Murray, representing J. B. Long & Co., of Montana, shipped from Heppner 4000 head of sheep. Mr. Murray went from here to Baker City where he shipped 3000 head to his company. The sheep shipped were lamb and the price was $2.00 per head.

In speaking of the situation the East Oregonian says:

Saturday Danzie & Son shipped 3000 head from Wallawa city to Soda Springs, Idaho, the price paid being $2.12 per head.

C. E. Lukens shipped 2800 head of yearlings from Baker City to Cutbank, Mont.

Several buyers are now in or near Pendleton and others are coming. All are in search of lambs as the local ranges have been cleared of everything else that is for sale at the present time. Ordinarily there would be no lambs for sale as they would be held until they were a year old, but owing to the past dry season, the range is so short that local growers will have approximately 20,000 lambs to offer.

The demand for lambs is exceptionally good.

From present indications the price of winter mutton sheep will be high. Very few Oregon men are feeding or planning to feed owing to the scarcity of both hay and grain feed and from the middle west comes the news that owing to the high price of corn, little of that cereal will be fed to sheep this winter.

It therefore looks like the sheepman who will have mutton to turn off before the grass fed article is ready for the market will be able to command a high price for his animals.

Hood River has put itself on record as in favor of good roads and will soon have an association to help get them, says the Glacier.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Slocum Drug Co.
